"News Collegian Couldn't Print," Rec Hall, during 10:30 intermission.

1st Day V-Weekend Profit Passes $5,000

Unexpected Support Comes To Weekend; It's Unanimous Now

V-Weekend support, it seems, can now be officially considered unanimous.

Leon V. Rabinowitz '43, general chairman of the Army Relief festival, was reporting the names yesterday of additional groups and individuals who had contributed to the holiday's success.

The Penn State Electrical Association, he said, was handling the lighting for all V-Weekend events; George Donovan had volunteered to sell tickets for the four-way celebration. Penn State Forestry Society deserves a pat on the back, Rabinowitz added, for relinquishing the date of their annual dance.

The general chairman paused then, and looked up at the cloudless evening sky.

"Oh yes," he said, "also thank the Lord for this beautiful weather."

Original One-Act Play To Have 3-Night Run; Opens Tomorrow, 9 P. M.

When the curtain goes up in the Little Theatre at 9 o'clock tomorrow night for the first of three performances of the original one-act play, "Ephrata," the audience may be privileged in seeing what may prove to be the first of a series of historical plays on Pennsylvania folklore.

Written by Kathryn M. Popp '43 and Frank S. Neusbaum, associate professor of dramatics, the play of the Ephrata cloisters was approved by the head of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, S. K. Stevens.

With the special music arranged by Mrs. Willa W. Taylor and with set designed by Stan Danowski, a good show is promised by Professor Neusbaum. Members of the cast, including stars of past Players' shows, are: Joanne M. Palmer '43, Robert H. Herrmann '44, Rodney Wigglesworth '45, Verne Savašt, graduate student, Dorothy T. Koush '44, Pauline Rugh '44, Jean E. Hershberger '43, Anne Carruthers '44, and Florinne E. Olson '44.

Dantz-A-Poppin, Revue, Field Day Today

Penn State's holiday contribution to Army Relief passed the $5,000 mark last night, as thousands of Penn Staters and visitors joined in the celebration of the College's biggest holiday.

Attendance at the Goodman swing session reached 2,600 shortly before 11 p. m., and the total was still rising. Less than three hours before, a capacity crowd of 1,300 saw the opening-night performance of the fast-stepping Thespian-Glee Club Revue.

To permit even more widespread participation in the Army Relief festival, the V-Weekend executive committee decided last night to sell "single-event" tickets for tonight's Dantz-a-poppin program. The tickets, costing $1.10, will be placed on sale at Rec Hall at 8:30 p. m.

Today's holiday program starts off at 2 p. m. on New Beaver Field, when freshmen battle it out with the sophomores in a tug-of-war that will decide whether men's customs shall be "off" permanently. Going the men one better, the coeds will stage frosh-soph customs battle barefooted.

A drill exhibition by Pershing Rifles and the National Champion State College Drum and Bugle Corps is next on the afternoon Field Day program.

All Victory Weekend proceeds collected by noon today will be presented to Col. John Henry Taylor, official War Department representative, in a ceremony scheduled for 3 p. m. Presentation of a war bond to the winner of the fraternity lawn display contest will follow.

Rounding out the overflowing Field Day program are three varsity sports contests. Nittany baseball, tennis, and golf teams meet Cornell squads in games rescheduled especially for V-Weekend.

An encore presentation of the Thespian-Glee Club Revue begins tonight's activities at 7 p. m. with the knock-em-down and drag-em-out Dantz-a-poppin, featuring four campus bands, as the day's climaxer.

Details of tonight's "we dare you to dance" program have been kept a matter of mystery, but Robert M. Mahwinney '43, Dantz-a-Poppin head, promises a program that will make Broadway's Hellzapoppin look like a high school operetta by comparison.

Application Forms For Army Reserve Available With Deans Of Schools

By RICHARD B. McNAUL

Another step towards the clarification of the reserve situation on campus was made yesterday by the Committee on War Service when application blanks for the enlistment of Penn State's Army Reserve were issued.

After considerable study of the War Department's new plan, the Committee prepared a pamphlet from its letters. This pamphlet, in addition to the application blanks, will be put into interested students' hands through the deans of their respective schools.

The 19-page pamphlet states that students desiring to serve with the Navy may do so after they have served their two-year basic ROTC training.

Because Penn State already has a ROTC department on campus, the Army has been given priority over students for the first two years. However, the new enlistment plan permits students to transfer to the Navy's V-5 and

Symphonic Band Gives 4th Concert Tomorrow

Making its fourth appearance of the Summer, the Symphonic Band of the band, orchestra, and chorus school will present a concert under the direction of Dr. George S. Howard, director of the school, in front of the Library at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Program for the concert had not been decided upon before Doctor Howard's return to the campus yesterday.

Collegian Picnic

Collegian staff members, both business and editorial, wishing to attend their annual picnic, should make monetary reservations with Dick McNaul before 2:30 p. m. today in the News Room. Party starts at 2 p. m. tomorrow, McNaul stated, and will leave from the Collegian office.

Students Lost 1,500 Items, $10,000 Value Student Union Says

Has anyone lost a plate of false teeth?

This was one of the questions asked by Student Union recently when a pair of artificial molars were turned in to the lost and found department. However, the owner somehow proved they were his, and the teeth were returned to their proper place.

During the school year, 1,500 articles, valued at $10,000, passed through Student Union, according to George L. Donovan, manager.

Rapid exchange of light raincoats taken through mistaken identity, is evident in the figures that 53 raincoats were turned in. The usual thing for professors to forget is an umbrella, since only 12 were lost by students.

Other articles returned were 508 books, 61 fountain pens, 202 notebooks, 46 coats, 50 pairs of glasses, 42 slide rules, 95 pocket-books, 18 rings, 22 watches, 72 hats, 33 key cases, 43 scarfs, and 94 pairs of gloves.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

STATE COLLEGE—Discussion on admission to College of American students of Japanese parentage was settled last night when the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Defense Command not to bring Japanese into this area during the war. Wilmer E. Kenworthy, executive secretary to the president, announced shortly before midnight.

NEW YORK—The FBI announced that the Black Dragon Society in New York has been cracked wide open. Its leader, Nemat Guffman, is being held on bond. The Black Dragon Society is composed of pro-Japanese, the borders from within our country, the FBI said.

WASHINGTON—War Production Chief Donald Nelson has announced plans for 5,000 huge cargo flying boats per annum.

New York—Ray Robinson, the 3-1 favorite, lambasted his way to a ten-round win over lightweight champion Sammy Angott in their non-title boxing bout at Madison Square Garden.
