Lion 9 Plays Last Tilt In Red Grudge Battle

Baseballers Will Bid For 5th Summer Win

By PAUL WOODLAND

Penn State's biggest game of the Summer schedule, an addition to the regular baseball season, will be played on the New Beaver Field diamond at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when Cornell University will be the victim of a Lion grudge.

Since two weeks ago, when the Blue and White suffered a heart-breaking 8-7 loss after leading 7-4 in the seventh inning at Cornell, the Penn State nine has been gunning for the Big Red.

Two Colgate games were carded between the two contest with the Ithacans, but Coach Joe Bedenk's Lions merely sharpened their claws on the Red Raiders, winning 3-1 and 4-3.

Pitching staff also is in top condition. Whitey Pyer, who has been winning games all season, including the Colgate fray Saturday, may start.

A Spring season star, who was idle for three months before turning back the Red Raiders in the first game last weekend, Eddie Tutleya may also get the nod to start against Cornell today. The York player pitched in the beginning of May, then strained a thigh muscle which kept him off the mound for three months, although he was able to maintain a good hitting average as an outfielder.

Performing in his last scheduled game of the season will be the Captain, Bill Debler. Except for a short time when he suffered a foot infection, Debler played in every game, often leading the batting attack.

When the Penn State baseball lineup lists a player other than Whitey Thomas at shortstop, fans will be aware of a major change, for the fleet-footed senior hasn't missed a game for two years. Recently Thomas contributed several brilliant infield plays.

Another ex-footballer and baseball veteran is Bob Perugini, a left-handed hitter who has often come through in the pinches. In all probability, the stocky teacher-to-be will start in right field.

When a large part of the club left in May, Coach Bedenk found himself with a lone catcher, and no prospects among the sophomores who moved from frosh to varsity ball in two weeks. George McWilliams has since done a good job behind the plate and at the same time broke in Ray Biting, an outfielder, as a reserve catcher.

SEASON FINALE — Coach Joe Bedenk will send his baseballers through their last scheduled game of the season at 2:30 p. m. today when the Lions battle Cornell in a grudge contest. Joe ends an extended 12th season with the Lion nine.

Dale Bower is the one sophomore on the squad who has virtually assured himself of a second base berth, although Bill Sidler sometimes plays that position.

John Burford and Bob Vail, juniors and left-handed hitters, have performed in the outfield from time to time, as has Bob Bennett, a sophomore, and Johnny Sylvester '45 and port-side hitter.

Jack Weber will be ready to step in at first base for Debler, and several sophomores will be on deck for hurling chores, namely Mike Wardrop, Ray Bolger, and Joe Golembeski. Harry Boyuka is the only junior on the pitching staff beside Pyer.

The national executive committee of the American Legion has selected Kansas City, Mo., for the Legion's 1942 national convention.

'Winning' Golfers Meet Big Red Team In Last Meet Today

Winding up the regular Summer schedule, the winning Lion golfers will meet Cornell on the College course at 3:30 p. m. this afternoon in one of the athletic features of Victory Weekend.

Losing only one game in the whole Spring and Summer season, the Nittany linksmen have piled up a record of wins that is outstanding, and has not been equalled in the last ten years. Bob Rutherford, the golf mentor, is concluding his 21st season as a Penn State athletic coach.

When the Lions tee off today against the Big Red, the same lineup that played against Colgate will fill the starting positions. Co-captains Dick Stephens and Bill Swan will lead the Nittany golfers.

Other starters in the meet will probably be Dick Hastings and Ed Fairchild, Chuck Maclay and Jim McCormick. Penn State won one and lost one last weekend when Colgate spoiled the almost perfect Lion win record with a defeat Saturday afternoon.

Football Practice To Start Monday; Veterans Return

One complete team, plus a couple of extra backfield men thrown in for good measure, will make up the roster of the squad that will report to football coach Bob Higgins Monday night for the first pre-season practice session. "We hope to find some undiscovered talent among the freshmen, so that we can get in some informal contest," stated Higgins.

A line composed of Will Van Lenten and Hank Baierl, ends; Ken Schoonover and Mike Kerns, tackles; Johnny Jaffurs, Reid McCloskey, and Bob Perugini, guards; and Lou Palazzi, center, will be on hand for the 7 p. m. sessions this month.

Dave Alston, Cliff St. Clair, George McWilliams, Aldo Cenci, Chuck McFarland, Sparky Brown, and Hank O'Karma will fill the backfield positions. Another blow was registered

Courtmens Face Cornell Today

In their final intercollegiate tennis match of the Summer schedule, Coach Ted Roethke's varsity netters will meet a strong visiting Cornell outfit on the College courts at 2 p. m. today.

The Lions were stopped by the same Big Red team by a 7-2 score in Ithaca, N. Y., two weeks ago, and will be out to salvage a final victory in an otherwise dismal season which saw them suffer four setbacks in five starts.

Although the New Yorkers were co-holders of the inter-sectional tennis championship last Spring, today's meeting is expected to be a close one all the way. Judging from the spirited battle the Lions displayed in their several matches against Colgate last week, they are conceded an even chance of upsetting the dopesters and coming through with a final win.

Cy Hull, Herb Kraybill, and Bill Lundelius will be sure starters at the first three singles positions, and Jim Lawther, Dick Armbrust, and Stan Spurgeon or Horace Smith will probably round out the starting sextet.

The match with the Naval Officers at the College, rained out earlier in the season, will probably be re-scheduled for some date later this month, according to Coach Roethke.

Prof. Writes Article

"So-Called 'Warm Springs' in Pennsylvania" is the title of an article in the July bulletin of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs, written by R. W. Stone, assistant professor of bacteriology. A member of the Pennsylvania Geological Survey group, Professor Stone found "warm" springs in both Huntingdon and Perry counties.

early this week against Nittany Lion football hopes when it was learned that three star members of last year's undefeated frosh squad will be absent when the whistle blows for the first game.

Ray Ulinski, powerful quarterback, is awaiting induction orders from the army. Harry Rywak, sturdy guard, is already carrying a musket, and Joe Cackovic, former all-state scholastic center, was forced to leave college because of scholastic deficiencies.
