

Lions Bow Out With 9-8 Cornell Baseball Victory

Almost victims of a duplication of two weeks ago when Cornell forged from behind to win, Penn State's baseballers stopped the Big Red's three-run surge which tied the score in the eighth Saturday, then rallied with another tally which gave the Lions a 9-8 win.

With the books for the Summer season standing at five wins and three losses, Coach Joe Bedenk's boys closed an extended season and the first Summer card in Penn State history.

Saturday's Victory Weekend win was registered by Ed Tuleya, who went two innings, and White Pyer, who finished up and was credited with the victory. Pyer fanned nine visitors and scattered four hits over the rest of the game.

At the same time, four seniors, Captain Bill Debler, Bob Perugini, Tuleya, and Whitey Thomas, bowed out, ending collegiate baseball careers. Bedenk finished his 12th season as a Lion baseball coach.

Bob Burford and Perugini led the batting attack, both clouting a pair of singles. Cornell's Loux topped the day as he hit a four-bagger with one on in the first inning. Ten errors were committed, Penn State racking up six of the miscues.

Lion Golfers Defeat Cornell Raiders, 7-2 In Last Encounter

Polishing off the last opponent on their Summer schedule, the Lion golfers knocked Cornell out of the running Saturday when they defeated the Big Red 7-2.

Co-captain Bill "Ducky" Swan turned in a par 69 for his match, the best card of the day, to down his 7man 5 and 3. The other co-captain, Dick Stephens, licked his man by a similar score, 5 and 3.

Stephens turned in a 70, and Penn State took best ball, 5 and 4. In the next foursome, Cornell extended the Lion golfers for an extra hole to decide the matches, and also to make it best ball. Ed Fairchild lost his match on the 19th, while his partner, Dick Hastings, snagged his opponent for a win, one up. Cornell took best ball one up.

Chuck Maclay and Jim McCormick downed their men by the same scores the captains won by, 5 and 3, and won best ball, 5 and 4. This was the end of the intercollegiate season for the Lions, making it six wins and one loss for the Summer.

Original One-Act Play Acclaimed By Audience

The play merited production on the vaster confines of the Schwab Auditorium stage, since there was a tendency to crowd and cover each other when all the characters appeared on the stage together. In spite of this, there was no confusion in stage business and action which may be attributed to Professor Neusbaum's directing abilities.

Difficult enough was the casting of the show, in addition to the "short" rehearsal period of two weeks. But each actor was a distinct "character" and played their roles with warmth and sympathetic understanding. Set designs by Stan Danowski, costumes by Mrs. Dorothy B. Scott and music by Mrs. Willa W. Taylor struck a happy medium to reflect the mood of the play perfectly.

All in all, the cast turned in a very commendable performance with Verna Sevast playing Sister Felicitas to perfection; Joanne Palmer, in a role made to order for her, that of Sister Tabea, earned the sympathy and understanding of the audience. Conrad Beissel, the Apostle of the Cloisters, seemed more than a stage character or historical figure when he was seemingly made to live and breathe under the superb artistry of Bob Herrman.

We look forward to seeing more such plays by Penn State's own playwrights, and as one of the audience so aptly put it—"We enjoyed it—a superb performance."

Phi Delta Theta Meets Tekes; Title Depends On Return Tilt

Tennis Team Wins 1st Cornell Match

It can happen here. For the first time in the history of the two schools, a Penn State tennis team finally succeeded in defeating a Cornell net squad, as the Lions closed out their Summer season by handing the Big Red an 8-1 thumping on the varsity courts Saturday.

The match was their thirteenth meeting in a long series which saw the Lions still seeking their initial victory, and proved to be the most spectacular contest of an otherwise dismal season.

With Cy Hull setting the pace with an easy 6-3, 6-1 victory over Engles of Cornell, the Lions went on to sweep every match but one, and that was a see-saw three-set affair in which Cornell's Wright finally succeeded in edging Dick Armbrust, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3.

The most thrilling contest of the afternoon saw Stan Spurgeon get off to a bad start, losing his first set without taking a game, and then come back strong to cop the next frame and go on to edge Adolph of Cornell in a marathon 20-game final set. His scores were 0-6, 7-5, 11-9.

Herb Kraybill, at the number two spot, followed Hull's lead in trouncing Tuttle in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1. Bill Lundelius encountered a little trouble in Smith of Cornell, but finally came through with a win in three sets, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

In the final singles contest, Jim Lawther easily stopped Cornell's Updegrave in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

State continued its blistering pace in the doubles to wind up the contest by sweeping the final three matches in six straight sets.

Hull and Lundelius combined to topple Engles and Smith by 6-4 and 6-2 scores, and Kraybill and Armbrust followed up with a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Tuttle and Wright.

Spurgeon and Lawther ended the contest by outlasting Adolph and Updegrave in the final doubles, 7-5, 8-6.

Two Former Slickmen Married At Ft. Dix

Lts. Bill Ziegenfus '41 and Jim Ritter '41, Lion lacrosse stars of the past season, figured in a double-ditch performed last week at Ft. Dix, N. J., where they are posted.

Ziegenfus was captain last year and star defenseman for Coach Nick Thiel during his three years of varsity play. Ritter was outstanding at his center position while playing with the Nittanymen. The pair took advanced ROTC while in college and were sent to Ft. Dix upon graduation.

Coach Thiel received a telegram yesterday from the newlyweds telling of their double-marriage.

Winners Will Encounter Canal St. For Crown

Climactic game in the long race for the Interfraternity softball championship will be played this afternoon on the golf course field at 5:15 o'clock when Tau Kappa Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta meet in a return match for the fraternity title and the right to meet the Canal St. Firehouse, Independent champs, for the All-College crown.

Thursday Phi Delta Theta upset the previously unbeaten Tekes, 5-2, to knot the first place position and force tonight's play-off tilt. Another brilliant pitcher's battle can be expected from the opposing twirlers, Gray of TKE and Yeagley of the Phi Deltas. In their last meeting Gray limited his campus foes to a meagre four hits though the Phi Deltas gave evidence of power at almost every spot in the lineup.

In last night's games Electric Diner sewed up second place in the Independent league when they scored nine runs on the three hits they could get from Jordan Hall's pitcher, Batz, for a 9-6 win. Jordan Hall did its best to set a new record with 10 errors. Fairmount Hall will tangle with Matils Wednesday for the third place position.

In section 5, Sigma Alpha Epsilon lost their chance to sew up their section crown when they lost decisively, 16-6. Cruikshank, hurling for SAE had a four game winning streak broken.

In the night's final fray, ten runs in the first two innings proved too much for Theta Chi to overcome, Alpha Chi Rho winning 13-11.

Freshman Nine Meets Lutherans

In their second encounter of the season, the Penn State freshman baseball team will meet the Lutherans, the first half champions of the State College Sunday School League, on the New Beaver Field diamond at 6 o'clock this evening.

The yearling squad won its first game from the Presbyterians of the same league by a 9-8 count last week.

Coach Houck will probably put Jack Berlin or Fred Shaw on the mound. Both men were converted to pitchers by the Lion mentor after they had tried out for other positions on the team, due to the lack of moundsmen faced by Coach Houck at the start of practice sessions for the nine.

At other starting posts for tonight's game will probably be Wayne Kreidler at first base, Bud Davage at second, Tony Mazzocco at shortstop, Jack Gracey on the "hot corner," Jack Landy in left field, Jim Battle in center field, Bud Speizer in right field, and Jerry Stern behind the plate.

Starting lineup for the Lutherans will find members of the team at their usual posts, according to Dan Lonberger, manager of the Sunday School baseballers.
