Random notes picked up last evening while watching Bob Higgins, his coaching assistants and old and new grid aspirants (all in shorts) go through the season's initial paces . . .

With Summer practice not starting until 7 p. m. and the warm weather making shorts and jerseys the accepted equipment, football practice presents a far different picture than the usual Fall equipment scene.

Although the freshman crop that has reported to date includes little promising material, the Hig ventured that this Fall would find a much more impressive group of yearlings taking the field. Included in the freshman group entering this Fall will be Joe Colone, All-State fullback from Berwick, and according to Higgins, the best fullback prospect in the state.

Two of the frosh now out for the squad have reputations to live up to. Roy Rob is the son of Harry Rob who played quarterback on the 1919 squad with Hig-. gins and was 'rated as second or third string All-American that year. With a slightly less pretentious record, but more recent forerunner, is Tony Mazzocco, brother of Wee Willy Mazocco, who has both boxed and carried Summer Session brother of Wee Willy Mazocco, the pigskin while at State. Army Squad Cancels All 'Outside' Games

The prospect of Penn State's football team meeting a service outfit this Fall seems remote after the announcement yesterday by Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, that the soldier eleven of Camp Lee had cancelled their game scheduled through with the Section title with the Lions for November 11, at Camp Lee, Virginia.

Reason given for the cancellation, according to Fleming, was contests with outside collegiate

Frosh Nine Meets Irvin Hall Squad At 5:30 P. M. Today

For the second time this week. Coach Leo Houck's freshman baseball squad will see action on the New Beaver Field diamond today when they meet the nine made up of members of Irvin Hall. The game will start at 5:30 p. m.

In two starts thus far this season, the yearling team has met diamondmen of two State College Sunday School League teams, and have won one, from the Presbyterians by a count of 9-8, and lost the other by a shutout score of 4-0 at the hands of the Lutherans.

Coach Houck, after witnessing

The game will mark the start of the season for the Irvin Hall team. Three members of the varsity baseball nine, Bob Perugini, John Bennett, and Mike Wardrop, will play with the dormitory squad.

Starting lineup for the freshmen will probably find Jack Gracey at third, Nelson Davage at shortstop, Lou Kolarik in left field, Wayne Kreidler in center Jack Lanny on second base, Jerry Stern behind the plate, and Jack Berlin on the mound. In two starts this season, Berlin has turned in some enviable pitching, striking out nine men while yielding only six walks.

For Irvin Hall, Kintzer will mound, Conroy at first base, Gilbert at second, Bennett at third.
