

CA Rural Service Committee Calls For Students' Help

"Do you really want to work for the home front? Here's your chance," says Catherine L. Miller '45, chairman of PSCA Rural Service Committee.

Because of the tremendous shortage of labor, this committee has volunteered its services, free of charge, in aiding farmers with numerous tasks vital to farm business. The committee is supplying transportation to and from farms.

Men and women students who have free Saturday afternoons are urged by Miss Miller to participate in the program (which is really more fun than work, she claims).

This Saturday, the Rural Service Committee will help a farmer in Pine Grove Mills pitch hay. Interested students should sign up at the CA office or simply meet there at 1:30 p. m. The group will return at 5 p. m.

PSCA Announces 3 Fireside Sessions

Three PSCA "Fireside Sessions" have been scheduled for next week, Nancy J. Zartman '43, fireside committee chairman, announced.

Miss A. Pauline Locklin, assistant professor of English literature, will discuss "Learning the First R" at Sigma Pi fraternity tonight.

Clarence R. Carpenter, associate professor of psychology, will speak in Atherton East Court on Tuesday.

"The Future of South America" is the subject of a talk to be given by William H. Gray, instructor in Latin-American history, in the Gamma Phi Beta suite next Wednesday.

WRA Swimming Club Plans 'Wheel of Fortune' Fun Night

Colver Asks Coeds To Enter Teams

As the main attraction of WRA Swimming Club's Fun Night will be a large colorful wheel of fortune, the club has decided to call the affair "Wheel of Fortune" Fun Night, announced Dora E. Colver '44, club president.

Spinning of the wheel will determine the order in which 16 swimming events, including life saving, water safety, novelty, and diving skills, are to be competed for. Competition will be in the form of teams, a member of every team entering each event. Time allotted to prepare for each event will be one minute.

This is an excellent opportunity for sororities, campus organizations, independent women, or a combination of all three, to enter a team in what is expected to be one of the most exciting and outstanding water contests held in White Hall pool, stated Adele J. Levin '44, WRA activities chairman.

Teams may consist of from four to six coeds, no one person participating in more than four events, Miss Colver said. Those who wish to enter teams should sign up at the locker room bulletin board in White Hall this week. It will not be necessary to list the names of individual team members until next week.

If individual coeds not affiliated with a team wish to participate in the affair, they should also leave their names at the bulletin board and will be assigned to a team later.

It is not necessary to be a good swimmer to enter the contest as events will range according to swimming ability, Miss Colver added.

Final tennis doubles intramur-

SUMMONS SWIMMERS—Adele J. Levin '44, WRA activities chairman, urges sororities, campus organizations, and independent women to enter teams of four to six coeds in "Wheel of Fortune" Fun Night.

als to decide the championship resulted in the defeat of Ath East by Kappas Ruth Moore '43 and Doris Ward '43. Scores by sets were 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Juniors Pat Aloe and Sis Pelly defended Ath East.

Chi Omegas were defeated in their last night by Thetas, announced Grace L. Judge '44, WRA intramural chairman. Played in 15 minute halves, the game was nip-and-tuck with a score of 38-36. As a result of the match, Thetas will play AOPis and Ath West will play Sigma Delta Tau in semi-finals at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

We, The Women

The Brakes Are On; Push Harder, Please

First pressure has been applied to the brakes in an attempt to slow down on extra-curricular activities. With a little more, students may yet survive the accelerated program with few casualties. WSGA Senate held no meeting last night.

Feeling that there was no business which needed discussing, the group dispensed with the regular meeting. By next week there will, no doubt, be enough accumulated business to make a meeting worthwhile.

Perhaps coeds are at last feeling the strain of acceleration, or they may be realizing that there is little sense in calling meetings to find, after the last stragglers arrive, that there was no reason for congregating.

A similar step has been taken by one sorority. With little of vital importance to discuss during the Summer, meetings are scheduled every other week.

Some groups may feel that, since they have always held meetings weekly, or bi-weekly, they should continue the custom.

For those who are dubious about the advisability of slowing down their pace, at least a trial could be given. If it appears, after dispensing with several meetings, that too much work has piled up, or that the group no longer functions effectively, they could again revert to a weekly basis. It would do no harm to try this system as an experiment.

School deans have emphasized the need for diminishing extra-curricular activities for more concentration on studies. Some activities are vital, of course, and cannot be dispensed with. Students can, with planning, alleviate the pressure of too much to do in an accelerated time.

It's time to slow down gradually to avoid unnecessary casualties. Why not follow the lead Senate has taken?

IWA Dating Bureau To Aid Panhel Ball

Aiding in the success of Panhel Ball, the IWA dating bureau will help to get dates for any sorority women who wish them, according to Marjorie A. Magargle '44, dating bureau head. Coeds may sign up at the Penn State Club, 315 Old Main, between 3:30 and 5:30 today, Miss Magargle announced.

Committee for the Panhel Ball, which will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn from 9 p. m. to midnight tomorrow, includes Betty Jane Haupt '43, chairman, Natalie A. Siebert '43, Sally L. Hirschberg '44, and A. Jane Minnich '44.

Nittany Lion orchestra will provide music for the informal dance, and cigarettes for the Army will be the admission charge.

Coeds Collect Clothes

Women in Atherton Hall northeast unit are sponsoring an All-College clothing salvage campaign, Geraldine A. Custer '43, president, announced last night. Clothing, which will be sent to refugees in the United States and abroad, will be collected in the northeast office later in the month. Miss Custer requests that coeds donate as liberally as possible.
