

400 Attend Panhel Dance Supply 'Smokes For Service' Army, Navy Men To Get Cigarettes

Two hundred Greeks and their guests attended Panhellenic Council's first informal ball at the Nittany Lion Inn last night, according to Pauline E. Keller '43, Panhel president. Each couple donated one package of cigarettes.

Betty Jane Haugh '43, dance chairman, announced that the 200 packs of "fags for the fighters" would be sent to the Central YMCA in Harrisburg, to be distributed to transient Army and Navy men who visit there.

With the Nittany Lions providing dance music, coeds and stray Greeks joined in the only annual Greek get-together of the season. Pledges, actives, and alumnae appeared at the first post-rushing ball in College history. First semester rushing accounted for this.

Because of the weather and the large number of social programs on the College's Summer calendar, Panhel Council voted to create an informal atmosphere at the dance this year.

Members of the social committee for the dance included Natalie A. Siebert '43, Sally L. Hirschberg '44, and A. Jane Minnich '44.

Invitations were sent to President and Mrs. Hetzel; Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray; Dean and Mrs. Arthur R. Warnock; Dormitory Hostesses Miss Mary Eastep, Mrs. Grace L. Hall, Mrs. Neva M. Morris, Miss Kathryn Pontzer, Mrs. Gail B. Pope, and Mrs. Anna B. Searle.

Miss Nina M. Bentley, Miss Mary Jane Stevenson, Miss Ruth H. Zang, Dr. Pearl Weston, Assistants to the Dean of Women; Miss Cordelia Beach, secretary to the dean of women; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Bentley.

WRA Executives Plan Lawn Picnic

Next WRA Executive Board meeting will be in the form of a lawn picnic at the home of Miss Mildred A. Lucey, instructor in physical education, 4 Nittany Village, at 5 p. m. Thursday.

Special guests will include members of the physical education staff and Patricia MacKinney '43, last year's WRA vice-president.

Adele J. Levin '44, WRA activities chairman is in charge of refreshments and Julia H. McFarland '45 will be responsible for building a fire.

A short business meeting will follow the picnic.

Because of the decreased enrollment due to the close of main Summer session, Miss Helen J. Swenson, instructor in physical education has announced several changes in White Hall swimming pool plunge hours.

New plunge hours from August 8 to 27 include:

Mon. 7:30 to 9 p. m.

We, The Women

C'mon Coeds—Make Hay While The Sun Shines

In behalf of Uncle Sam, we are shouting—"Wake up, Penn State coeds!"

Women's organizations have done much to make Penn State one of the leading colleges in defense work, but the individual coed has been asleep on the job.

We agree that it is a difficult and unpleasant task to make oneself war conscious every minute, but we are referring to coeds' neglect of the innumerable little things that go to make up the "home front."

You might ask—what is there to do? Well, here is the answer!

Instead of going on a hike this afternoon, why not report to the PSCA office in Old Main at 1:30 and travel out to the farm of Mrs. Millie Keppler in Pine Grove Mills to help her pitch hay.

PSCA Rural Service Committee is supplying transportation to and from the farm. You will be back by 5:30 in time for your Saturday night date. We guarantee that you will have as much fun as you would on a hike—and you will be aiding Uncle Sam for four hours.

We have criticized the CA administration, but we take our hats off to their student workers. Members of the Rural Service Committee and Community Service Committee might well be called Penn State's "forgotten organizations" when it comes to volunteer service.

If this type of manual work for Uncle Sam does not appeal to you, we are announcing that there will be numerous courses offered for your benefit next semester.

WSGA House of Representatives has just completed a survey covering the defense courses which were most popular last semester, and listing your suggestions for new courses.

Before the courses are scheduled, you have the opportunity to present your ideas to Miss Nina M. Bentley, assistant to the dean of women.

We would hate to see a situation arise similar to the one that occurred this semester—a situation in which we had to beg coeds to schedule a course in airplane drafting.

We repeat—"Wake up, coeds, and do your part for the 'home front!'" S.L.F.

FAGS FOR FIGHTERS—Pauline E. Keller '43, Panhellenic Council president, commended campus Greeks for splendid cigarette donations made at Panhel's annual ball at the Nittany Lion Inn last night.

Home Ec Program Includes Clothing, Nutrition Courses

A nutrition refresher course will be conducted by Miss Ina Padgett, associate professor of home economics, from August 10 to August 14. The class will meet from 9 to 10 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m. daily.

Included in the course will be a review of the latest facts in nutrition food needs of defense workers and their families, adjustment to the changing food supply, and meal planning and food preparation to conserve nutritive value of available foods.

Problems in the Production and Distribution of Clothing, a three-credit post-session course, will be conducted by Miss Ruth E. Graham, professor of home economics.

This study will include the relationship of raw materials to the finished products, treating the clothing problem from the industrial point of view, Miss Graham said.

Kids' School Honors Six

Six young men and women were handed blankets, towels and washcloths, bibs, and sweaters, as they were graduated without ceremony from the home economics department Nursery School yesterday morning.

Masters of play degrees were conferred by Mrs. Marion S. McDowell, head of the school, and her assistant. Twelve additional students were promoted as Nursery School ended a twelve-week Summer session.

From 9 a. m. to noon Monday through Friday, Penn State's youngest enrolled students meet for three hours of play, rest, music, and general training in getting along with each other.

In January, 1929, the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs contributed the first sum of money for the establishment of the nursery school. At this time most members of the home economics department held classes and laboratories in the first floor of Women's Building.

The nursery school, however, along with some overflow classes, was established in Sparks House.

To give College students in the child development course, Home Economics 429, experience with young children is the main objective of the school. Pre-parental and parental education is the secondary motive. According to Mrs. McDowell, 90 to 95 per cent of the students enrolled in the course will marry and have children of their own. A number of married students are enrolled in the course.

DIRECTS BROADCASTS — Mr. Clayton H. Schug, assistant professor of public speaking and women's debate coach, announced the last in a series of three round table discussions over station WMRF at 2:30 p. m. Thursday. Topic of the final confab, headed by Vernon E. Rank, graduate instructor in speech, will be "War Marriage."

Dora E. Colver '43, WRA Swimming Club president, reminds all women students to enter teams in the club's "Wheel of Fortune" Fun Night.

Debaters End Radio Confabs

"War Marriages," will be the topic of the last in a series of three radio round table discussions to be presented by Penn State women's debate squad over station WMRF, Lewistown, at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, Clayton H. Schug, assistant professor of public speaking and women's debate coach, announced last night.

Leading the discussion will be Vernon E. Rank, graduate instructor in speech. Participants will include Evelyn R. Wilner '43, C. Betty Friedman '44, Margaret K. Ramaley '44, and Mary L. Casanave '45.

Coed debaters discussed "Women in Industry" over the same station. Thursday when Paul R. Beall, instructor in public speaking and assistant women's debate coach, headed the group. Speakers were Harriette Block '44, Miss Ramaley, Ruth Clyde '45, and Rosalind B. Schnitzer '45.

First of the series, a round table on the subject "Women in the Army," was presented July 30, with Mr. Schug as discussion head. Coed speakers included Miss Wilner, Miss Friedman, Florence I. Jaffy '44, and C. Grace Goodlin '45.

Women In Sports

By SALLY L. HIRSHBERG

To further swimming skills and to demonstrate the value of recreational swimming, WRA Swimming Club has announced its plans for a "Wheel of Fortune" Fun Night.

The major part of the program will include competition in water events ranging in skill from the beginner to the advanced swimmer and life saver. Events will be chosen by spinning a large, colorful wheel of fortune.

Posted on the bulletin board in White Hall locker room is a list of 84 swimming and diving events, 60 of the most popular to be placed on the spinning wheel.

Also posted on the bulletin board are several sheets of paper notifying coeds to sign up their teams. These sheets have been posted since Wednesday. According to last night's report, there is now the amazing number of four teams entered in the contest.

To insure cooperation on the part of coeds, the Swimming Club announced that teams of from four to six students may be entered representing any combination of or-

IWA Will Sponsor Reception Monday

The Independent Women's Association will hold a reception for all non-sorority women in Women's Building lounge from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. Monday, according to Hazel E. Gassmann '43, IWA president.

Barbara Whitbred '43, general chairman of the affair, announced that Christine R. Grant '43 and Jean E. Hershberger '43 will participate in the program.

Freshman independent women are especially urged by Miss Gassmann to attend the reception in order to better understand the purposes of IWA.

organizations or representing no particular organization.

With 14 sororities on campus and many more independent women, the logical conclusion seems to be a complete lack of enthusiasm, cooperation, and good sportsmanship on the part of coeds.

This is an opportunity for women students to show some initiative in organizing teams and participating in some active recreation.

We would like to see the four teams now entered in the contest multiplied by ten on Monday. How about it, kids?
