

Dorm Committee Will Submit Final Recommendation Today

The Daily Collegian

OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

Weather

VOL. 39—No. 54

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 12, STATE COLLEGE, PA.

PRICE: THREE CENTS

Hetzel To Get Report By Noon

Postponed by an administrative tie-up, final action on the question of who will occupy the men's dormitories with the opening of the Fall semester has been held up another day.

According to Samuel K. Hostetter, assistant to the President in charge of business and finance, and chairman of the committee investigating the question, his group has in process the preparation of the report of its study and will by noon today present this to President Ralph D. Hetzel, with whom final approval and action rests.

Mr. Hostetter would not indicate last night, what the committee's recommendation includes. He declared that it is up to the President to accept or reject the decision and make further announcement concerning the matter.

Rudolph Bloom '43, spokesman for the dormitory men, again reiterated his statement that no matter what the recommendation, is "the men of Irvin, Watts and Jordan are ready to cooperate with the decision 100 per cent."

"We were a little hot under the collar at first about the idea of being evacuated," Bloom stated, "but now that we see the College's position we realize that such a move would be beneficial to the greatest number in the long run."

Under discussion for the past several weeks, the proposal provides for the converting of the dormitories into quarters for women so that some 300 extra freshman women may be admitted to boost the College's dropping enrollment.

Also under consideration is a plan to make the Sandwich Shop in Old Main into a dining hall for the extra women with Old Main first floor lounge being made into a refreshment room to take the place of the Sandwich Shop.

Meanwhile, according to Bloom, men in the dormitories, anticipating their being asked to leave, are encountering new difficulties in finding rooms in the town. He explained that the number of apartments and rooms open to students is very small.

Future Lawyers Pledge

Pi Lambda Sigma, pre-legal professional fraternity, pledged seven members into the society.

Those pledged were Martin L. Zeigler '44, William F. Lahner '44, Francis E. Zabkar '44, William R. Pomerantz '45, Henry Keller '44, and Donald K. Probert '44, as announced by John B. McCue '43, president of the fraternity.

Warneke Arrives To Finish Shrine

Heinz Warneke is scheduled to arrive in town for his final visit and for the last stand in completion of the Lion Shrine. The work, which appears to be nearing completion, will take probably two or three more weeks, Joseph Garatti stated yesterday.

Far ahead of schedule, the "roughing out," originally considered to require five months work, will be entirely completed within a few days when Mr. Garatti takes off the only remaining rough stone between the lion's front legs.

Plans for placing the lion in its final position will probably be started within a few days. It will stand, somewhere in the wooded plot near where the carving is being done. The exact site has not yet been decided upon.

Collegian Holds Smoker For Freshmen Tonight

Freshmen men and women who want to try out for The Daily Collegian editorial and business staffs are urged to attend a smoker to be held at Delta Chi fraternity at 7 o'clock tonight.

Entertainment, short speeches, dancing and refreshments are on the program. Gordon L. Coy and Leonard E. Bach, editor and business manager will explain the inner workings and present the members of the staff.

All freshmen are urged to attend, whether in the journalism curriculum or not.

Hell Week Not What It Used To Be; Fraternity Life Bowl of Cherries

Even as the horse and buggy has seen better days so have Penn State Hell Weeks seen better years.

Shorter terms, calls for more work from students and the war have made houses go easy on pledges this Summer. A number of houses, however, are doing their best to make pledges remember Hell Week as its name indicates—a week of hell.

Inquiries put to fraternity men in charge of their house's program indicate that pledges won't exactly find themselves at tea parties.

One house will add to its knowledge of State College and the vicinity when and if two of its pledges return from counting the number of railroad ties between here and Bellefonte and counting the number of bricks in the power-house chimney.

Another pledge has been given a stinker of an assignment. He must return to the house with a live skunk.

Included in the "know your community" assignments given to pledges are the long distant sight-seeing tours. A pledge must deliver in person a letter to the president of the Bucknell or Lehigh chapter house.

Some houses have been training pledges in the rudiments of air-raid warden jobs by making them keep their lonely all-night vigils at the Boalsburg cross-roads and at the Shingletown Gap.

Once back in the fraternity house pledges under-go all kinds of humiliating acts to teach them proper respect for their betters.

That they are considered little more than barbarians by Brothers comes out at meals when pledges must often eat using only their hands. Eating square meals and through straws are familiar feats

(Continued on Page Three)

STILL UNDECIDED—

President Ralph D. Hetzel will receive the recommendation of the special committee today concerning whether men or women shall occupy Irvin, Watts and Jordan Halls with the opening of the Fall semester. Final action and approval rests with him.

Meanwhile, the boys in the dorms are waiting for the decision, so that they may secure quarters downtown while rooms are still available.

Cabinet Hits At Mixed Drinking; Open House Set For Friday

Postpone All-College Convocation Until Fall

All-College Cabinet took a definite stand for action last night when it went on record as endorsing active enforcement of standing legislation prohibiting mixed drinking whether in chaperoned parties or not.

In the discussion it was made clear that offenders would be tried by a Cabinet judiciary committee after they had been reported to members of Cabinet privately or at regular meetings.

Points in the discussion stressed that "mixed drinking" refers not only to drinking with coeds, but with women not connected with the College as well. The plan for enforcement of the rulings will provide for penalties to be meted out according to the seriousness of the offense to persons not belonging to fraternities as well as fraternity men.

The discussion was brought up by M. Williams Lundelius who pointed out the fact that not enough students knew what the regulations regarding mixed drinking were. He said there were, in his estimation, far too many violations of the code both with fraternity and non-fraternity men.

It was decided at the meeting that, because of the lack of time during the rest of this semester, the All-College convocation pro-

(Continued on Page Three)

Late News Flashes . . .

WASHINGTON — American naval forces struck heavily at the Japanese occupied Aleutian Island of Kiska, according to a Navy Department announcement, damaging several supply ships and silencing Japanese land batteries. No further developments in the continuing battle of the Solomon Islands were reported.

CHUNGKING — The small American Air Force in China threw all its strength yesterday in an attack on the five largest cities of occupied China.

MOSCOW—Russian sources admitted yesterday that German armored columns are overrunning the entire Caucasian area while Soviet troops are fighting desperate rearguard actions and inflicting heavy casualties on the advancing Nazis.

College Calendar

In compliance with a request by the Senate Committee on Calendar, The Daily Collegian is reprinting the following revision of the College calendar for the Fall semester. The revision includes recent changes in the dates for the payment of fees.

- Sept. 7, Mon. 8 a. m. Freshman Week Begins
- Sept. 9-10, Wed.-Thurs. Fall semester registration
- Sept. 10, Thurs., 1:10 Fall semester classes begin
- Sept. 24-25, Thur.-Fri. Payment of fees
- Oct. 24, Sat. Alumni Homecoming Day
- Oct. 31, Sat., 12 noon Midsemester below-grade reports
- Nov. 25, Wed., 5 p. m. Thanksgiving recess begins
- Nov. 27, Fri., 8 a. m. Thanksgiving recess ends
- Dec. 17, Thur. Fall semester graduation
- Dec. 19, Sat., 11:50 a. m. Fall semester ends

'New York For A Night' Theme Of OMOH Finale

"A Night in New York," complete with Madison Square Garden, Empire State Building and many other familiar New York spots, is the theme of Friday night's Old Main Open House, Gerald B. Maxwell Stein '44, OMOH chairman announced yesterday.

To create the proper atmosphere signs will be posted at the entrances transforming the Little Theater into "The Music Box"—just east of Broadway—and the fourth floor game room into Madison Square Garden.

The All-College Ping Pong tournament will be conducted in the Garden with the exception of the finals which will be held in St. Nick's arena on the first floor. Students and faculty members wishing to take part in the tournament must sign up at Student Union before noon tomorrow.

George "Grover Whalen" Donovan will present the ping-pong meet winners with Defense stamps—two dollars for first place and a dollar's worth for the runner-up.

For the evening, the Tower will be known as the Empire State building. Room 405, where either "Trans-Atlantic Merry-go-round" or "Topper Takes a Trip" will be shown, officially represents the Radio City Music Hall.

Lounging and dancing in the Penn State Club room, square dancing on the Terrace and social dancing in the sandwich shop will, for the evening, be conducted in "The Stork Club," "The Village Barn," and "The Roseland Ballroom" respectively.

Collegian's 6th War Film To Be Shown Tonight

The sixth in a weekly series of World War 2 pictures sponsored by The Daily Collegian in conjunction with The College Book Store and Hillel Foundation will be presented at Hillel Foundation tonight at 8 p. m. Gordon L. Coy Collegian editor announced last night.

Americans All, the title of the first film is a story of the young people who work and play between the Straights of Magellan and the Rio Grande Valley.

The other reel, Our Neighbors Down the Road, is a photographic tour through Mexico and South America.

1324 Applications Already Accepted

Applications accepted for matriculation to the freshman class on September 7, now total 1,324, according to the Registrar's office.

This number is exclusive of the 571 freshmen who were matriculated in June, and those now in attendance at the undergraduate centers, or who have been admitted to the undergraduate centers.

If all of those accepted for admittance register next month, the class of '46 will surpass that of the present sophomore class by more than a hundred.

The Registrar's figures also show that approximately 26 percent of those offered admission are non-Pennsylvanians, and approximately 48 percent, 385 in number of those accepted and paid are women.

IFC Meets Today

Interfraternity Council will meet at the Phi Epsilon Pi house at 7 o'clock tonight. Proposals for change in the existing rushing code are likely to be included on the order of business.