

Summer Practice Primes Booters For 1st Game

With an entire Summer of practice sessions under their belts, Coach Bill Jeffrey's perennially strong soccer team should be in proper condition to start Fall rehearsals to prime them for their first game with Gettysburg, here on October 3.

Coach Bill and the booters have practiced nightly since June and during the last week of practice conducted two intra-squad games with which Coach Jeffrey was "very pleased." The team, which showed great strength this Summer will be strengthened with the return to school of several key men from last year's lineup.

Aldo Cenci, 225 pound quarterback, will take care the major backfield blocking assignments on Bob Higgins' 1942 grid machine. Cenci may have to be a 60-minute man to alleviate the shortage of seasoned performers at the signal barking position.

Draft-Depleted Grid Squad Starts Pre-Season Sessions September 9

1942 Grid Schedule

October
3—Bucknell . . . . .	Home
10—Lehigh . . . . .	Bethlehem
17—Cornell . . . . .	Ithaca, N.Y.
24—Colgate . . . . .	Home
31—W. Vir. . . . .	Morgantown
November
7—Syracuse . . . . .	Home
14—Penn . . . . .	Philadelphia
21—Pitt . . . . .	Home
—Dad's Day
—Alumni Homecoming Day

Frosh Candidates May See Varsity Action

By FRED CLEVER

A Nittany Lion football team, which forecasters were predicting a few months ago to be one of the most powerful grid machines in the country, will open formal practice sessions on September 8, in preparation for what now seems to be a not-too-promising season.

Originally regarded by Coach Bob Higgins, beginning his 13th season as Penn State's head coach, as a potentially-great squad, the 1942 edition of the Blue and White has been sadly depleted by the long arms of local draft boards.

Seventeen members of the potential 1942 varsity squad, including 10 holdovers from the great 1941 squad and seven from Marty McAndrews' undefeated frosh squad of last season, have answered the call to arms.

The tragic death last week of Dave Alston, potential all-American halfback, the withdrawal of his brother and running mate, Harry; and the departure of Joe Cackovic, all-state center and star on the 1941 squad, brings the total team losses to 20.

Gone also from last year's squad, that lost to only Temple and Colgate in early season games, are seven gridders who went the diploma route. Included in the array of stars was the famous passing combination—"Big" Bill Smaltz to Captain Len Krouse, and fleet-

As yet, the Senate Committee on Athletics has made no move to change its ruling which bars freshmen from participation in varsity sports, although six of the Lions' eight 1942 foes will be using first-year men. Action on the proposal will probably be taken in the near future.

All it not dark for the Higginsmen, however, for the Hig and his staff still have quite an array of talent from which to pick a starting lineup, although replacements in certain vital positions will be lacking.

Varsity holdovers and sophomore hopefuls who attended the informal sessions conducted during the last month, and others who have indicated that they will be back for the Fall semester number about 25.

There seems to be no lack of material at the end posts with Van Lenten, last year regular, Bob Davis, Bob Walters, reserve players, and a couple of sophomores, Baiert and Boyd, to pick from. Johnny Potsklan, one of the best defensive ends to hit Penn State in recent years, was reported to have been drafted, but more recent word indicates that he may return to bolster the terminal play.

Tackles were hit hardest by the draft. No less than five 200-pounders have been lost. Mike Kerns, Ken Schoonover and Red Moore will fight it out for the starting slots. Barney Foltz, yearling tackle for Marty last sition with only Lou Pallazzi, reserve center in 1941, and Johnny Wolosky, star defensive center up from the frosh squad.

In the backfield, the quarterbacking job is going to be dominated by big, 225-pound Aldo Cenci, with help from Tucceri and Foye, sophomores.

Weitzel and Banbury, the former a sophomore sensation and the latter a hard plunging fullback, will be the key men at that position.

year, may return to school.

Johnny Jaffurs, Bob Perugini, and Leo Nobile will lead the candidates for the guard positions, along with Reid McCloskey and Fred Kreuter, both sophomores.

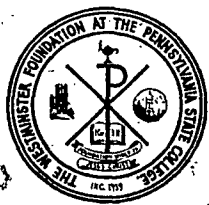

It looks as if it is going to be a two-man affair at the pivot po-

BUY DEFENSE STAMPS AND BONDS

HANN'S WATCH SHOP

Watch and Jewelry Repairing . . . Watch Attachments
Located in Hoy Drug Store East College Ave.

Welcome To The Class Of 1942

The Westminster Foundation

"The Ministry of Christ's Church To Presbyterian Students"

We Invite YOU—

To Stop In And See Us When You Get To "State" For

- Clipper Craft Suits
- Schoble Hats
- Florsheim Shoes
- Jayson Shirts
- Wembley Ties

Come in and browse around . . .

fromm's

Opposite Old Main

State College, Pa.

WELCOME, CLASS OF 1946

State College's Headquarters for

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

PRODUCTS

Linoleum — Glass — Wall Paper
Painting and Decorating

PORTER & WEBER

123 S. Frazier St.

Dial 2793

Attention New Students

We carry a complete line of student I. E. S. Study Lamps and special Fluorescent Desk Lights

Also Available

G.E. — Zenith — Philco
and Emerson Radios
Phonographs

Combination
Record Players
Records

ELECTRIC RAZORS
Shick — Remington
Shavemaster

EASY WAY TO
More Comfort
WHEN YOU SEW

● You'll feel fresher and probably sew better, if you have the light of a Certified I. E. S. Lamp to make seeing easier. Grand to read by, too. Made to 54 standards for better light and safer service. Make sure of this protection; look for this I. E. S. badge of honor when you buy.

I. E. S. Better Sight LAMPS

Electric Supply Co.

116 S. Allen St.

Phone 2062

New College Diner

Between The Movies