

Men From Many Lands at International Student Meet

Typical of the varied representation at the International Student Assembly in Washington is this group of youth leaders, left to right: Casimior Dlieloziod, Poland; Lieut. Vladimir Pchelintsev, Russia; Capt. Peter Cochran, Scotland, a veteran of Libyan fighting; Wing Commander David Malden, England, in action at Dieppe; Ivan Feng, China.

(Copyright, 1942, NEA Service, Inc.—
Printed in U. S. A.)

Frosh Gridders Meet

All freshman football candidates are asked by Marty McAndrews, frosh coach, to meet under the East Stands of New Beaver Field, 4 p. m. today.

International Student Assembly Adopts Stirring Manifesto

In a stirring manifesto to the youth of the world, delegates to the International Student Assembly held in Washington from Sept. 2 to 5 declared that "We await the signal" for the opening of a Second Front in Europe.

Penn State, through the PSCA, was represented by students including Allan W. Ostar '46, delegate, and observers I Dan Bolet '44, Lee Galant '46, R. Christine Kohe '46, and Katherine Youorski, '44. They heard President Roosevelt's message and were entertained at the White House along with other representatives from the youth of the world.

For four days delegates from all countries studied the manifesto and discussed it with their embassies and legations. The manifesto outlines the hope of youth for a real "people's century", but it states that "our first task is to defeat the enemies on the battlefield".

"Victory must be the right of peoples, regardless of race, color, or creed, to select their own political system within the framework of freedom of speech, of the press, of religious practice."

"This is a war of interdependence. Our actions are now deciding the peace. Asia, Asia Minor, Africa, as well as Europe, must be free. We must renounce imperialism and all its evils. This means we should recognize the

Frosh Customs Take Effect Tomorrow At 1

Freshman customs will begin at 1:10 p. m. tomorrow, Charles H. Ridenour '43, Tribunal chairman, announced last night.

Ridenour warned that second semester freshmen are not to participate in hazing and stated that those caught doing so will be liable to another semester of customs.

Tribunal requests cooperation of hatmen and upperclassmen in carrying out customs, Ridenour said.

principle of independence for the colonials and equal rights and opportunity for national, religious, and racial minorities."

The signing of this manifesto was accompanied by enthusiastic applause from the vast auditorium as a delegate from each of the 38 fighting nations proceeded to the platform.

The final task of the historic assemblage was to set up machinery for carrying forward his work. Tentative plans have been made to call an International Youth Day on Nov. 17 and an International Youth Assembly of young people from cities and farms at the same time the peace conference is held after the war.

Book Exchange To Reopen Tomorrow

The student book exchange will reopen for its business session for this semester at 1 p. m. tomorrow. The exchange rooms are in the rear of the Armory with entrance by the door facing the Mall.

Students wishing to sell books through the exchange must take them there and quote their own prices. The books will be sold at their price with a five cent charge on each side of the transaction.

Applications Ready For NYA Job-Seekers

Application blanks for the campus National Youth Administration program that will get underway next month are available at the NYA office, 308 Old Main, according to Stanley B. Maddox, supervisor.

The program, although cut approximately 50 per cent from last year's allotment, will take care of 275 needy students. Application blanks are available to freshmen and transfers as well as upperclassmen.

Choir, Glee Club Try-Outs Monday

Preliminary try-outs for positions in the College Choir and the Men's Glee Club will be held in Carnegie Hall, 7 p. m., Monday, September 14, the music department announced yesterday.

Men applying for membership will meet in Room 200. Prof. W. F. Taylor will meet women candidates in Room 212.

The Blue Band and the College Symphony, under the direction of Prof. Hummel Fishburn, are open to members of all classes by competition.

Men interested in the Blue Band, and both men and women seeking positions in the Symphony Orchestra, will attend try-outs according to their instruments, as scheduled below:

Thursday, September 10

Trumpets, cornets, 7 p. m.; tubas, 9 p. m.

Friday, September 11

Trombones, baritones, horns, 4-5:30 p. m.; clarinets, 7 p. m.; saxophones, 9 p. m.

Monday, September 14

Flutes, piccolos, double reeds, 4 p. m.; percussion, 5 p. m.; string instruments, 7 p. m.

MEETING OF ALL
COLLEGIAN
SOLICITORS
TONIGHT
8:00 P. M.

Room 8, Carnegie Hall

Freshmen and Sophomores Are Required To Attend

FROSH

*It Pays to Look
Spick and Span*

Frosh—get off to a good start this semester. If you cannot get new clothes, let us clean, press, and repair your old ones. We also have a quick dependable laundry service.

Let Us Help You Keep Well Dressed

College men demand well-cleaned and correctly pressed clothes for that "smooth" look.

The Hiland
Shop

220 1/2 Allen St.

Dial 3171

**★
KEELERS
Cathaum Theatre Bldg

FOR YOUR TEXT BOOKS

USED & NEW

ALL COLLEGE COURSES

Artists Supplies — ★	Drawing Materials — ★	Rental Library — ★	College Supplies — ★
---------------------------------------	--	-------------------------------------	---------------------------------------

GET OUR PRICES BEFORE BUYING YOUR TEXTS