

Frosh Mass Meeting To Explain WSGA; Tufty Will Be Matrix Dinner Speaker

New Women Will Meet Senate

To explain WSGA, its regulations and organization, a compulsory meeting will be held for first semester freshman coeds in 121 Sparks at 6:30 p. m. tonight, Dorothy K. Brunner '43, acting WSGA president, announced last night.

Senate members will be introduced with supplementary remarks about Penn State coed government by Miss Brunner.

Marjorie L. Sykes '43, WSGA Judicial chairman, will outline and emphasize freshman hours and customs.

FROSH NOMINATIONS

Nominations for the second freshman senator will be held at a later mass meeting to be held in 121 Sparks at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, September 22, according to Miss Brunner.

Elections for the officer who automatically takes a seat on WSGA Senate, will follow on Tuesday, September 29, it was announced.

PAJAMA PARTY

First semester freshmen will be entertained at a pajama party by WSGA and Cwens, national sophomore women's honorary, from 9:30 to 10 p. m. Saturday, Miss Brunner announced.

Town coeds, cooperative students and town dorn people are expected to attend the parties which are scheduled for lounges in McAllister Hall, Women's Building, and Irvin Hall. Jordan Hall frosh will go to the latter. Freshman Council will aid in party plans.

NEXT POP-IN

Miss Brunner announced that first semester freshman coeds will call on upper-classwomen from 7 to 8:45 p. m. Sunday. It was specified that the hostesses stay in their own rooms and were not supposed to go to central sorority houses.

Distinguished Washington cor- respondent, noted lecturer, and sister of the Governor of Michi- gan, Mrs. Esther Van Wagoner Tufty will speak at the annual Matrix dinner for outstanding campus women, scheduled to take place in October. The announce- ment was made last night by Emily L. Funk 43, president of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary.

Mrs. Tufty, who attended Uni- versity of Wisconsin where she was elected to Theta Sigma Phi, has just returned from England where she lectured under the sponsorship of the British Min- istry of Information.

One of the few women who cover Congress and the President's press conferences, Mrs. Tufty turned her attention to its Brit- ish equivalent, while abroad, by covering Parliament.

Visiting rural and industrial centers in England, Mrs. Tufty was interested in comparing Brit- ish and American women in the home and in the factory. Because she is smother and homemaker as well as newspaper-woman, she was anxious to see the effects of war and rationing upon children across the seas.

The Michigan-born journalist heads her own news bureau in Washington, writes for Central Press Association, Newsweek magazine, Trans-radio Press Ser- vice, and a string of Michigan newspapers.—and likes to cook. She has been foreign correspon- dent in 14 countries, is honorary major of Traverse City Michigan, and is the first and only woman to serve on Henry Ford's ad- visory committee of the National Farm Youth Fundation.

Pelly Is First WAAC Enlistee

First drop in coed enrollment due to military service was felt last weekend when Mary Louise Pelly left school to join the Wom- en's Army Auxiliary Corps, as first Penn State undergraduate to vol- unteer.

Miss Pelly will be sworn in "for the duration" in Philadelphia this week and will be sent to Des Moines, Iowa where she will take a three month's training course for rank of second lieutenant.

A junior pre-med student, Miss Pelly transferred to Penn State in May from Dickinson College, Carlisle. She was a graduate of Fairfax Hall Junior College in Virginia, and comes from Bethle- hem.

While in the service, Miss Pelly will serve as a medical laboratory technician.

Transfers To Meet In Sparks Tonight

Woman leaders of campus or- ganizations will be introduced to transfer women at a compulsory mass meeting in 316 Sparks Build- ing at 7 p. m. tonight. WSGA Junior Service Board is directing transfer orientation.

Dorothy Boring, WSGA senior senator, will serve as mistress of ceremonies, Mary Jo Powell, Board chairman, announced.

Women's student government setup will be explained by Dorothy K. Brunner '44, acting WSGA president. Marjorie L. Sykes '43, WSGA Judicial Committee chair- man, will explain women's rules and regulations.

Margaret K. Ramaley '44, act- ing WRA president, Grace L. Judge, and Adele J. Levin will discuss WRA and its Activity clubs. Panel rushing rules will be clarified by Pauline E. Keller '43. Panel president. Independent Women's Association will be ex- plained by Hazel E. Gassmann '43, IWA head.

Coeds Train For Hockey

Interclass hockey practice is be- ing held for two weeks on Holmes Field at 4 p. m. daily, announced F. Doris Stevenson '44, WRA publicity chairman.

Members of all classes intereste^d in playing hockey should report at this time. Every coed must have five practices to qualify for competition, Miss Stevenson said. Interclass games will start im- mediately following the practice period.

New women students are re- minded by Adele J. Yevin '44, WRA activities chairman, that all WRA clubs are now open for membership. Clubs and meeting times will be listed daily under Collegian's calendar notices.

WRA Clubs include archery, badminton, bowling, bridge, dance, fencing, golf, outing, rifle, swim- ming, and tennis.

Clubs meeting today are Arch- ery Club, field in front of White Hall, 6:30 p. m.; Bowling Club, White Hall bowling alleys, 6:30 p. m.; Tennis Club, College courts, 4 p. m.

Miss Phyllis Sprague, chair- man of the Institution Administration Division in Home Economics, is conducting a four-day school lunch conference sponsored by the Public Service Institution in Springfield High School, Dela- ware County. First meeting is to- day and continues through the week.
