LONDON — The French armies in Madagascar have thrown down their guns and asked Britain for an armistice, according to the London radio. The British have not yet issued an answer.

ILLINOIS — A New York Central passenger train crashed into a string of rolling cars yesterday killing four railroad employees. The railroad company stated that the accident was due to the faulty operation of an automatic switch.

WASHINGTON — Price Administrator Henderson stated that there would be cold homes in the thirty eastern and central states where the rationing of fuel oil would go into effect. He advised all home owners to convert to coal and improve the efficiency of their heating systems.

Greeks Will Get 'Pop-In' Penalties

Removal of a one o'clock permission will be the penalty inflicted by WSGA Judicial Committee for sorority women living in dormitories found in sorority houses during WSGA-sponsored "pop-in" night from 7 to 8:45 p. m. Sunday, it was decided at a meeting of WSGA Senate last night.

Returning the pop-in night staged last Sunday by upperclasswomen, freshman and transfer coeds will visit dormitories and sorority houses in order that new coeds may further get acquainted with upperclass women.

It was suggested by Pauline E. Keller '43, Panhellenic Council president, that sorority women living in town remain in the sorority house or stay with dormitory coeds during pop-in.

To replace Ruth L. Kiesling '43 during her eight-week practice teaching period, M. Pauline Rugh '43 was elected as temporary senior Judicial member by Senate members.

H. Anne Carruthers '44, town senator, announced that new coeds who have no active Big Sisters should contact their Senior Sponsors or report to the dean of women's office for reassignment.

Watts Hall transfers will elect officers at a house meeting to-night and representatives will be sent to WSGA House of Representatives. It was also approved by Senate from a suggestion made by Dorothy M. Boring '44, junior senator, that co-ops have a rep-

Savings For Servicemen

Daily Collegian subscription rates for service men have been reduced to $1.25, mailing costs being handled by the newspaper, it was announced yesterday. Another price reduction was in the club plan for fraternities and organizations, from $8.75 to $7.75 for five subscriptions.

Teddy Powell's Band Signed To Play Interfraternity Ball, October 2; Dubbed Year's Surprise Orchestra

IF Maestro

Teddy Powell, whose band has been called the surprise band of the year, will be the maestro for Interfraternity Ball in Rec Hall, Friday, October 2. Powell was signed yesterday by Robert H. B. J. Jordan '43 and David Sharp '43, co-chairmen for the affair. Featured with the band is Peggy Mann and a six-man orchestra within an orchestra.

Final Pledge Total Hits 559 Mark

Pledging totals fell slightly short of last Fall's all-time high when tabulations after last lists were turned in yesterday showed that 559 men had pledged. The silent period following formal rushing began at 5 p. m. and will last until September 26.

During this silent period no pledging may be done. Because of the two different times of entry of the freshman class, this total appears large and with the Summer rushing season total, far surpasses last Fall's total.

In tie for first place for high pledging totals were Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Kappa Phi with 21 each. Addition of six names brought the latter's total to a par with the earlier leader yesterday.

Remaining in second place with 20 new pledges was Pi Lambda Phi followed by Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Epsilon Pi with 19 each. Fourth was Alpha Sigma Phi with 18.

Additional pledges turned in yesterday follow.

Alpha Chi Rho: Karl Erdman.
Alpha Sigma Phi: Donald Perry, William Gordon, Paul Phillips.

Delta Upsilon: John Wagner.
Kappa Sigma: William Biehl, John Heathcote, Richard Neavling.

Phi Gamma Delta: Joseph Succop, Earl Seel.

Phi Sigma Kappa: David Davies.

Theta Kappa Phi: Robert Glass, John O'Neil, James Lovuola, John Livingston, Lawrence Calby, James Barrett.

Triangular: Richard Stauble, Dale Packer.

Spivak, Krupa Dropped When Arrangements Fail

Teddy Powell and his orchestra, heralded by New York critics as one of the "surprise bands of the year," will play for Interfraternity Ball October 2, it was announced last night by Robert H. B. J. Jordan '43 and David R. Sharp '43, co-chairmen of the dance committee.

Selection and signing of Powell was finally agreed upon early yesterday after an exchange of telegrams between the committee and Harry Moss, New York dance orchestra representative.

Earlier negotiations for either Charlie Spivak or Gene Krupa were dropped when it was learned that neither of the two bands could possibly arrange to be in State College for the October 2 date.

Powell, who got his start in the dance orchestra circuit as a member of Abe Lyman's famous band of the early '30's, brings to State College an orchestra of fourteen men and two vocalists. Featured in the band is 21 year old vocalist Peggy Mann, whose voice has been heard from coast-to-coast over the Columbia, National Broadcasting and Mutual Networks during the past year.

Powell will also present at IF Ball a six piece "band-within-a-band" group, known as the "Six Teddy Bears," which features the chamber music variety of popular rhythms.

Among the hits which Powell has made for Victor-Bluebird records are "The Snake Charmer," "Love of My Life," "Heaven Help This Heart of Mine," and "Jim."

Cows Give Most Milk In 52 Years

Importance of the male element at Penn State is brought to light with the announcement that use of better bulls has helped the herd of 132 cows here attain an average milk production of 11,290 pounds of milk per cow per year, and 467 pounds of fat for the same period.

This is more than twice the average production of dairy cows for the state, and is the highest in the 52 years during which records of the herd have been kept. Figures are based on the year ending July 1, according to Prof. A. A. Borland, head of the dairy husbandry department.

Better management, freedom from disease, and removal of poor stock were other reasons for the rise in production. Two hours daily pasture in Summer was the only change in ration over previous years. Average return last year above feed cost was $277.03 per cow.

Eight Freshmen Wear Penalties

In its effort to make a better freshman class, Student Tribunal last night started its "clamp down" campaign on the new freshmen by penalizing eight custom violators, Charles H. Ride-nour '43, chairman, stated after the seven man board's four hour session of hearings.

The men's judicial body also granted nine custom exemptions to transfer students and men of the freshman class over 21. The exempted men are David I. Rees, Alexander W. Spear, Jerome Barondess, Robert D. Maxwell, Malcolm H. Steel, Rodney K. Young, Floyd M. Summers, Albert Bogart, and William A. Hyde.

The first member of the class of "forty-blank" to appear before Tribunal was Joseph Succop. Charged with failure to tip his dipk to the "Willow Tree," Succop will kneel before the tree and touch his forehead to the ground three times whenever he passes it.

For his negligence in not wearing white socks, James Leiby will wear two signs, a large black bow tie and a tam. William Evans, guilty of the same charge is to wear a large box over his head as his penalty.

James Shea, Robert Couttes, Art Portnor, Harold Meyers and Richard Guccini also received punishments as a result of their laxness in observing custom regulations Ridenour stated.

WSGA Senate Decides IF Weekend Coed Hours

Coed hours for IF Ball set last night by WSGA Senate will include a three o'clock Friday, October 2 and one o'clock Saturday, October 3.

During the three-week no dating period for freshman women, service men visiting from out of town will be the only exceptions for late permissions. Freshmen wishing permissions must contact Marjorie L. Sykes '43, WSGA Judicial chairman, and must forfeit one one o'clock within the month.

Freshmen attending church functions tomorrow night may stay out until 10 o'clock but may not have dates, Senate decided.

Galbraith Outlines Procedure For Enlistment In AER

"Students contemplating enlistment in the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps should make application without delay," warned Prof. Robert E. Galbraith, faculty advisor for war services, yesterday.

"Enlistment quotas in the Army Reserve are scheduled to close in December," Galbraith added, "but in view of the rapid changes being made in Army regulations, may be terminated earlier."

Galbraith asked students to keep in mind the fact that the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps, except for direct enlistments in the Air Corps, Navy V-5 and V-7, is the sole enlistment agency for the reserve officer branches of the service at Penn State.

Freshmen and sophomores who intend to enlist in the Navy V-5 or V-7 programs should enter the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps, from which they will be discharged upon application at the end of their sophomore year for subsequent transfer to the Navy V-5 or V-7, or any other specialized branch outside the Army Enlisted Reserve.

For the guidance of freshmen and sophomores who have already decided upon enlistment in the Army Enlisted Reserve, but who need additional information on enlistment procedure, Galbraith released the following instructions:

1. Freshmen who are eligible and wish to enlist under the deferred service plan should obtain application forms from the deans of their respective schools. Informative pamphlets describing the services and explaining qualification requirements of the Reserve Corps can also be obtained from the deans.

2. After deciding what branch to enter, the student should fill out the application and present it, plus written parental consent if under 21, to his dean. If he wishes to discuss qualifications and requirements he should consult the Faculty Advisor on War Service.

3. Students who wish to enter the Reserve Corps, for future assignment to either the Air Forces, the Signal Corps, or Advanced ROTC, should fill out the white applications which their deans will supply. Those desiring enlistment in the Navy V-1 for future

Student Fined $25 For Shooting In Boro

At a hearing at the boro offices yesterday morning, a student was fined by Burgess Yogel for shooting an air rifle within the boro limits.

An investigation Monday revealed that this student had been "shooting target" from his apartment window on S. Allen street. He struck a man and broke a display window in front of the Electrical Supply Store. The student was fined $25 and costs.

Elections Group Meets

All-College Elections Committee will meet in Old Main first floor lounge for an important session at 8 o'clock tonight, according to an announcement last night by Donald W. Davis '43, chairman.
