

Lions, Dukes Scrimmage Today; AA Board To Rule On Freshmen

Practice Game Kick-off Scheduled For 2 P. M.

This afternoon for the fourth time in a little over a year the Nittany Lion football squad will take on the Duquesne Dukes in an inter-squad practice scrimmage. The tussle, scheduled for 2 p. m. on New Beaver Field, will give the two squads a chance to break a tie score phobia.

The meeting of the Athletic Advisory Board to decide on freshman eligibility will be this afternoon. Indications at present point to a repeal of the rule that State adopted in 1917, and six of Penn State's eight opponents have repudiated this year.

Last Spring the Lions met the Dukes in two practice encounters. Both games ended in 12-12 ties. During 1941 Spring practice, the Dukes came to State for the first time, and left with their first tie, 18-18.

Duquesne will field a question mark team much like the Lions. Coach Buff Donelli lost 16 lettermen by graduation, and a half dozen by way of the draft. On hand, however, for the bluffsites will be Forrest Hall, 147 pound cat back, who is rated as a second Albie Booth and a potential All-American.

Hall will probably not start in the game, as Donelli usually uses the diminutive star as a "spot" player. On hand also in the backfield will be Kielbasa, hard driving line plunger.

Three men stand out as potential greats on the Duquesne line, tackles Matisi and Cibulas and speedy Keller, who captains the bluffsites from his guard position.

With five 1941 regulars back, plus the bulk of a great 1941 frosh team, Donelli will attempt to continue this year the fine record of 25 victories in 26 games that the Dukes have established during the past three seasons.

Against the Dukes, Coach Bob Higgins will probably pit Van Lenten and Davis or Walters at ends; Kerns and Schoonover at tackles; Jaffurs and Perugini at guards, and Palazzi at center; in the backfield the probable starters are, Cenci, St. Clair, Banbury, and Brown.

Bud Davis, candidate for the tailback position, returned to school yesterday after draft board dealings. Davis appeared in uniform for practice and it is believed that he will be able to see the season through. Bad news via injury department of Dr. Griess and Trainer Jack Hulme shows that two freshman gridders, Knepp and Oldsey, are in the infirmary with twisted knees.

Another Lion yearling left school yesterday. Whitey LaFlame, rangy tailback from Pittsburgh, withdrew under pressure from his draft board. Sam Carpenter, hard plunging frosh fullback from Johnstown, withdrew from school. Marty MacAndrews indicated that the coaches "didn't know what made Carpenter quit."

Bath Tub Melodies Create Sensation; Leyden '42 Organizes Cadet Glee Club

Naval aviation cadets at the Chapel Hill, N. C., Pre-Flight school now have a glee club, and all because a former Penn State student, James A. Leyden '42, was overheard singing in the bath tub.

After a workout at rough and tumble wrestling one afternoon in August, Jimmy, a former Glee club singer at the College, began humming a tune and putting in the words.

In almost no-time he was surrounded by other Penn State Glee Club alumni who joined in working out the harmonies and teaching it to fellow singers in the steaming locker room.

Leyden, who feels that a long song will take you more than a quarter of a mile on a hike, has added another verse to "Flyin' High" which began to rival the song "Sky Anchors" for popularity among the cadets.

Although the Pre-Flight school doesn't have a music fund, they haven't been bothered about buying musical arrangements for the radio programs they give.

Wonder-boy Leyden arranges and writes the music for these recitals entirely from memory.

The 60 Glee club men have won the admiration of school officials for voluntarily giving up their time every evening after dinner to practice.

Reports from Leyden's Penn State cronies at the aviation school indicate that Jimmy, too, has won the admiration of the whole outfit.

Jimmy, who vowed that he seldom went to bed before dawn while at State, now rises at 5:30 a. m., tears through a full program of studies and physical exercise that continues until supper time. Then he's back in bed by 9:30 p. m.

The Glee club finds plenty of time to practice when they are cut on hikes . . . twice a week they take sixteen mile marches.

Music is a family affair with the Leydens. James, Sr., a former member of Penn State's Glee club, is a past president of the New York University Glee club.

Leyden and nine or ten others of the singers are to be sent to the Naval Reserve Aviation base at Dallas, Texas where they will probably form the nucleus of a new glee club there.

Soccer Sessions Minus Injuries

Not to jinx the soccer team but records of their Summer and Fall practices so far indicate that Coach Bill Jeffries' boys are probably the most injuryless athletic team on campus.

In all of these four months of daily rehearsals, not one serious injury has befallen a member of the squad. Of course there have been minor injuries; the most recent being Wednesday night when veteran goalie Johnny Struck suffered a leg injury. It was not enough to keep him from tending goal at the Thursday scrimmage.

With more freshman candidates reporting daily, Coach Bill now has enough players on the field to conduct two scrimmages with different teams picked daily. "The Amiable Scot" is always right in the midst of one of the practice encounters usually playing at one of the fullback positions.

A team promotion idea of Coach Jeffries, 10,000 match books were recently printed. The 1942 schedule with a caption "Nine Seasons Without Defeat," is featured on the cover. Also listed are Coach Jeffries, Captain Hap Freeman, and Manager Eddy Leitzinger.

X-Country Squads Stress Conditioning

Light workouts still are in order for the Nittany cross-country hopefuls as 15 varsity aspirants completed their first week of training under the direction of Coach Chick Werner.

With the stress on conditioning and not speed, the harriers took to the New Beaver Field course the last two days for long jaunts over the golf course. Freshmen candidates accompanied the varsity members last evening.

Although it is too early in the season to predict who will make up the 1942 seven, the three returning lettermen will have a definite edge of experience. Captain Norm Gordon, Curt Stone, and Mac Smith were on last year's team that won the Eastern Intercollegiate Cross-Country title and captured runner-up spot in the National Collegiate meet.

Another probable starter will be Jerry Karver, last year's freshmen intercollegiate harrier champ and undefeated in collegiate competition.

Not to be overlooked are Joe Beach, State College High School product, Johnnie McCall, Rufus Williams, Warren Stuebing, Ernest Beutner, and Horne, a transfer from Mont Alto, who are all sophomores with cross-country experience.

Archie Hyson, a member of last year's squad will have a good chance of breaking into the opening lineup when the varsity hill-and-dalers open the season against Manhattan October 17 on the Van Cortlandt Park course in New York City.

Ewell Still Races, Takes Triple Win In Camp Lee Meet

Penn State Flash Takes 100, 220, Broad Jump

Perhaps Barney Ewell is getting in shape to emulate that classic colored infantryman who "don't want no hoss holding me back when they blows retreat" for the ex-Penn State flash seems to be running as fast and as successfully as ever.

A recent edition of The Camp Lee Traveller, newspaper devoted to the doings of the army personnel of Camp Lee, Virginia, headlines the victories of Barney and his 9th Regiment in the first camp-wide track meet held at the Virginia army post. Camp Lee is one of the largest posts in the country, its strength being estimated at 25,000 last December.

Private Barney Ewell, 9th Regiment, scored a triple in taking the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the broad jump, a feat he achieved many times in his college career and for three successive years in the IC-4A's, a record unmatched in collegiate competition.

Barney's times were very creditable with no one capable of pushing him. He took the 100 in 10 seconds, sprinted the 220 in 23.2 and leaped 19 feet 11½ inches for a win in the running broad jump.

The Traveller predicts, however, that Penn State's great track star can look forward to plenty of competition in an approaching meet in Baltimore.

Reservists To Report

All students who have enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve at the college are asked to report that fact to Prof. Robert E. Galbraith, Faculty Advisor on War Service, in 243 Sparks at their earliest opportunity.

Freshman Coeds To Hear Study Methods Lecture

Lectures on "How To Study" will be presented by faculty members to freshman coeds as a part of their orientation program from 6:30 to 7 p. m. Monday, according to Miss Ruth H. Zang, assistant to the dean of women in charge of freshmen.

Meeting with McAllister Hall and Women's Building freshmen, Clarence O. Williams, associate professor of education, will talk in McAllister Hall lobby, and Ernest W. Callenbach, professor of poultry husbandry, will speak to Irvin and Jordan Hall coeds in 121 Sparks. Town freshmen and those living in town dormitories will hear Bruce V. Moore, head of the department of education and psychology, in 110 Home Economics.

WRA Starts Series Of Open Houses

White Hall will be open to all women students tonight in the first of a series of Open House programs scheduled each Saturday.

Badminton, ping pong, bowling, bridge, and swimming will be available, Miss Mildred A. Lucey, instructor in physical education, and Margaret K. Ramaley '44, acting WRA president in charge of the Open House, announced.

WRA Archery Club members will act as hostesses and serve refreshments from 7 to 10 o'clock.

WRA club presidents' board will meet in WRA room, White Hall at 7:00 p. m. Monday.

An intramural board meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.
