Debate Tryouts Begin Tonight

"We hope to have a large turnout of freshmen and upperclassmen for the debate tryouts tonight, but quality rather than quantity will be looked for," was the statement issued by Robert S. MacNabb '45, manager of men's varsity debate last night.

The tryouts tonight will be preliminary to the real competition which will be held next week in 316 Sparks at 7 p. m. September 29. At tonight's session which will also be held in 316 Sparks starting at 7 o'clock, the topic will be announced for which the candidates will prepare five minute speeches to be presented at the tryouts proper.

Even though a number of varsity debaters have been kept on the forensic squad as the result of their activity and attendance during the Summer semester, a few positions are still open for students talented and interested in the extra-curricular activity. Prof. Joseph F. O'Brien, men's debate coach, said.

Candidates Report

First and second semester freshman and sophomore candidates for editorial and business staffs of The Daily Collegian should report to the News Room at 4 p. m. today, it was announced last night. Sophomores are asked to refer to their scheduled times at the office.

AP Correspondent Worries About Getting News As Bombs Drop Near

By M. J. WINTER

With bombs dropping two blocks away, the biggest worry of Max Harrelson, Associated Press foreign correspondent, was finding out what was going on and then getting the news out of Europe.

For three years a roving correspondent in 14 European countries, Mr. Harrelson has been in the United States for two months and lectured to a journalism class yesterday.

The foreign correspondent covered the first Winter of the Russian-Finnish war, was on the spot when Holland was invaded, and was present when Italy invaded

Greece and Yugoslavia was occupied.

Before the occupation of Holland, Mr. Harrelson was almost shot by three Dutch marines. The Dutch were out to get fifth columnists. He heard a shot in the street, looked out the window, and found three gun barrels pointed at him.

After the German occupation of Yugoslavia, Mr. Harrelson was arrested as a British secret agent, but proving his identity, he was released after three hours.

"The three German officers who questioned me were courteous and

Tyson Takes Lead In Players' First Fall Production

Raymond W. Tyson, instructor in public speaking, and former Penn State Player, will take the lead in the Players' next production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," Frank S. Neusbaum, assistant professor of dramatics and director, announced last night.

Mr. Tyson will portray the character of Sheridan Whiteside, the Alexander Woolcott of the satire to be produced Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24.

Other principals of the cast include Josephine Nash, graduate student, as Maggie, Whiteside's secretary; Freshman Barrel Bernie as Lorraine Sheldon, glamorous she-wolf of the production; Stanley E. Shaw '45 as Dr. Bradley.

Charles Good '45 as Bert Jefferson; Veteran Players William F. Emmons '44, and Robert H. Herrman '44 as Banjo and Beverly, respectively; Freshman Edmond Van Duesen as Mr. Stanley; Robert R. Leibacher '44 as Dr. Metz; newcomer to the stage James A. McKechnie '45 as Richard Stanley; and Sophomore Transfer Dorothy Faverty as June, his sister.

Marion C. Dougherty '44 as Miss Preen; Veteran Eleanor M. Freedman '44 as Sarah; Lillian Brandt '43 as Harriet; and remembered for her performance in "The Little Foxes," Janet Dayton '45 as Mrs. Stanley.

Senate Rules On Women's Hours; Proposes Cabinet Recommendations

After discussion of All-College Cabinet's recommendation to curtail coed hours, WSGA Senate voted yesterday to leave women's hours unchanged. Second-semester freshmen will continue to have upperclass 10 o'clock week-day permissions, and second semester seniors may stay out until 11 p. m.

A recommendation will be made to All-College Cabinet to schedule future dances from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., enabling coeds to return to dormitories by 2 a. m.

Summarizing the action taken by Senate, Marjorie L. Sykes '43, WSGA Judicial chairman, said, "Senate is behind the idea of physical fitness recommended by All-College Cabinet. We believe activities should be curtailed and dances should begin and end earlier. However, Senate feels"

AA Board Suspends Frosh Rules; Announces Pitt 'Doubleheader'

All Students to Pay Fees In Armory On Sept. 24, 25

Fall semester fees will be payable in the Armory Thursday and Friday, it was announced by Bursar Russell E. Clark. All students, including first semester freshmen, will pay fees these two days.

Hours have been set from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. both days.

A new system will be inaugurated whereby windows will be arranged to correspond with the numerical order of student matriculation cards. This system will greatly facilitate the work of the clerks to whom fees are paid.

Athletic Association booklets will be distributed when fees are paid.

Higgins Shows Football Movies To CA Council

Football movies of the 1941 Pitt game will be shown to PSCA Freshman Council in 304 Old Main at 8 o'clock tonight by Head Coach Robert A. Higgins, Ralph W. Harrie '45, chairman of the PSCA frosh orientation committee, announced last night.

Harris extended the invitation to all freshman men who have been unable to attend previous Council meetings.

Blue Band Drills For Bucknell Fray

"Good freshman material has brought about many changes in the personnel of the Blue Band marching unit," Prof. Hummel Fishburn, acting head of the music department, announced after completion of tryouts last week.

The band has already held practice drills in preparation for the Bucknell football game which will mark the first official performance of the season. Although the Blue Band was organized all Summer, many additions and changes have been made.

Double Dose

Charney Bowser, Pitt football coach, will have to pit his forces against Bob Higgins' Lions twice during the forthcoming season.

Panther Tilts Fall Nov. 21, 28

As a result of action taken by the Athletic Advisory Board at their Saturday meeting, Penn State's Nittany Lion football team today faces a nine game gridiron schedule—with whatever help that may be forthcoming from its now eligible freshmen candidates.

The athletic control board made their long-awaited decision on the freshman rule, and by a vote of 7 to 4 suspended for the duration of the war the one-year-in-residence rule for all freshman athletic candidates. At the same time the group, composed of members of the administration, faculty, alumni, and student body, announced that Penn State's gridders will meet the University of Pittsburgh in a "doubleheader" this Fall.

The Lions will meet the Pitt Panthers on New Beaver Field November 21, as originally scheduled, and on the following Saturday, November 28, the two teams will fight it out in the Pitt Stadium in Pittsburgh.

All receipts for the second game will go for Army Emergency Relief. The doubleheader resulted from a proposal by Jimmy Hagan, Pitt athletic director; to Neil Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, when it was learned in the "Smoky City" that Penn State students would not tolerate a switch in scene of the first game.

The extra game with proceeds going to Army Relief is in keeping with the Army's request that colleges set aside one game during the 1942 season for that fund.

A month ago both the Lions and Pitt were scheduled to meet service teams on the November 28 date. Recently, however, both service outfits—Camp Lee, which the Lions were to meet, and Camp Keesler, Pitt's scheduled opponents—dropped competition with collegiate elevens.

Student Opera Ticket Sale Set For Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday has been set as the opening date for sale of tickets for opening performance of the 1942-43 Artists' Course series, the Charles L. Wagner opera "La Boheme," according to Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, committee chairman.

Student sales will open the ticket campaign on Tuesday and Wednesday has been set for the faculty members and others. Seats will be sold at the A. A. ticket windows in Old Main. No more than six seats will be sold to any applicant.

Prices have been established at $2.25, $1.75, and $1.25 plus 10 per cent tax. Tickets for the initial performance will be sold separately from those for the rest of the course, arrangements for which have not been announced.

As in other years, the auditorium will again be divided into alternate rows, half for students, the other half for members of the faculty, townspeople, and others.

All Students May Vie In Dairy Show

Men and women students in all classes and in all schools will be eligible to compete in the Dairy Show to be sponsored by the Dairy Science Club, in the Ag Hill Stock Judging Pavilions on October 30, Howard J. Merrill '43, Ag Council president and manager of the show, announced yesterday.

Drawings for animals to be fitted for the show will be held in 117 Dairy Building at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Merrill stated. Coeds can be successful as men at this feat, according to Merrill. Grand champion two years ago was Shirley M. Hint '42, home economics major.

As part of the program for the show, a coed milking contest will be held, in which all coeds are eligible to participate. Those interested may contact Merrill at the Alpha Zeta house.

Late News

MOSCOW—German tanks and infantry continue to meet their stiffest resistance as the fight for Stalingrad rages. German tanks move over their own dead while shells are pumped into the flaming city. Women and children have been evacuated and every able-bodied man is under arms.

MOSCOW—Russians charge that in the final stand for Stalingrad, the sincerity of the United Nations is at stake. Russian officials regard suspiciously the stand of Washington and London. Wendell Willkie, due to arrive in Chungking, is reported to favor a second front if at all possible.

LONDON—Major Gen. Ira Eaker, Chief of Army Bomber Command in Europe, stated last night that England will soon have enough airdromes to enable the Allies to reach all parts of Germany.
