

Greek Women End Week Of Free Contact Today

Sororities To Hold 2 Informal Open Houses

Greek women will be on silent terms with transfer and freshman women beginning at 6 o'clock tonight, as a week of free association ends. Restricted silent period which begins tonight will end at 9 a. m. Monday, October 5, the beginning of formal rushing.

A second open house to be held during the present rushing season will be held from 4 to 5:30 p. m. Thursday, Pauline E. Keller '43, Panhellenic Council president, announced. Final open house will be held Wednesday, September 30.

According to the Panhel rushing code there will be an hour of free association from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. on Mondays through Thursdays during restricted silent period.

Any unavoidable association, such as being in the same class with a freshman or transfer, or speaking when passing on the street, will be permitted, but there will be no rushing.

No personal invitations will be issued to open houses, but all freshmen and transfers are urged to attend as many open houses as possible, in order to become better acquainted with the women in each house, Miss Keller stated. According to the code, there is no limit to the length of visits during open houses.

Advises Rushees

Pauline E. Keller '43, Panhellenic Council president, urges all freshman and transfer women to visit as many sorority houses and suites as possible when the Greeks hold open houses from 4 to 5:30 p. m. on Thursday.

Frosh To Nominate 2nd WSGA Senator At Meeting Tonight

Nominations for a second WSGA freshman senator will take place at a compulsory meeting for all first semester freshman women in 121 Sparks at 6:30 tonight, Patricia Diener '45, WSGA sophomore senator, announced.

Elections will be held at a second compulsory meeting in 121 Sparks at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, September 29.

The elected senator will represent her class on WSGA Senate. A first freshman senator, Helen J. Martin '46, was elected by Summer semester freshman women.

Dormitory hostesses will make a room-to-room check-up to insure attendance, Miss Diener stated.

News, Not Bombing, Worries AP Reporter

When he was released by the military authorities, the correspondent was seized by local police and placed in semi-internment for three weeks. Free to move about by day, he was continually followed by a detective.

Even non-combatant European countries are on a more fully mobilized basis than the United States, according to the correspondent. "The big mistake in this country is that many officials and newspaper men are too optimistic and lead the people to believe that the United States can win the war without fighting," he said.

Women's Hours

"Senior women should be capable of deciding when they should be in. Freshmen this Summer went through strict customs, and they should not be confined to their rooms at 9 p. m. for the semester. They deserve 10 o'clock permissions."

Kick-Off Dinner Will Start PSCA Campaign

Chairmen for the PSCA's Finance Campaign, which gets under way with the annual kick-off dinner Sunday evening, October 25, are Gerald B. Maxwell Stein '44 and Miriam L. Zartman '45, according to Palmer M. Sharpless '44, acting PSCA president.

Funk Announces October 26 As Date For Theta Sigma Phi Matrix Dinner

Matrix Dinner, annual Theta Sigma Phi-sponsored banquet to honor prominent campus women, has been set for Nittany Lion Inn, 6:30 p. m. Monday, October 26, Emily L. Funk '43, president of the journalism honorary, revealed last night.

A long-established tradition on campus, the dinner is modeled after the annual gridiron banquet given in Washington by newspaper men. A burlesque-type skit panning outstanding campus personalities is one of the entertainment features.

Mrs. Esther Van Wagoner Tufty, distinguished American journalist, will be this year's Matrix speaker. A veteran reporter of Washington news, Mrs. Tufty has just returned from a trip to Great Britain, where she covered Parliamentary happenings.

The Michigan-born journalist, a noted lecturer as well as a writer, made five broadcasts for the British Broadcasting Corporation before leaving for the United States.

Topics were: "Bombers on the Line," "Michigan Is Like This," "What America Is Thinking," "A Portrait of Mrs. Roosevelt," and "American Women at War."

Speaker at last year's Matrix Dinner was Laura Lou Brookman, associate editor of Ladies' Home Journal. Taken from a series of Journal articles edited by Miss Brookman, her topic was "How America Lives."

Invitations will be issued to women who have been active in campus activities and to faculty guests, Miss Funk stated.

Frosh Cagers Called
