

Reserves Show Surprising Power In Scrimmage

O'Karma, Skuta Lead Second-Stringers

A determined group of reserves made things tough for a skeleton varsity outfit in last night's abbreviated football scrimmage on New Beaver Field.

Led by "Skooter" Skuta and Hank O'Karma in backfield positions, the reserves pushed across one touchdown and threatened at three other times.

The varsity, without regulars Banbury, Davis, and Palazzi, just couldn't seem to be able to cope with the pair of backfield reserves who got plenty of assistance from Nobile, Suhey, Moore, and gang on the second string line.

Skuta and O'Karma ripped off sizable gains through the varsity line, and at one point, Skuta broke away for a 60 yard touchdown dash—running through the entire "white" team in doing so.

To make matters worse, two diminutive backs, Wee Willie Mazocco and O'Karma, kept the first string backs in a turmoil with their vicious tackling. At one period in the scrimmage, O'Karma, coming up from his safety position, made eight out of nine consecutive tackles.

For the varsity, St. Clair, on reverses, provided most of the ground gaining. McFarland, playing at the fullback position in the absence of Banbury, was also a consistent ground gainer.

With all of their opponents except Lehigh playing initial games the Lions will take it easy today. There will be no practice this afternoon, as the Lions rest for a week of hard work in preparation for the Bucknell fray next Saturday.

No little apprehension is felt by the coaches concerning the Bison tilt, for the Thundering Herd has always been a thorn in the side of the Higginsmen—especially when the Lions were heavily favored.

As Marty McAndrews', frosh coach, put it, "Bucknell has lost only moderately from the draft and graduation, and they always point to the State game; I hope our boys don't underrate them."

Dodger Flag Hopes Rest On Two Wins, Two Card Defeats

Nothing short of total victory for the Brooklyn Dodgers and complete collapse on the part of the St. Louis Cardinals can deprive the Red Birds of the National League pennant and the doubtful privilege of meeting the well-rested New York Yankees for the World Series crown.

Yesterday's 6-5, 11-inning win over the Boston Bees left the Bums two full games in back of the Cards with each team having two games remaining on their schedules. The Dodgers must win their two with the Phils, St. Louis must lose their two with the Cubs, to give Brooklyn only a tie in the season's standings. Any other result clinches the title for St. Louis.

Ag-Home Ec Students, Faculty To Hold Picnic

Husband calling, barnyard golf, and rolling pin throwing are among the activities which will take place in Hort Woods at 2 p. m. this afternoon at the annual Ag-Home Ec student-faculty picnic, which was started three years ago for the purpose of bettering student-faculty relations.

For those not interested in those activities, there will be softball games on the golf course between the professors and students. After tug-of-war and singing, a picnic supper will follow.

Co-chairmen of the picnic are Jack L. Kiernan '43 and Dorothy M. Boring '43.

In case of rain, the picnic will be cancelled, Howard J. Merrill '43, Ag Council president, stated.

Runners To Try New Turf

New candidates for the cross-country team will have their initial taste of foreign turf today. Coach Chick Werner will take the boys out to the Centre Hills Country Club in an effort to condition them to running up and down hills. Immediately before they start for the country club, a squad picture will be taken. Werner urges all members of the varsity and freshman squads, including managers, to report in front of Rec Hall at 1:30 today.

"Tomorrow's battles will be decided here today" is the motto of the American Rolling Mill Company of Middletown, O.

IM Football, Swimming Entries Due By Monday

Women In Sports

With today the last no-dating Saturday for frosh coeds, WRA's open house tonight will reveal White Hall's facilities for the second time this semester.

Badminton enthusiasts will be coached by Barbara Bradshaw, graduate assistant in physical education, sponsored by the host club. Pool, gym, playroom, ping pong, bridge, and bowling alleys will be open for use. Refreshments are the usual added attraction.

Fifty coeds have taken to sticks and hockey balls in preparation for the games to come. One last week remains in which they can finish up the required six practices.

Following a plea for professional leaders for the WRA activity clubs, the organization has secured Coach Bob Rutherford for golf and Miss Bradshaw for badminton. Other sports experts will be in the later programs.

A few things are in the sports air that might bring some powerful blows... an All-College play-night soon and the annual WRA dance, this year termed "Football Formal," scheduled for October 17.

Air Raid Shelters Must Be Known

(Continued from page one) orderly, calm fashion. Walter W. Trainer, head air raid warden, stated. For the Civilian Defense program to be a success requires the complete cooperation of the entire student body as well as the professional staff, he added.

According to George L. Donovan, Student Union head, and warden in charge of messengers, campus fraternities will cooperate with the program by supplying their entire pledge groups for service as messengers when the time comes.

Throughout the 15 campus posts the Air Raid Precaution cards are the only means of telling how to get to the nearest safe areas. Should any be missing or mutilated, information to that effect should be given to the post warden or Mr. Eberl in his office in Old Main.
