

Transportation Problems Have Little Effect On IF Guests

33 Fraternities To Be Host To 400

Despite such obstacles as gas, oil and tire shortages, more than 400 persons are guests of Penn State fraternities and sororities, according to information submitted to The Daily Collegian last night. Thirty-three groups reported guests for publication.

Most of the guests will be crowded into Greek houses, many will be quartered in rooming houses, and a few others will stay at town hotels. Dormitories will probably find room for others.

The fraternity guest list follows:

the Bucknell game Saturday and may not be removed until 5 p. m. Name cards and "Beat Bucknell" signs must be worn to the game, the Tribunal chairman decreed. Attendance at the game is compulsory.

All hat men are requested by Ridenour to attend the game Saturday afternoon to assist Tribunal members in keeping freshmen off the track and in the stands until after the singing of the Alma Mater.

Ridenour and Tribunal members D. Norman Lamond '43, Robert H. P. J. Jordan '43, George N. Rumsey '43, Robert L. Ma-whinney '43, Joseph Hodin '44, remind all freshman men that any violation of these rules will be considered a serious offense and all violators will be severely dealt with.

All freshman customs will be resumed Monday at 8 a. m. Ridenour stated.

SDT Is Newest Group Established On Campus

Sigma Delta Tau, national women's social fraternity, was first established at Cornell University in 1917. Penn State's chapter of SDT is the newest social group on campus, having been founded in May, 1942.

Emanon was the local organization of Sigma Delta Tau before last May. At present there are 17 active chapters and 18 alumnae clubs.

Fraternity Life And Tradition Plays Tremendous Part In Post-College Life

By MILTON DOLINGER
fraternity pledge. More short-lived than the former, pledges undergo a continuous round of "duties" and catering to the wishes of their future "fratres in collegio", climaxed by a week of intensive ignominities rightfully called "Hell Week."

Although frowned upon by many, Hell Week plays an important part in instilling in the pledge the tradition and good-will of the brotherhood he aspires to join. Especially is this true when he realizes that every member of the house has gone through the same thing during his own period of transition from a "greenie" to a "smoothie."

One has but to note the vast number of men in public life who belonged and still belong to college fraternities to understand the important role the fraternity plays in bringing to its members a sense of social consciousness and responsibility. The insistence of the fraternity in making its members go out for activities is considered one of the best broadening influences for post-college life.

Speaking of fraternities, not the least part of their tremendous success and influence lies in the traditions which envelop each fraternity and each local chapter. Perhaps among all institutions responsible for "college life" as it is known through the medium of literature and the movies, the fraternity takes the lead position. Not disparaging in the least independent organizations which, incidentally, approach the fraternity in the social field with their own local banding together, the atmosphere of a Greek brotherhood is at once colorful and distinctive.

With mystic and awe-inspiring ritual, the "rushee" is overwhelmed with the accumulated tradition of years of fraternity life when he first assumes the lowly garb of the pledge; this is welded into a definite sense of belonging when the neophyte becomes a "brother."

The life of the fullfledged frater, although by no means humdrum, cannot be compared to the life or rather the "hell" of a

Almost 500 Eligible For CD Certificates At Student Union

Shingles To Be Granted For Defense Training

Nearly 500 students who completed defense training courses last Spring may call at Student Union for their shingles now, according to George L. Donovan, Student Union manager.

Students whose certificates are now ready enrolled in the six-week courses given by the College during the 1941-42 second semester for training in branches of Civilian Defense work and the auxiliary forces.

Many of the students did not return to College for the Summer semester and are therefore urged to pick up their shingles as soon as possible, Donovan stated.

A partial list of students eligible for the shingles follows: the remainder will be published by the Daily Collegian in another issue.

Seven Fraternities To Sponsor Orchestra Dances Saturday Night

Other Houses Plan Vic Dances, Parties

Six fraternities, according to information given to The Daily Collegian, will sponsor dances Saturday night. Most other houses will have vic dances.

Alpha Zeta will hold a formal dance, closed except by invitation, from 9 p. m. until midnight. Clarence Staples' orchestra will furnish the music. "Ranch Dance" is the theme of Delta Chi's closed dance at which Sonny Roy and his orchestra will play.

Nittany Lions orchestra will entertain those invited to the Phi Epsilon Pi dance.

Phi Kappa will hold a closed pledge dance with Howard Gale and his orchestra furnishing the music, while Chi Phi will sponsor a closed formal dance.

A dinner dance from 5:30 to 7 p. m. will occupy the early part of the Phi Sigma Kappa's evening, and a closed dance to the music of the Campus Owls will be held from 9 p. m. until midnight. During the same hours, Vic Dimeo and his orchestra will play at a closed dance at Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

TKE Founded At Illini; Formerly Called 'Knights'

Tau Kappa Epsilon was founded in 1899 at Illinois Wesleyan as a local fraternity named "The Knights of Classic Lore." In 1909, it adopted the name of Tau Kappa Epsilon and became a national fraternity. There are now 49 active chapters throughout the country.
