

WRA Dance Group Ag Coeds Shun Milkmaid Jobs To Start Fitness Program Tonight

Rhythmic calisthenics, or exercising to music, for physical fitness will start tonight as a new project of the WRA Dance club concert group, according to an announcement made by Club President Marion E. Hora '43.

Exercises will be conducted in the White Hall Rhythm Room from 7 to 8 p. m. each night, Monday through Thursday, Miss Hora stated. Miss Jessie Cameron, club adviser and instructor, will direct.

Interested persons should come dressed in shorts or other sports clothes, it was pointed out. All women are invited, Miss Hora said, to take part in this program for physical benefit which will replace the annual production of the concert groups.

Grace L. Judge '44, WRA international chairman, announced last night that the second hockey game will be played on Holmes Field at 4 p. m. today between the senior-sophomore team and the junior squad.

Tickets are now on sale for WRA's "Football Formal," October 17, F. Doris Stevenson '44, WRA publicity chairman, stated last night. Persons appointed for salesmanship positions include Adele J. Levin '44, committee chairman; Frances Angle '44, Odette M. Scrivanich '43, H. Joyce Strope '44, Janet Dinsmore '45, Julia Gilbert '46.

Last tennis match in WRA's All-College tennis tournament showed Marty Haverstick defeating Betty Cresswell, 6-1, 6-1.

Phyllis R. Watkins '44, Margaret K. Ramaley '44, Julia H. McFarland '45, H. Elizabeth Furst '45, Betty Pike '46, and Ruth Bollinger '46. Tickets will be sold at Student Union also, it was announced. They will sell for $1.10.

Gamma Phi Beta pledged Louise Ann Ritter '46 Saturday night.

Alpha Xi Delta initiated Mary Lou Coyne '43 and Helen Jeanne Sterling '43 Sunday morning.

Future of the milkmaid's vocation has been given up as a bad job by Penn State coeds who would rather become hospital technicians than tend the cows, according to percentage figures released by the Ag School.

About one out of every ten students in the School of Agriculture is a girl, or 85 of the 924 students enrolled in the school. Most coeds who have classes on the Hill are freshmen or sophomores. Senior women number 11, juniors, 15; sophomores, 31, and freshmen, 28.

Medical technology, in the department of bacteriology is the most popular curriculum with the coeds, 41 of the mtaking training to become technicians in hospitals and medical laboratories.

Bacteriology has attracted the next largest number, 17, while agricultural and biological chemistry ranks a close third with 15 girls enrolled.

Other curricula and number of women enrolled, are horticulture, 4; animal husbandry, botany, zoology, and entomology, 2 each; pre-veterinary, dairy husbandry, 1.

Civil Service Issues Request For Women As Meteorologists

Women are now needed in meteorological work, according to a dispatch received from the Civil Service Commission by Hans H. Neuberger, head of the department of geophysics. Applications for positions as junior observers in meteorology are now available at the town post office.

Starting off as an apprentice at an eastern airport, an applicant must have a high school education and preferably a knowledge of high school mathematics and physics, according to Dr. Neuberger.

The position of junior observer is to draw weather maps and give reports to pilots from air field observation posts. With a salary of $1440 starting at the time of apprenticeship, women may work up to senior observer, and if college credits in meteorology are taken in spare time, the position of junior meteorologist with larger salary may be attained, the geophysics head said.

Entering the field through Civil Service intelligence examinations women must be at least 17 years of age and agree to be transferred anywhere in the United States after apprenticeship at LaGuardia Field, New York, or a Washington airport.

Full details may be obtained from the State College postmaster.

WSGA Will Donate $10 To Subscription Drive

Answering a call for donations to the Daily Collegian subscription drive, "From the Campus to the Camps," sponsored by representatives of College organizations, WSGA Senate agreed yesterday to donate ten dollars to the fund.

Action on the proposal made at Senate meeting last week was carried out yesterday although no formal meeting of Senate is being held this week because of sorority rushing parties, Dorothy K. Brunner '44, acting WSGA president, announced. The donation will be sent immediately to the committee in charge of the fund.

Honorary To Mock BWOC's At Dinner

BWOC's attending Theta Sigma Phi's Matrix Dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn, October 26, must prepare themselves for libel, slander, and general fun-making at their expense, Emily L. Funk '43, president, warned last night.

The dinner, patterned after the annual Washington gridiron banquet will burlesque the Penn State of present and future in two skits, "The Rooming Situation," and "What Campus Will Be Like Without Men."

Following the tradition of having a prominent woman journalist as Matrix speaker, the journalism honorary has announced that this year's guest will be Mrs. Esther Van Wagoner Tufty, distinguished Washington correspondent.

Displays announcing the affair will appear soon in show windows of the Corner Room and Athletic Store, Miss Funk said.

CLASSIFIED SECTION

FOR SALE—Latest model Rollei-cord camera. Good condition. Call Ed Schwartz, 4881. 2t7,8schaf

LOST—One slide rule B'twn Sigma Chi and Eng. Co B. Reward, Call R. L. Campbell, Eng. Co B. Reward. Call R. L. Sigma Chi. 1tpd.BF

LOST—Men's Ostrich leather wallet, containing money, valuable papers. Reward. Call Jim Brown, 4173. 2tch.7,8MB

FOR SALE—Fine pair of new riding boots. Call Harold Held, 4933. 1tch7GC.

Rides Wanted—

PW (4)—Erie. Leave Friday at 2:30. Return Sunday afternoon. Call Webb, 771. 2tpd 6, 7 M.

RW—To New York City or intermediate points. L. Friday night or Saturday morning. Return Sunday. Call 2012 Arthur Lenox. 2tpd7,8

RW—To Phila. if going Fri. p. m. otherwise just return on Sun. Call Bob 3131, leave message if not in. 2tch.7,8LB

RW—Lehigh game, 4 p. m. Fri., Call Ray, 3331. 1tpd7

RW—Harrisburg. Leave Friday anytime after 3 p. m. Call George 3223. 2tpd7,8C.

RW—Harrisburg, York or vicinity. Leave Friday after 3 p. m. Call Pete 3223. 2tpd7,8

RW—New York or vicinity. Leave anytime. Call Mickey, 4933. 1tpdRTK

PW—Wilkes Barre or vicinity. Leave Fri. 4:30 p. m. return Sunday eve. Call Melvin 3369. 2tpd.7,8LB

BWOC Enlists In WAVES

Former BWOC Jeanne C. Stiles '42 is now stationed at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., as a seaman in the WAVES. Having begun her service last week, Miss Stiles will be commissioned an ensign in four months.

Ex-Women's Editor of The Daily Collegian, Miss Stiles served as WSGA Judicial Committee chairman, Senior Sponsor, and member of the All-College Elections Committee. She was elected to Mortar Board, national senior women's honor society, and Cwens, sophomore women's activities honorary.

Enrolled in the journalism department, Miss Stiles was a member of the Liberal Arts Council and was elected president of Theta

Candidates Stress War Programs

(Continued from Page One)

Campus presidential candidate stated. "We must realize our responsibility and act accordingly."

Robert B. Davis (I), first of the junior class presidential candidates to address the mass meeting, offered no specific platform. He promised only "to meet each issue as it came, coolly and fairly, striving always for an improved junior class, a better Penn State, and a victorious America."

Jack R. Grey, '44 Campus standard bearer, rounded out the roster of speakers. Like his Independent clique opponent, Grey dispensed with the traditional party platform, proposing instead to direct his efforts toward "a strong and stable student government for Penn State."

Freshmen and juniors were urged by the committee chairman at the close of the mass meeting to consider the candidates carefully, make their own decisions, and, above all, to vote.

"Penn State," he reminded "has America's strongest student government. Its future rests in the hands of the individual student voter."

Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary.

Prior to enlistment in the WAVES and since her graduation in May, Miss Stiles was a reporter on the Ocean City Sentinel Ledger.

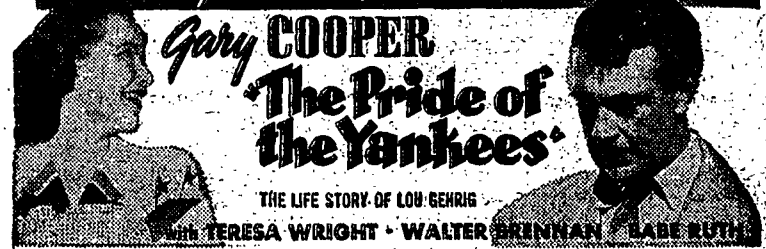

HELD OVER!

TODAY THURS.

Shows at 1:30, 3:30, 6:45, 9:00

the Exciting intimate story of an American Hero!

DANCE TO THE MELODIC STRAINS OF

The Penn State Aristocrats

It's still not too late to get a ticket by purchasing a subscription at the

Collegian Office

$1.50 per semester

SAT., OCT. 10

REG HALL

DANCING 9-12

PROTECT YOUR EYES

with FLUORESCENT STUDY LAMPS

at MARSHALL'S GLENNLAND BLDG.

THE VICTORY Dickey $1.00

To fill the need created by today's great popularity of suits, simple dresses, sweaters, and sportswear.

You'll Find it Wise to Patronize the

Smart Shop