

Football Team Primed For Cornell Battle Today; Booters Meet Red Raiders In Last Home Game

17-10 Odds Favor State Over Cornell

Special to the Collegian
WATKINS GLEN, N.Y.—Oct. 16—Penn State's football squad, 36 strong, arrived here at 2 p. m. today, setting up camp 22 miles from Ithaca, scene of tomorrow's grid-iron struggle with Carl Snavely's Big Red team at Cornell University.

Latest odds near the scene of the game favored the Nittany Lions, 17-10, to end the 23 year dominance enjoyed by Cornell over State by stopping the Ithaca Red Raiders who aren't quite so "big" this year.

The afternoon here at Watkins Glen was divided between defensive work against Cornell running and passing plays and brushing up on our own offensive formations. Three complete teams ran through their plays against the anticipated Cornell defenses with freshman halfback Bob Williams impressive in the passing drills. The afternoon's light workout

Probable starting lineups:

STATE	CORNELL
L.E. Van Lenten	Johnson (c)
L.T. Kerns	Swanson
L.G. Perugini	Geib
C. Palazzi (c)	Cushing
R.G. Jaffurs	Meridith
R.T. Schoonover	Paul
R.E. Davis	Westphal
O. Cenci	Saylor
R.H. St. Clair	Robison
L.H. Brown	Kretz
F. Banbury	Wright

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Back In The Lineup Again

Wilbur Van Lenten, end, and Cliff St. Clair, wingback, are returning to action today against the Big Red of Cornell at Ithaca after missing the Lehigh game last week because of injuries.

was concluded with some punting practice.

The unknown power of the passing attack possessed by each team could very likely be the deciding factor in tomorrow's battle. Snavely and Higgins both stressed passing in their workouts during the past week in attempts to iron out this common weakness.

J-V's Cancelled

Penn State football fans will have to content themselves with radio description for their grid-iron fare today, for the Penn State-Pitt junior varsity game scheduled for this afternoon has been canceled by Pitt authorities.

Till Starts At 2 P. M. On New Beaver Field

First of two scheduled invasions of the Nittany Lion lair by the Colgate Red Raiders is set on New Beaver Field at 2 p. m. this afternoon when the Hamilton soccer forces clash with Coach Bill Jeffrey's unscathed Lions in their last home game.

The second front opens one week from today when the football charges of the colleges meet here in the Alumni-Dad's Days contest.

Just exactly who Coach Bill will send against the New Yorkers is still in doubt. The weather will have a lot to do with his choice. If the field is dry, and present indications are that it will not be, Allen Heck, injured in scrimmages three weeks ago, will get into the game. However, Jeffrey stated that he will not risk Heck on wet grounds.

Max Chenoweth, who has seen action as a substitute in both the Gettysburg and Bucknell games, may start today at the center forward position shifting Columbian Jose Lombana to the inside left post.

Probable starting eleven will include Johnnie Struck, goalie; Captain Hap Freeman, right fullback; Bill Deitrich or Heck, left fullback; Dean Hartman, right halfback; Sammy Schure, center halfback; Boyd Eiters, left halfback; and

Penn State Fans Can Follow Gridders On Radio

Penn State football fans unable to make the trip to Ithaca for the annual encounter with the Big Red Team from Cornell will have the game brought right into their homes by 12 eastern radio stations.

WFBR in Baltimore, 1300 kilocycles; WDEL in Wilmington, 1150 kilocycles; and WGR in Buffalo, 550 kilocycles should be the easiest for State fans to locate for they are all 5,000 watt stations. WFIL, 560 kilocycles, and WORK, 1350 kilocycles are among the other stations carrying the game.

The broadcasts will start at 1:45 p. m., 15 minutes before game time. The play-by-play will be done by Tom McMahon, Atlantic Refining announcer.

Bill Pritchard, Lombana, Charley Lischer, Paul Bender, Chenoweth and Smiley Williams on the forward line.

Exactly which five of the six forwards will occupy the outside right and left, inside right and left, and center forward slots will depend on who of the six start. Jeffrey plans to shift the forwards according to whom he uses.

Pritchard will be out to continue the scoring spree he started in the Gettysburg game and continued impressively against Bucknell. The veteran inside right kicked three goals against the Bullets and accounted for the two last-period winning scores against the Orange and Blue last week.

Tireless Curt Stone Proves Value Of X-Country Training

By DON WEBB

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles to acquaint readers with the members of the cross-country team, which runs its only race at home against Syracuse October 24.

Of all of the cross-country runners in the East, perhaps Curt Stone, Penn State junior harrier, is the most tireless of them all. Regardless of distance, Curt can always come in with the first five and in five minutes be ready to do it all over again.

"Stoney hasn't even approached his possibilities as a runner," Harrier Coach Chick Werner declared. "Some day he will find himself and he will become a great runner."

Curt is a fine example of what conditioning and supervised training can do for athletes. He came to Penn State with no cross-country and little track experience although he was Scranton district half-mile champion as a senior in Brooklyn (Pa.) High School.

Last year as a sophomore, Curt ran on the harrier squad which placed fourth in the IC4-A meet and second in the National Collegiate meet. He was undefeated in two-mile competition during the track season, except for a fourth in the IC4-A meet last February.

Curt is a bespectacled journalism major, five feet nine inches tall and weighs 135 pounds. Outstanding characteristic of Stone is his modesty and quietness.

PLEASE CO-OPERATE!

We Want To Know—

HOW IS YOUR 'COLLEGIAN' DELIVERY?

No matter how hard a newspaper may wish to please its readers it cannot do so unless each morning's edition is delivered. Because of numerous changes of address, new subscriptions, and filing errors there may be some irregularities in Daily Collegian circulation. We wish to correct these errors as soon as possible and ask your cooperation.

Our Office Will Be Open:

If you do not receive your Daily Collegian inform us at once. We will do our best to insure delivery as soon as legitimate complaints are received. Staff members have been assigned to special office duty at the following hours:

8:15 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. Monday through Saturday
1 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. Monday through Friday
7 to 9 p. m. Monday through Friday

The Best Time—

4 p. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday

The Daily Collegian

Carnegie Hall

Phone 711

BUT CHECK THESE:

1. Did you renew your one-semester subscription?
2. Did you report a change of address?
3. Did you report the correct address?
4. Is someone "borrowing" your paper?
5. Has the wind carried it a few feet away?
6. Have you a subscription?

Mail 'Em Early!

OVERSEAS GIFTS MUST BE MAILED BEFORE NOV. 1

Buy those gifts now so the boys in the service will have a Merry Christmas on-time.

Uncle Sam says all gifts must be mailed before November 1 to insure delivery. And while you are at it, stop in at the State College stores for a really choice selection of gifts.