

Alumni, Dads Gather For Combined Weekend

First Day Totals Show 113 Register

With 113 alumni and fathers registered in the first day of Alumni-Dad's Day Weekend, events scheduled for today and tomorrow make a full calendar for weekend visitors.

Golfers will start off the day with a tournament on the College course at 8 a. m. Those who registered for the event at the desk in first floor lounge, Old Main, need pay no greens fee, but the small charge for entering the tournaments will be used for prizes.

All alumni, whether members of the Alumni Council or not, are invited by Edward K. Filschman, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, to attend the Council meeting in 121 Sparks at 9:30 a. m. Members of All-College Cabinet are also invited.

Other morning activities include a junior varsity football game with Colgate on New Beaver Field at 10 a. m., and a coffee hour for alumnae graduates of home economics and their guests in the lobby of Home Economics from 10 to 11 a. m.

Dedication of the Nittany Lion Shrine, a gift of the class of 1940, will take place at 1 p. m. followed by athletic events throughout the afternoon. Junior varsity soccer with Syracuse at 1:30 p. m., varsity football with Colgate at 2 p. m., and varsity and junior varsity cross country meets with Syracuse, at 2:30 p. m. are included on the program.

Fraternities will hold meetings for alumni and fathers at 6 p. m. and the second showing of Penn State Players' production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

Also on the program at 8:30 is a cider party for alumni, parents, faculty members, and seniors. No program is planned for the event in the Armory, but Vic Dimeo's orchestra will play for the guests.

Rounding out the weekend program is the chapel service in Schwab Auditorium at 11 a. m. tomorrow. "Slow Down; Speed Up" will be the topic of Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pittsburgh.

Before going to Pittsburgh in 1933, Dr. Clausen served in Mount Vernon, Hamilton, and Syracuse, New York. In World War I he was chaplain in the U. S. Navy on board the U. S. S. North Carolina.

Registration of alumni and dads will be held in first floor lounge, Old Main, from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. today.

Hig Says 'We're Ready,' In Talk At Pep Rally Of 2,000 Students

"We're ready" was the statement of Coach Bob Higgins as he addressed approximately 2,000 students at a pep rally in Jordan Fertility Plots last night.

Citing Colgate's 34-0 defeat, at the hands of Duke last Saturday, he pointed out that the invading team would be trying hard to win this game. He said, though, that the Lions were pointing toward this game to try to avenge the defeat they were handed at Colgate last Fall.

"Still unsuccessful from the standpoint of having a large percentage of the student body in attendance, the rally showed a great deal of spirit in the 2,000 who were there," Charles E. Peck '43, head cheerleader, said.

... The Symbol Of The Best

The Nittany Lion, completed last month by Heinz Warneke, noted sculptor, will be presented to the College by A. William Engel on behalf of the Class of 1940. Ceremonies will be held in front of Rec Hall at 12:50 p. m. today.

'Remain Seated If Air Raid Sounds'—Ebert War Loans Given To 100 Students

Although another daylight air raid seems remote since the next one for the month will probably come at night before November 1, a warning was nevertheless issued by George W. Ebert, chairman of the Committee on Protection, that all crowds should remain where they are when the alert sounds.

An announcement will be broadcast at the half-time of today's football game to this effect. Only defense workers able to identify themselves will be allowed to leave the stands. For this reason, Ebert urged all workers to wear their arm bands constantly.

One hundred technical students in four schools of the College have been granted federal War Loans, it was announced by Russell E. Clark, bursar of the College last night.

Students from the Engineering, Chemistry and Physics, Mineral Industries, and Agriculture Schools have been granted allowances up to $25 a month until graduation. Notices will be mailed this morning to all students that have been accepted by the examining board for the loans.

On the first of each of the succeeding months including June, 1943, there will be a payroll for students being aided by the plan.

The Office of Education in Washington, D. C. requires that a duplicate copy of the application be sent to them for file. This will be prepared at a meeting of all accepted students in 110 Electrical Engineering building at 6:30 p. m. October 29.

At the same time, initial checks will be distributed and students will sign the official note.

When students sign these notes, they will be subject to the jurisdiction of the Manpower Commission unless they are drafted. In case of draft the note is cancelled and the student need not repay the loan. The note is for four years' duration.

All Freshmen Required To Use East Gates

All freshmen are required to use the East gates in entering New Beaver Field for the football game today, Charles H. Ridenour '43, tribunal chairman has announced.

Reminding the freshmen that they are to remain in the stands after the game until every one leaves, Ridenour said that any violation of these requirements will be dealt with accordingly. Freshman men sitting with their parents at the game need not wear customs, Ridenour added.

State Women Honor Men In Service With Presentation Of Service Flag

The second Service Flag in the history of Penn. State will be presented, in behalf of women students, to the College, tonight to honor men in active service, announced Dorothy K. Brunner '44, acting WSGA president.

The first flag was in honor of men who fought in World War number one. With the dedication ceremony scheduled for Old Main lobby at 8 o'clock, Miss Brunner urges all guests, Penn Staters, and townspeople to be present.

The flag, eight by five feet in size, is described as a blue star on a large white field finished with a red border. White numerals, 1-270, will be snapped onto the blue star denoting the number of Penn State men in active service. One gold star will be sewn on the white field to stand for every ten men killed in service. According to records at 4 p. m. Thursday, there have been 12 men killed, therefore, the flag will be presented with one gold star, Miss Brunner stated.

A committee, headed by Miss Brunner, including Miss Nina M. Bentley, assistant to the dean of women, Louise W. Henry '44, and Kathryn Hibbard '45, is responsible for and will play an active part in the program.

After a three-minute dedication speech by Miss Brunner, the flag will be received for the College by Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men. Following this, Misses Henry and Hibbard will tie the flag onto the balcony railing facing the mural, where it will remain for the duration. Representing the student body, Jerome H. Blakeslee, All-

Nittany Lion Gridders Seek 3rd Season Win Against Big Red Squad

With a patriotic color scheme—the red of Colgate, and the white and blue of the Nittany Lions providing an appropriate background—the Colgate Red Raiders will invade the Lion football den, New Beaver Field, at 2 p. m. today.

In what may prove to be the last homecoming weekend for the duration, a favored Raider squad, tutored by Coach Andy Kerr, will try to rebound from the stinging defeat handed them last week by the Blue Devils of Duke University.

The Lions, on the other hand, will attempt to extend their string of nine consecutive games without defeat. Five times the two teams have met on the gridiron. In only one of these encounters, that played in 1911 when the Blue and White won by a score of 18 to 9, has a Lion team been victorious.

Latest setback suffered by the Higginsmen at the hands of the Red Raiders was the 7-0 reversal in an early season game last Fall. Only once since then has a Lion team tasted defeat.

Equally apropos as the color scheme is the fact that the game will have two veteran coaches—the Lions' Bob Higgins and the Raiders' Andy Kerr—pitted against each other. Higgins and Kerr, entering their 13th and 14th seasons respectively, have the longest tenures of service in Eastern gridiron circles.
