

Higginsmen Seek Third Season Win Against Red Raiders

Walters Takes Injured Van Lenten's End Post

 ning of the season, a relatively inexperienced Raider squad opened against St. Lawrence and picked up added poise in pushing through major contests with Dartmouth and Cornell.

Big man in the Raider setup this year is a 180-pound pile-driving fullback by the name of Mike Micka, who leads an array of backfield talent two and three deep at each position.

Only change in the Raider lineup today will find Ed Phinney replacing injured Al Hanover at the left halfback.

The Lions, likewise, will be playing without the help of one of the star members of their regular lineup. Wilbur Van Lenten, right end, and extra point maker, has not sufficiently recovered from an ankle injury suffered in the Bucknell tilt, to return to action. His place will be taken by rangy Bob Walters, a letterman on the 1941 team.

Another new face, however, will appear in the Lions' starting lineup. "Red" Moore, who has been a standout performer against Bucknell, Lehigh, and Cornell, will replace veteran tackle "Big Mike" Kerns in the starting lineup. Lion fans will remember the block Moore put on the Bucknell safety man that made Sparky Brown's 70-yard touchdown run possible.

One bright spot has been evident in recent Blue and White scrimmages. Little regarded reserves, the inexperience of which had been a constant worry to Higgins, have gradually rounded into shape, and now provide formidable opposition for opposing elevens.

At the quarterback position, however, Aldo Cenci still has to be a sixty minute player. Only John Schroyer, 200-pound freshman reserve, has had enough experience to relieve the giant Cenci, and then only when it is absolutely necessary.

Performance of reserves at the guard position have been especially outstanding. Leo Noble, and Steve Suhey, guards of the "watch-charm" variety, have seen so much action this season that regulars Perugini and Jaffurs have been in the games no more than half of the time. The defensive ability of Noble and Suhey is expected to carry much weight in the outcome of today's game.

Grads and Dads may get a chance to see Bobby Williams, diminutive pass-tossing freshman in action today. Williams, a member of the junior varsity only two weeks ago, now stacks up as the best passer on the Lion varsity squad. A product of Pittsburgh's Oliver High School, Williams still lacks game experience.

Galbraith Receives New Enlisted Reserve Forms

A new supply of declaration of intention applications (designated "Form A's") has been received from the Army Command Headquarters and is now available for JERC members who entered the service after October 1, it was announced last night by War Service Advisor Robert E. Galbraith.

The new forms, which are to be filled out in quadruplicate by all freshmen and sophomore enlistees, are designed to protect the applicant who enters the ERC with the intention of later transferring to another branch of the service.

Biggest Raider Threat

Fullback Mike Micka of the Colgate Red Raiders has been touted as potential All-American material this year after he completed a brilliant 1941 season. If the Nittany Lions expect to win today, they will have to stop the line rushes of the 190-pound Junior star. Micka will be ably assisted in the backfield by Fox, Yakapovich, and Phinney.

Rufe Williams Turns To Cross-Country As Conditioning For Spring Track Season

By DON WEBB

(Editor's note: This is the final installment of a series of articles to acquaint readers with the members of the cross-country team which meets Syracuse today in its only home meet of the season.)

There aren't many dash men in track that can keep up with distance runners in cross-country competition, but Rufus Williams is the exception that makes the rule.

A dash man in high school and in his freshman year at State, Rufe, negro sophomore flash, turned to cross-country in an effort to keep in condition for track season and because he thought that he "may be able to help out the team." Now, he is a regular on the varsity harrier team and enjoys running as much as any one of the squad.

As a runner in Overbrook High School, Philadelphia, Rufe did a little of everything. He ran the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the quarter mile, and anchored the Overbrook mile relay team to the city scholastic championship in 1940.

As a freshman last year, Rufe won his numerals in cross-country and track. In addition to his running, he broad-jumped on the frosh track team.

This summer Williams won the varsity 75-yard dash in a four-team meet at Cornell.

Rufe is not the only runner in the family. His "kid" brother, Mitchell, is number one runner on the frosh team.

Rufe is a lower division student majoring in art education. He stands five feet, eight inches high and tips the scales at 133 pounds. When he is late for practice, Chick can always find him somewhere on the campus painting or cartooning.

Dutcher Obtains Post

R. Adams Dutcher, head of the agricultural and biological chemistry department, has been named to serve on a subcommittee of the food and nutrition board of the National Research Council and has received another appointment to the editorial staff of "Nutrition Reviews," a new publication.

Marty's Martyrs Start Weekend Sport Events With Colgate Jayvees

Lt. Com. Sparks Leaves For Cornell Post

Lieut. Commander N. R. Sparks, who has been in charge of the Naval training station here at the College, has been transferred to Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. His new position will be similar to the one he held here.

Commander Sparks was a member of the College's mechanical engineering faculty for 24 years. He first received his lieutenant's commission in the Naval reserve and later, after groups of Navy trainees came to Penn State, he was promoted to lieutenant commander.

Officer in charge (acting) at present is Lieut. (j.g.) Walter L. Leljestrand.

No official word has yet been received by the College as to whom will succeed Sparks

A scrappy little bunch of Nittany Lion junior varsity gridders will inaugurate the weekend sports schedule on New Beaver Field this morning when they meet the Little Raiders of Colgate. The Kickoff is scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Dubbed "Marty's Martyrs," the jayvees have been scrimmaging nightly for this week's contest ever since their 19-19 tie with Cornell B team two weeks ago.

The Little Raiders held the same Cornell junior varsity to a 7 to 7 tie last week.

The probable starting lineups follow:

| Jayvee Lineup | | |
|---------------|-------|------------|
| Penn State | Pos. | Colgate |
| Hoggard | L. E. | Leary |
| Ohlman | L. T. | Ditts |
| Lapos | L. G. | Lamps |

Booters Ready For Orange Foe

(Special To The Collegian)

SYRACUSE, New York, October 23—Traveling on the crest of an undefeated record, not uncommon to them, Coach Bill Jeffrey and 16 Penn State soccer men arrived here today at 4:30 p. m. prepared to take on Syracuse's Orangemen tomorrow morning.

Fresh from easy wins over Gettysburg, Bucknell, and Colgate, the Lion booters expect to have a tough time against Coach Arthur Hoffrocks' seasoned forces, their strongest foe as yet this season.

Defeated by the State College team last year, 4-0, the Orange is out to beat the Blue and White which boasts a record of only one defeat over nine and a half seasons.

Frosh Harriers Meet Syracuse Yearlings In Season's Opener

Well-balanced, but untested, the Penn State freshmen cross-country team meets the Syracuse yearlings at 12:30 p. m. today in a preliminary to the varsity race between the same two schools.

This will be the initial race for both teams and both coaches claim that they have "better than average" frosh teams. Time trials of the Lion frosh prove that Coach Chick Werner has no outstanding runner, but five runners who will turn in good times.

Running in number one spot for the Nittanymen will be Mitchell Williams. The other men follow in order: Rudnick, Handwerk, Carleton, Scott, Harrier and Madigan. The entire freshmen squad will run, but only seven will be issued numbers and be eligible to score for the Lion's.

Lineups follow:

| Syracuse | Penn State |
|-----------------|-----------------|
| Smock (35) | M. Williams (1) |
| Gunderson (26) | Rudnick (2) |
| Harper (27) | Handwerk (3) |
| Rite (32) | Carleton (4) |
| Green (25) | Scott (5) |
| R. Stevens (36) | Harris (6) |
| Atherton (21) | Madigan (7) |

Probable substitutions for the Blue and White will be Frank Black, fullback, Bobbie Fast, halfback, and Walt Woziak, Frank Case and Charley Lischer, for
