

Senate Denies Change In Date For Vacation

Burden On Traffic Given As Reason

The original date for Thanksgiving vacation will not be changed, College Senate voted yesterday.

Announcing the decision, Prof. Jacob T. Tanger, department of political science, chairman of the Senate committee in charge of the calendar stated that a proposal to change the vacation from Thursday to Friday was voted down because it would have placed a heavy burden on transportation facilities and would have meant changing a national holiday.

Every effort will be made by the administration and faculty to have students attend Friday and Saturday classes following the Thanksgiving holiday, he added.

The calendar for the summer, fall, and spring semesters 1943-44 was also released by Senate yesterday.

Because of nearly a month spring vacation, the summer semester of 1943 will not begin until June 7 and will end September 24. The fall semester, scheduled to start October 5, provides for a Christmas recess the same length as this year's calendar allows. The recess will be from December 18 to January 3.

Since the fall semester will terminate on February 4, there will only be a four day vacation between semesters for the spring term of 1944 begins February 8. It will end May 26.

A new plan of scheduling examinations will be adopted starting next semester, Prof. Tanger stated. Under the plan, examinations will be scheduled to approximately coincide with the time the classes meet. The examinations will be for two hours and a different one will be given to each section of a multiple section course.

Open House Program Planned For Saturday

The Old Main Open House program Saturday night has been expanded to include the Armory and Schwab auditorium, Charles W. Thompson '44, OMOH chairman, announced last night.

A jitterbug contest will be held in the Armory and a full evening of entertainment is scheduled for Schwab. Old Main's tower will be open from 9 to 11 p. m.

Group Officers' Names

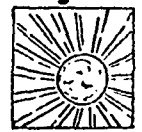

Names of officers of all fraternities, sororities, and clubs must be filed immediately to be included in the Student Union Directory, George L. Donovan, Student Union manager, announced last night.

2nd BMOC Group Lists Activities

Editor's Note—This is the second in a series of articles listing the College activities of candidates for honor men positions in Class Day exercises. They were chosen by a committee made up of presidents of school councils and are subject to final vote by members of the senior class for final choice.

Voting will be done on card ballots being mailed to each senior. Ballots must be returned to Student Union on or before Tuesday.

Administration Approves Pre-Induction Training

Course To Accommodate 700 Upperclass Men

With the approval of the pre-induction training program by the president's office yesterday, Millard T. Bunnell, supervisor of class centers at central extension and coordinator of Student Training for Civilian Defense, announced that the course will begin immediately and will accommodate 700 upperclass men.

Students may register for the course in rooms one, two, and three Carnegie Hall from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. Monday. Starting next Tuesday, training will be conducted four hours per week for five weeks. Classes will last for two consecutive hours and may be scheduled for Mondays and Tuesdays or Wednesdays and Thursdays, according to Mr. Bunnell.

To fit students for military, industrial, and civil duty during war time is the general purpose of the course. However, this training will offer specific preparation for military leadership and command and opportunity for quicker promotion from the ranks, Mr. Bunnell pointed out.

The course is designed for men who are not engaged in ROTC training now and for transfer students who never had such training, Mr. Bunnell continued. Classes will be divided into groups of 60 men each.

Training, which will consist of seven distinct phases, will include Orientation and Sanitation—initiation into military life, processing, outfitting, and inoculation of selectees, and outline of principles of military sanitation; Speech—principles of use of voice in instruction and command; Map Sketching—how to make reports in sketch form, military symbols; Map Reading—emphasis on contours and

LATE NEWS FLASHES!

CAIRO—Rommel's tanks are being picked off in a slaughter unparalleled in desert warfare, the British Eighth Army headquarters announced last night. Two more Nazi generals were killed in tank battle.

LONDON—Military quarters in London disclosed that the successes in the Middle East may serve as the stepping-stone for the second front invasion of Europe.

WASHINGTON—The Navy Department announced last night that more Japanese troops have been landed east of Henderson airfield in Guadalcanal. U. S. Marines have made small gains.

NEW YORK—George M. Cohan died last night at the age of 64. The famed song-writer and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor will be buried in New York not far from Broadway where he achieved his success.

MOSCOW—The Nazi advance in the Stalingrad sector has been stalled and Nazi troops have been beaten off, the Moscow radio stated late last night. During the last 24 hours 2000 Nazis have been killed.

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard stated during a press conference late yesterday that the food situation will suffer if steps are not taken to keep farm workers on the farms. Wickard proposed that farm workers be given occupational deferments and that they be kept from securing jobs in war industries.

Welfare Group Fines Fraternity For Code Violation

A Penn State social fraternity has been placed on probation for the remainder of the semester by the Committee on Student Welfare at a recent meeting, it was announced by Arthur A. Warnock, dean of men and chairman of the committee.

Mixed drinking at a fraternity dance caused the committee to take action. There was also evidence that members of the fraternity had made disturbances following drinking practices on that and other occasions. Dean Warnock did not reveal the name of the fraternity.

Evidence brought before the committee revealed that some drinking had taken place on the dance floor, but mixed drinking was largely limited to the basement social room.

While on probation the chapter's normal privilege will not be curtailed, but its officers will be held responsible for seeing that the behavior of its members is above criticism.

Independent '44 Names Preliminary Slates; Election Code Changed

Naming of preliminary All-College and senior class nominees by the '44 Independents and a change in the official Elections Code featured yesterday's additions to the ever-increasing pre-campaign planning.

Four preliminary nominees for All-College president and vice-president, four for senior class president and vice-president, and three others for treasurer were named by the '44 Independents last night.

Donald A. Kulp, John L. Miller, Robert B. Davis, and Cadmus G. Goss were chosen to vie for the party's backing in the All-College race. The top two senior class standard bearers will be chosen from William C. Shoemaker, Thomas E. Wilcox, Robert R. Dickey, and Robert B. Davis.

Marlin E. Zimmerman, George W. Smith, and John C. Furford received the clique's preliminary

Collegian Check-Off Plan To Entail Only One-Dollar Increase In Fees

Conforming to the recommendation of All-College Cabinet, the Daily Collegian Board of Directors decided last night that only a one-dollar increase in fees would be necessary for next semester to place the Collegian on the check-off financing basis.

When Cabinet okayed the student vote on the system for All-College elections, November 17, 18, and 19, they did so with the suggestion that the increase be set at this rate.

Designed to assure the campus of a daily paper for the duration of the war and a much enlarged and improved daily after the war, this plan, used by many other large universities and colleges, will entitle each student to the paper and do away with circulation difficulties encountered in past years.

The Board of Directors' definite statement concerning the price of the Collegian also stated that at no time in the future would the price go above $1.25. This flexible rate is necessary because College enrollment will determine in the future just how much financial aid the Collegian will receive.

Gordon L. Coy '43 Collegian editor and secretary of the Board, pointed out the saving that the new set-up will mean to each individual student. "While in the past the subscription price was set at $1.75, under the check-off ruling it would amount to only a dollar and would be paid along with the regular fees. Coy stated that this new rate represents a saving of almost 50 per cent for each student.

After the students approve the system, the Board of Trustees will have to sanction it before it can become a definite part of the fee program.

Military Decorations, Senior Queen Added To Junior-Senior Ball

Decorations in a military theme and a Senior Queen are the latest additions to plans for the joint Senior Ball-Junior Prom, Thomas Ridge '43, decorations chairman, announced yesterday.

The queen will be selected by vote of seniors from five senior women to be chosen by the committee. Seniors will be permitted to vote only by showing matriculation cards at Student Union or the Corner Room where the ballot boxes will be placed.

The five candidates will be named by Ridge and William C. Mazzocco '43. The queen will be crowned during intermission at the dance.

Mazzocco, programs chairman, also announced yesterday that there will be no floral corsages. There will be a place in the programs for defense stamps. Ribbons to be used in place of corsages will be given to stamp purchasers at Student Union.

Details of the decorations have not been announced.

The complete committee, released by David J. McAleer '43, includes Glenn W. Ely, Jack C. Glassburn, Charles E. Gundlach, Simon G. Hamaty, Pauline M. Kline, Luke A. Yerkovich, and David A. Young.

Announcing that 119,835 pounds of scrap metal collected in the recent campus salvage drive have already been sold, Harold W. Loman, College Purchasing Agent, last night emphasized that the scrap drive is still in full swing.

Of the total salvaged, 1130 pounds of metal were from zinc printing plates and 925 pounds were copper printing plates. Iron, steel, lead, aluminum, and other metals made up the remaining 117,780 pounds collected from laboratories, fraternity and sorority houses, and other sources.

New impetus will be given to the salvage program through student cooperation, Herbert J. Zukauskas '43, Scrap Chairman appointed by All-College Cabinet, pointed out in announcing that a permanent organization was being set up for scrap collection and conservation promotion. The committee program includes "a continued drive to cover the College completely with a division of labor so that no one person or group will be overburdened."

While emphasizing conservation of present materials, increased efforts will be made to comply with WPB Chief Donald M. Nelson's plea to "dig deep, then dig deeper" for vital scrap metals.

'BeeO' The Green Pig To Appear Tonight

Penn State's oddity of nature the baby obilgacurus, a green pig, has been named "BeeO" and is in fine health. He will appear at the Ag Frolic tonight in Rec Hall from 9 to 12, Wilbur Bull, dance chairman, said today.

"BeeO" weighed 328 pounds this morning losing 2 pounds because of yesterday's heat. After being shown at the Frolic tonight he will be sent to Chicago for exhibition at the request of the Museum of Art.

Besides featuring "BeeO" and the music of the Penn State Aristocrats, many surprise novelties are in store for those attending the Frolic.
