

Three New Dorms Get Senate Appropriations

Magargel Announces Dance Committees

Watts, Jordan, and Irvin Halls, the three new women's living units, will receive an appropriation of 15 dollars each for the remainder of the semester, WSGA Senate voted last night. Patricia Hallberg '46, WSGA treasurer, stated that next year's budget includes appropriations for the three new dormitories equal to those of other units.

Marjorie A. Magargel '44, chairman of the WSGA dance set for January 30, reported on progress of plans and submitted names of committee members for the approval of Senate.

Committees are publicity, Helen D. McKee '44, chairman, H. Joyce Strobe '44, Martha E. Elston '45, June E. White '45; invitations, Marjorie A. Hazlett '44, chairman, Gertrude M. Kortright '43, and Patricia A. Middleton '44.

Coeds Vote for Informal

The dance, declared informal this year by coed vote, will be held in Rec Hall January 30. Music will be provided by a campus band and there will be no admission charge.

Senate ruled to forego the annual junior-senior reception this year, but stated that it will probably not be dispensed with for the duration.

Helen Martin '46 was appointed to continue as Senate representative on the student-faculty relations committee. Dorothy L. Jones '44, secretary, stated that organizations must submit lists of coed activities by Monday so that extracurricular points may be tabulated.

Lounge Rule Clarified

Clarifying the ruling concerning use of dormitory lounges for 11 o'clock permissions, Senate stressed that second semester seniors and underclass coeds with special late-hour permission may use the same lounge. The rule was passed as a result of misunderstanding of the matter in Atherton Hall.

Club Commemorates Ellen H. Richards' 100th Anniversary

Ellen H. Richards Club, home economics service organization, will observe today the 100th anniversary of the birth of Miss Ellen H. Richards, pioneer in home economics, for whom the club was named.

Because of war conditions and the accelerated program, the annual celebration will be cancelled, Dorothy L. Mognet '45, president, announced. Instead of the celebration, club members will roll bandages tonight and every Thursday in honor of Miss Richards.

Members of the organization perform two main functions: they serve as official guides at home economics open houses and help with freshman registration each semester.

Gifts For Children Will Be Distributed At Bonine-CA Party

A party will be held at the home of Chesleigh A. Bonine, professor of geology, and his wife for Shingletown Gap children twelve years old and younger, many of whom come from large families where their chance for gifts would probably be slim.

Professor Bonine, who lives in the Shingletown Gap area, told a PSCA group that most of the youngsters come from families whose incomes are very small. Many of them are on relief.

Violet K. Siegle '45, chairman for the Shingletown project, enlisted the aid of college sororities and the Service Committee of the Freshman Forum. Gifts of a practical nature and those "just for fun" will be contributed.

Coeds' contributions to this party will be greatly appreciated by those children who would not otherwise receive gifts at Christmas time. Their Christmas happiness depends completely upon Penn State women.

All coeds who wish to donate gifts are requested to take contributions to the PSCA office by December 9. The gifts will be presented at the party given by the Bonines.

AAUW Sponsors Tea For Senior Women

Senior women are invited to a tea given by the Penn State chapter of the American Association of University Women in the southeast lounge of Atherton Hall at 3 p. m. Saturday, December 5.

Mrs. Hummel Fishburn is the chairman of the tea. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Gertrude Marvin Williams, president of the Penn State chapter of the A. A. U. W. The aims and purposes of the A. A. U. W., an international organization, will be explained at the meeting. All senior women are eligible for membership in the A. A. U. W.

AEPHI to Entertain National Officer at Tea

Alpha Epsilon Phi will honor Mrs. William Skirble, national officer, at a tea tomorrow afternoon at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Charles Schlow.

The sorority will entertain Pi Lambda Phi in Grange playroom from 3 until 5 p. m. Sunday.

Recently elected officers are Eleanor M. Freedman '44, president; Elaine D. Gilbert '44, vice-president; Renee Isaacs '44, treasurer; and Yetta Froimson '44, scribe.

Dry Statistics Are Life Savers To Students Who Use Loan Fund

Editor's Note: This is the last of three feature articles describing organizations which will receive contributions in the annual WSGA Christmas Drive.

Eleven pairs of glasses, 51 fares paid for students going home, 15 traveling expenses paid for job interviews, 23 loans made for books or shoes, or 18 loans for graduation expenses reads like dry statistics.

However, to the 223 students who have in the past two years borrowed $2,588.87 from Mrs. Hetzel's Fund for Emergencies, these statistics stand out as real life-savers.

The American Women's Hospital Federation and its work abroad, the Mifflin County Children's Aid Society and its contribution to children whose foster parents cannot give them a real Christmas, and Mrs. Hetzel's Emergency Loan Fund, create a three-fold purpose for this year's WSGA Christmas Drive that cannot be neglected by 1,776 coeds who have assumed this

Women In Sports

With one more week of WRA IM basketball remaining, results of ten games played yesterday and Tuesday were released and today's schedule of five games announced.

Four games played in White Hall gymnasium Tuesday night found Theta defeating Kappa 22-14; Grange trouncing Phi Mu 50-23, ChiO winning out over Ath East 27-13, and SDT defaulting to Jordan.

High scorers for Theta were Jimmy Irwin and Marge Sykes with four baskets each. Helen Martin and Marion Fuhs sank three baskets apiece to lead Kappa scoring. Sal Hostetter's 28 points and Peggy Northup's 22 points accounted for Grange total score, while Olive Van Houten and Helen Barr tallied 11 and 12 points respectively for Phi Mu.

Fran Angle registered 15 points for ChiO against Ath East, whose high scorer was Helen Hooper with four baskets.

Yesterday's games resulted in Alpha Chi's 18-14 win over Theta, Wo-Mac's 13-9 defeat of the KD's, DG's default to AOPI. AEPHI defaulted to Gammi Phi; Grange won a hard game from ChiO 23-13, and Kappa defeated ZTA 32-12.

Today at 4 o'clock in White Hall gym Wo-Mac will meet Phi Mu and AOPI will tackle Ath East. At 7 o'clock SDT will play Gamma Phi, and Kappa is scheduled against Theta. At 8 o'clock Jordan will meet Alpha Chi.

Coeds expecting to play in WRA IM tournament are required to present medical permits. Mary Grace Longenecker '45, WRA intramural manager, urged that team members comply with this ruling.

responsibility for almost 16 years. Twenty organizations connected with the College have realized the value of Mrs. Hetzel's fund. There have been many personal contributors since 1926 but the past speaks for itself. The question before coeds this week is whether or not $400 is too much to sacrifice for three deserving organizations.

Magargel Urges All IWA Representatives To Attend Meetings

At the IWA meeting last night, IWA representatives were urged by President Marjorie A. Magargel '44 to make a sincere effort to attend all scheduled IWA meetings. In the future, Miss Magargel stated, all representatives unable to attend are requested to send their alternates. If alternates are also unable to attend the meeting, the representative should notify Miss Magargel beforehand. In the future, roll call will be taken at all meetings.

The IWA victrola dance held the Saturday evening of Penn weekend was such a success that IWA representatives have been requested to schedule another such function. In answer to this demand, a dance will be held in the Grange Playroom from 9 until midnight Saturday.

All independent women interested in acting as hostesses are asked to contact Norma R. Stern '44, or Miss Margargel by this evening.

Christmas gifts will be selected for two needy children whose names were submitted to IWA by the PSCA office.

Plans for a special night each week when independent coeds could come to White Hall and enjoy all activities were also discussed. Although this idea is tentative, Miss Magargel stated, definite steps will be taken in that direction.
