

BETWEEN THE LIONS

By BEN BAILEY, Sports Editor

Although Penn State's football Lions were just another bunch of apple-pickers when the All-America plums were being passed around in the nation's newspapers last week, final returns show that they really did all right for themselves in the way of All-East, all-opponent, and all-state team scrambles.

Our boy Jaffurs turned out to be the most successful of the varsity members in getting along with the boys-who-pick-em' by pulling up with the following awards:

Honorable mention on the Hearst All-American selections (which is one of the better billings, since the pow-wows are held by coaches rather than by writers); honorable mention on both the AP and the UP All-American polls; second team on the AP and the UP All-East; and first team on the AP All-State handout.

Maxwell Trophy winner Aldo Cenci wasn't exactly snubbed either. The 230-pound quarterback crashed his way into the honorable mention row on the AP All-American card, honorable mention on both the AP and UP All-East tickets, and also wound up on the AP All-State first team.

In addition to making first team on the AP All-East choices, Bob Davis also grabbed off a first team berth on the AP All-State bandwagon along with Kenny Schoonover and Jaffurs to make the whole left side of the All-State line a Penn State monopoly.

Jaffurs and Palazzi crashed the front line on both the All-Franklin Field and the Penn all-opponent selections. Cenci was pushed out of first place by Columbia's Governali.

Schoonover and Jaffurs made the grade on the Bucknell all-opponent lineup, while Sparky Brown received honorable mention from the Bisons.

Cenci was the only Lion to make the Colgate Red Raiders' all-opponent first team, and Sparky Brown was the only Lion to win recognition from the boys from Syracuse. Cenci also made the first teams on both the West Virginia and Pitt all-opponent selections.

Bob Perugini, Red Moore, and Larry Joe were awarded berths on the Orange second team all-opponent selections.

Incidentally, the Saltines repeated their amusing gimcrack of 1941 by again according honorable mention as an all-opponent to a fellow named Jaffurs. This Jaffurs, as the well-known story goes, was the chap who not only put the skids to the Orange "Y" offensive last year, but also helped put the bee on the same outfit this season with his best performance of the campaign.

Another one which left my palate slightly dry was the choice of the Lambert Trophy Committee in rating Penn second best team in the East behind Boston College. Penn State trailed in third place.

With the chants for post-season all-star teams practically all sung, Penn State's Ken Schoonover becomes the more conspicuous by his absence from the upper slates.

Named only to the AP All-State first team, Schoonover should be a leading contender for top billing on the "Most-Underrated-Players-in-the-East" first team.

Schoonover should come into his own, however, in the annual North-South game in Montgomery, Alabama, December 26. Northern coaches plan to use two complete teams during the first half of the classic, with the outstanding players of the first two periods given the nod to complete the rest of the game.

Student Turns Indian; Kills Buck With Bow And Arrow

No shortage of shotgun shells will stop Edward S. Roth Delta Sigma Phi, from enjoying hunting season, war or no war.

On Saturday afternoon, Roth, while hunting near Bear Meadows, became one of the select few in the nation this year to have shot a deer with a bow and arrow, by bagging a seven point buck with the primitive weapons.

Stealing up on the buck, Roth silently pulled back his bow and let loose with an arrow, striking the animal in the neck. A moment later, the young nimrod approached and found his prize dead.

Testifying to the swiftness of the old Indian weapons, Roth said that the buck killed by the arrow died sooner than one he shot two years ago with a modern gun.

Dr. Woldemar Weyl To Speak at Meeting of Research Honorary

"Recent Developments and Trends in Glass Technology" is the subject of an address to be presented by Dr. Woldemar Weyl, of the Department of Ceramics, at a meeting of the Pennsylvania State College chapter of the Society of the Sigma Xi this evening at 7:30 p. m. The meeting, which will be held in room 119 New Physics Building, will be open to the public.

Prior to the meeting, at 7:00 p. m. in Room 112 New Physics Building, the society will initiate as new members eighteen present or recent staff members and graduate students who have shown outstanding ability in scientific research, and will promote nine others in grade. Elected to full membership were Thomas W. Clapper, James L. Dizikes, Howard T. Francis, Dale P. Goldsmith, Alan F. Kirkpatrick, Mellen A. Knight, George W. Moersch, Homer Patrick, Rudolf J. Pfister, Edward O. Ramler, August C. Siefert, Charles H. Townes, Robert S. Wehner, Warren Stubblebine, and Harry D. Zook.

Fred A. Glover, Maurice M. Lipnick, and Thomas A. Prater were elected to associate membership. Those promoted from associate to full membership were Shuk Yee Chan, Arista M. Francis, Denzel J. Hankinson, Benjamin J. Lazan, Walter H. Ott, James R. Oyler, Gertrude Spremulli, Paul Spremulli, and Isadore Zipkin.

Army Promotes Three ROTC Instructors

Captain Arno P. Mowitz and Lt. Bruce S. Gilliard have been promoted to the rank of Major and Captain, respectively, according to an announcement from Col. Edward D. Ardery's office yesterday.

Major Mowitz is in charge of the Advanced Infantry officers while Capt. Gilliard serves as adjutant of the military department.

Captain LaVerne K. Shiffer has recently been promoted to the rank of Major, the department announced.

LA Lecture Tonight

"Asia and the War" will be the topic of the second Liberal Arts lecture series given in 121 Sparks, 7:30 tonight. Dr. H. A. Miller, visiting professor of sociology and former professor of sociology at Bryn Mawr College, will be the speaker. Students and faculty are invited to attend the lecture.

Penn Valley Ski Club will meet in Room 103 State College High School, 7 p. m. Wednesday, December 9. All those interested in skiing may attend.

Lion Cagers Win First, Beat W&J Five, 34-29

Summary

Penn State (34)		W and J (29)
	FG.	F.	T.
Gent, f	3	0	6
Von Neida, f	3	1	7
Biery, f	1	3	5
Baltimore (c), c.	2	4	8
Hornstein, g	2	2	6
Egli (c), g	0	1	1
Cohen, g	0	1	1
Beck, g-c	0	0	0
Totals	11	12	34

W and J (29)		Penn State (34)
	FG.	F.	T.
Mears, f	2	0	4
Zellers, f-c	0	2	2
Forquer, Ralph, f	3	2	8
Mishal, f	0	0	0
Hartman (c), c.	3	2	8
Corrubia, g	0	0	0
Forquer, Ray, g	1	1	3
Konyha, g	0	4	4
Kowell, g	0	0	0
Totals	9	11	29

Score by quarters:
 Penn State ... 12 5 7 11—34
 W and J ... 6 7 8 8—29
Officials: Wallace, Pittsburgh;
 Conrad, Johnstown.
Time of quarters: 10 minutes.

Penn State Courtmen Renew Old Rivalry With Susquehanna

Penn State will continue one of its oldest cape rivalries tomorrow night when it encounters the Susquehanna Crusaders at Rec Hall at 8 p. m.

The eighteen-game series with the Selingsgrove five dates back to 1907. Penn State has captured all of the tests thus far in the series. The smaller college team has never even come too close to winning.

The Crusaders, like the Lions, have won their season's opener. A last quarter rally helped them down a fighting and fast Hershey Junior College five last Friday by a close 33 to 30 score.

Three veteran performers dot the visitors' line-up that will face the Blue and White. Captain Jack "Knobby" Walsh, Larry Isaacs, and Al Bagatini are holdovers from last year's varsity aggregation.

High scorer and center for the Susquehanna quintet is Bill Janson, who tallied 19 points in the Hershey game. Bagatini scored nine points in the opener.

The other starter for the Crusaders will probably be Jack Houser, member of last year's highly successful junior varsity team which won 17 of 19 contests.

Starting for the Lions will be the same five that captured their opening tilt with the Red and Black of Washington and Jefferson last Saturday.

At the forwards will be Whitey Von Neida and diminutive Larry Gent. Herk Baltimore will start at the center position with Dave Hornstein and John Elgi at the guard slots.

Substitutes that may prove very valuable to the Lions during the season and will probably see much action during the Crusader test will be Jack Biery, Jim Lawther, Bob Beck, and Sid Cohan.

Engineers' Hop

The annual Engineers' Hop will be held in Rec Hall on December 11 from 9 to 12 p. m., it was announced by dance co-chairmen Andrew C. Coyle '43 and Richard C. Allen '43.

Music will be furnished by George Earnshaw and his Nittany Lions and dress will be informal. Tickets may be obtained from Engineering Student Council members.

Baltimore's 8 Points Takes Scoring Honors

Penn State's rugged defense and an offense that sparked the first and last quarters provided the winning margin for the Lion's initial game of the current winter season.

Led by Co-captain Herk Baltimore, the Lawthermen edged the Washington and Jefferson passers at Rec. Hall Saturday night by a 34-29 score.

High scorer for the Nittanymen was Baltimore, who accounted for eight of the winners' tallies. However, the Lion center had to share scoring honors with two Red and Black cagers. Both Ralph Forquer and Captain Huck Hartman netted a like number of points.

The home team wasted no time in gaining the advantage. They took a four point lead before the W. and J. tossers scored. At the end of the initial quarter, the Lions had assumed a 12 to 6 lead.

The Presidents tied the count when they tallied six points in the second stanza. With the score at 12-12, the Lawthermen's sliding zone tightened and they went ahead 17 to 13 at half time.

The second half saw the Lions hold their own against a furious attack by the visitors.

Although Herk Baltimore led the Lions scorers, points were well distributed among five players. Whitey VonNeida, starting his first tilt, and Dave Hornstein followed closely with seven points. Larry Gent accounted for three field goals and Jack Biery, substitute freshman forward, accounted for five of the team's points.

Failure of the Prexies to drop their field goal shots was a big factor in the defeat. The W. and J. cagers sunk but nine of their 49 shots at the hoop. The Lions had a not-too-good average of 11 field goals in 38 tries at the nets.

The second half was featured by the banishment of three players on fouls. Dave Hornstein of the Lions and Paul Konyha and Ray Forquer of W. and J. all committed the maximum of four fouls. The visitors had a total of 18 fouls called on them while the Lawthermen were not far behind with 17 fouls.

Outstanding for the evening was Little Larry Gent, the Lions' stellar forward. His floor work and dribbling brought cheers from the crowd on two occasions.

Coach John Lawther was well pleased with the work of freshman Jack Biery. With a little experience under his belt Jack may gain a starting assignment with the Lawthermen.

MORNINGSTAR BREAD

Morningstar Bread is fine for every purpose. It makes sandwiches that are pleasing in taste and at the same time nourishing. And if you want crisp toast that fairly melts in your mouth this is the loaf for you.

MORNING STAR, TRU. WHEAT PURITY BREAD and TROPHY WINNER CAKE

Reserves

(Continued from Page One)
 before the President's proclamation on Saturday.

President Hetzel's office remained silent, declining to comment on the subject until official word had been received from the Capital.

So far no directives concerning College Reserves have been issued, since Roosevelt's order was issued Saturday afternoon, a time when many government officials were not at their desks.

Capt. Frank M. Page, head of the Marine Corps Reserve Examining Board, now on campus, will attempt to complete Marine enlistments this morning.

In a long-distance phone call put through to Washington, D. C., yesterday afternoon, Col. Woodworth said that the College Enlistment program would be at a stand-still for awhile.

Official sources declined to make any statements.

Enlistments are still open to men students who have not reached their 18th anniversary—whether or not they can enlist in a reserve, however, has not been made clear.

Rushed to Professor Galbraith

Hort Building Carries Food Production Photos

Thirty-eight panels depicting "New Life to the Land in Britain" are now on display in the Horticulture building lobby.

Borrowed from the British Library, of Information and covering 83 running feet of wall space, the pictures will be on display until December 31.

last night from Capt. Engert were the names of men who still need physicals and papers completed. The men, who were advised by Engert to "put the steam on and get their papers assembled," include:

Gary E. Bell, Jerome Berliner, Playford Boyle Jr., Marvin Brodey, Fred V. Brook Jr., Harry F. Burkholder, William J. Collins, Harry N. Crabbe.

James D. Cuzzolina Jr., Charles S. Dawson, Harry C. Funston Jr., George Ginos, Ralph M. Horst, William A. Hyde Jr., Herbert Kay, Steven M. Lucas.

Jordon Q. Markson, Charles W. Martz, Frank J. Mathias, Robert P. Mechling, Edward J. McCann, John J. McFadden, James H. McGuire.

Gordon L. Morgret, John R. Myers, Frank R. Ortolani, Robert E. Pennell, Arnold D. Perloff, Joseph J. Perry.

Paul H. Rabin, Thomas W. Riley, James H. Ritchie, Robert J. Rogers, Albert Rosen, William F. Russell.

Stanley J. Ryczak, William H. Smith, Stanley E. Spurgeon, Jack W. Stevenson, Robert H. Stirling, John T. Sweeney.

Donald B. Tait, Louis L. Ullman, Donald L. Webb, James E. Weiss, Robert D. Wilson Jr., George W. Winne, and Gordon C. Woodland.

SERVICE DONE ON ALL ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES AT MARSHALL ELECTRIC GLENNLAND BUILDING