

WSGA House Collects $163; Drive Extended For 5 Days

Two-Fifths Of Goal Reached; Jordan Leads

A total of $163.08 has been collected in the annual WSGA Christmas Drive, it was announced at a House of Representatives meeting yesterday. Because this amount is only two-fifths of the $400 goal, and would allow only $54.36 to each of the three charities aided by the fund, the drive will be continued until Monday.

In announcing the continuation of the drive, Patricia Diener '45, speaker of the House of Representatives, pointed out that many coeds have not been reached by the presidents of their living units and that others are waiting for checks from home. Miss Diener urged all house presidents and committee members to keep soliciting women in their units.

JORDAN HALL LEADS

Leading all living units in contributions so far is the Tri-Dorm unit. Jordan Hall, freshmen dormitory, heads the list, reporting $19.57. Jordan coeds have given $10 of the $15 social allowance given them by WSGA Senate to the drive, it was announced. Watts Hall, transfer dorm, has turned in $17.76 and Irvin Hall, freshmen dorm, has reported $18.10. Sigma Delta Tau leads the sororities with a contribution of $10.50. Eight living units still have not reported contributions.

THREE FUNDS SHARE

The three organizations that will share the receipts of the drive are Mrs. Hetzel's Emergency Loan Fund, the American Women's Hospital Corps, and the Mifflin County Children's Aid Fund. Mrs. Hetzel's Emergency Loan Fund lends money to students who would be unable to finish their college career if this aid were withheld.

The American Women's Hospital Corps is trying to alleviate the suffering of the civilian population in war-stricken parts of Europe. To do this they maintain hospitals, first-aid, maternity and casualty stations, medical missions, and district nurses in more than 20 heavily raided cities in England. The Hospital Corps also aids destitute Negroes and whites in southern United States.

The Mifflin County Children's Aid Fund uses all the money given them by Penn State women to provide happier Christmases for children who have been adopted into homes that are unable to give them more than the necessities of life.

The highest goal ever reached in the drive was $252, and last year the drive realized the sum of $128. This year a goal of $400 has been set, the highest in the 16-year history of the WSGA Christmas drive. In setting this goal, the House took into consideration the increased need of charity groups.

Sets New Deadline

Patricia Diener '45, speaker of the House of Representatives, extended the Christmas Drive until Monday because the amount collected is only two-fifths of the $400 goal. The fund will be divided among three charities.

Student Meets War Leaders in Capitol

MacNabb did not obtain much information on the Navy Plan, except that the Navy plans to leave its reserves in college from one to six years for training. Two semesters will be devoted to liberal arts courses, preparing the men for leadership, followed by specialized training elsewhere.

"Regardless of which plan is accepted," said MacNabb, "big changes can be expected as far as college programs are concerned. It will be a very different future."

Even if the Army plan is accepted without compromise, leading educational heads in the Capitol strongly urged students to continue their education as long as possible, since any extra amount will be to their advantage when they enter the armed services.

In addition to the Secretaries of Navy and War, MacNabb stated that the following were also in attendance: Admiral Jacobs, Assistant Secretary of Navy Barker, Dr. Zook, chairman of the Educational Council, President Gideonson, head of Brooklyn College, Dean Bradshaw of North Carolina University, Mrs. Roosevelt, and Jay Crane, Columbia University student, who along with MacNabb represented student opinion in the United States.

U. S. Offers Training To Service Men And Women

The Army Institute with headquarters at Madison, Wisconsin, insures men and women that they will receive credit for courses scheduled while in the armed forces.

Mr. Adrian O. Morse, assistant to President Hetzel, explained the plan to the Student Faculty Relations Committee at their meeting Tuesday night. He stated that with the return of casualties from the armed forces to civilian life, this problem is beginning to be one of major importance.

The present setup now adopted issues, in addition to courses in radio communication and meteorology, educational activities which are available to the men during their free time. Some of these courses include soldier dramatics, educational films, foreign language instruction by recordings, and in classes, discussion groups and lectures.

To do away with the obstacle of credit grading the Institute plan met in the First World War when schools literally vied with each other in the amount of credit granted for military service, the present Institute will not try to decide the amount of credit high schools or colleges should grant students for courses

Instead, it will issue to schools transcripts of the individuals' scores on competitive examinations. Examinations taken will be provided the respective colleges attended so that they can administer the same test to their own pupils, and that way decide the credit due.

The Army Institute was established April 1, 1942. In addition to headquarters at Wisconsin, a branch office is now being established in Hawaii. Men and women who have been in the Army four months or more, and officers and enlisted men and women in the Navy and the Coast Guard, are permitted to take any of these courses.

At present there are 3,500 men now registered for these courses, and 100,000 men and women in the Army and Navy are expected to enroll by the end of the current fiscal year.

White Urges All Greeks To Purchase Quota Of Defense Stamps

Beatrice M. White '44, Panhellenic Council president, urges all sororities to cooperate with the defense stamp drive by purchasing their quotas for the month of November. To date, only nine sororities have met their designated quotas or paid part of the sum.

Zeta Tau Alpha leads with a high of $16.40, followed by Alpha Chi Omega with $15.25.

The following is the list of houses and their contributions:

- Alpha Chi Omega, $15.25; Alpha Omicron Pi, $13.55; Alpha Xi Delta, $7.55; Chi Omega, $6.50; Delta Gamma, $5.95; Kappa Delta, $15.00; Sigma Delta Tau, $15.00; Theta Phi Alpha, $7.50; Zeta Tau Alpha, $16.40.

Defense stamps for the month of December should be purchased by the junior Panhellenic representative before the Christmas holidays, Miss White stated.
