

Navy Department Fails to Choose Penn State for Training Center

representative from that branch of the services visited the campus to see what accommodations the College had to train men for the ground crew.

From reports that were sent to the department by the investigator, Mr. Kentworthy pointed out that Penn State received a very favorable recommendation as a possible place for training the cadets. Had the department decided to continue with its former formulated plans, the executive secretary to the president felt sure that Penn State would have been among those chosen to give ground crew instruction.

This communication from the Navy should kill any and all rumors that have been transmitted from mouth to mouth on campus, stating that the cadets would "surely" move into the women's dormitories next semester, which were recently vacated by men students at the start of the present term.

Though Penn State may be chosen as a training center in the future, there has been no decision, as yet, as to where the cadets will be located should they be sent to the College. Thus, women students living in Watts, Jordan, and Irvin Halls can feel certain of having their rooms at the start of next semester.

American Decorative And Folk Art Course Offered in Spring

American Decorative and Folk Art, a new course in Fine and Applied Art, will be available for the Spring term. It is called Art 445, and offers three credits.

It traces the development of the decorative and minor arts in America, showing currents of style from Colonial times through the early American to post-Civil War and modern examples. This covers a phase of American history recently stressed in the current war effort.

Emphasis of the course will be upon the materials and techniques used in American popular arts such as furniture, interior architecture, textiles, ceramics, glass, metalware, and the distinctive features which characterize them. The class is scheduled Monday and Friday, 9 a. m., and Wednesday at 2 p. m.

The Division of Fine Arts also announced an error in the scheduling of Art 80, Modern Painting, for the Spring semester. The scheduled course should be Art 81, History of Sculpture. The hours are Monday and Friday at 2 p. m. and Wednesday at 9 a. m.

Registration

not have to register, but those who have not completed their entrance into the reserves and those who cannot get into the reserves because of the recent law can register in the State College draft board headquarters situated on the second floor of the old Masonic building, S. Allen street, opposite the Post Office.

In the week beginning December 18 and ending December 24, those born on or after September 1, 1924, but not after October 31, 1924 will register. Since college students will leave for their homes on December 19, those affected within this category may register at home.

In the six-day period beginning December 26 and ending December 31, those born on or after November 1 but not after December 31, 1924 will be registered.

Students should remember that those who have begun their enlistments into the reserve corps but have not been sworn in, must sign during the present period.

Intercollegiate Radio Debate Contest Closes

Noon today is the deadline for students who have entered the national Intercollegiate Radio Debate contest to submit their outlines on the debate topic, "Should American youth support the re-establishment after the war of competitive enterprise as our dominant economic system?"

Qualifying prizes for sectional winners will give $50 to eight first prize sectional winners, while $25 will be awarded to each of the eight second place contestants.

Winners who go into the national finals will compete for a first prize of a $1,000 war bond and $250 cash, and a second prize of a $500 bond with $125 cash.

Larry T. Chervenak, last year's winner at the College, was eliminated from the national running at Buffalo.

PSCA Honors Seniors For Outstanding Work

Six graduating seniors will be honored by the PSCA for their work in the Christian Association at the regular Cabinet meeting in the Hugh Beayer room, Old Main, at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Those of the class of '43 who will be presented with certificates of award are Ruth Williams, Rosalind M. Nelson, Nancy J. Zartman, Mabel E. Satterthwaite, Joan E. Paulhamus, and Jean E. Hershberger.

Special guests at the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Russell Durgin, special representatives of the YMCA. Until the war with Japan broke out, Russell Durgin was the secretary of the YMCA in Tokyo, Japan.

Mr. Durgin will remain in the PSCA office Sunday afternoon to talk with students and faculty members.

Christmas Roundup

at 8 p. m. Wednesday evening.

Fraternalities and sororities are doing their parts this week to inject a bit of happiness into the lives of the poor and needy. Many of them are throwing parties, while others are to distribute food among those who cannot afford to buy their own.

Concert Dance Group To Give Millay Poem

Edna St. Vincent Millay's poem, "The Murder of Lidice" will be presented in the White Hall Rhythm Room at 7:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Monday by the concert dance group under the direction of Miss Jesse Cameron, assistant professor of physical education, and dramatic students under the direction of Frank S. Neusbaum, professor of dramatics.

Many famous personalities with Master of Ceremonies Alexander Woolcott enacted "The Murder of Lidice" over an NBC nation-wide network on October 19.

Miss Millay's poem, commemorating the destruction of Lidice, a small village in Czechoslovakia, by the Germans in June, 1942, was recently published in Life magazine and can be purchased as a separate volume.

This production will be a unique type of dramatic presentation in that the dance group will interpret events as read by dramatics' group characters.

Neusbaum has corresponded with Miss Millay who heartily approves this special presentation of her poem. This is the first attempt to depict a Millay poem in simultaneous dance-verse version.

According to Neusbaum, admission is free, but tickets must be procured at the dramatic office in Schwab Auditorium which will be open from 8 a. m. until noon today and 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. Monday.

Dramatic Personae

Characters include the Mother, whose part will be read by Eleanor M. Freedman '44, and whose dance interpretation will be presented by Harriet G. Van Riper '44; the Father, who will be enacted by Robert H. Hermann '44, and interpreted by Jean E. Hershberger '43; Byeta, the oldest daughter, who will be read by Pauline E. Keller '43, and danced by Marian E. Hora '43.

Jan, the son, whose part will be narrated by Selma R. Kaplan '44, will be enacted by Anna E. Radle '45; and Karel, who was engaged to Byeta, will be narrated by Leon B. Flook '43, and danced by Madeline L. Mahuran '45.

M. Lucinda O'Boyle '43 and Robert H. Hermann '44 will act as narrators for the following characters:

Two children—H. Ione Cramer '44, and Dorothy L. Monget '45; German officers—Martha J. Havertsick '43, and Shirley V. Hadley '45; young wife—Joanne M. Palmer '43; priest—H. Elizabeth Furst '45; and villagers—Sarah A. Thompson '45, and JoEllen Loop '46.

Mrs. Hermance Reese, assistant to Miss Cameron, and G. Alice Burwell '44 will act as accompanists.

Engineering Exam Set

Students taking Engineering I, freshman lecture course, are to report for their second written review at 4:10 p. m. Monday, announced Harry P. Hammond, dean of school of engineering. Those taking the exam should occupy the same seats in Rooms 10 and 121 Sparks that they had for the first exam.

Outstanding Forester

Miles H. Ferree of the '42 forestry class has been named outstanding forester and his name is to be engraved on the Xi Sigma Pi plaque located in the Forestry building lobby.

Selection was made by members of the forestry honorary and was based on all-around ability, conduct, character, and personality on and off campus.

Juniors, Seniors Asked To Get Activities Cards

Students who will register as second semester juniors and second semester seniors next semester have been requested by Harry C. Coleman '44, next year's La Vie editor, to pick up a blue card on which they may present the activities they have participated in during their stay in College, so that they may be included in the 1944 La Vie.

If students fail to get the blue activities card at registration, Coleman pointed out, their pictures will not appear in the 1944 La Vie.

Second semester sophomore candidates for La Vie are asked to report to the office, 315 Old Main, on Monday at 4 p. m. to meet with Coleman.

Important Announcement!

Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines wish to announce to all students that, in order to arrange accommodations for travel on December 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th, 1942, it will be necessary to make reservations by purchasing your ticket as early as possible, but not later than eight (8) hours in advance of your intended departure time. All buses will leave on regular schedule from the Greyhound Post House.
