

Curtiss-Wright Accepts 8 Coeds For Training

Other Interviews Set for January

Eight women who applied for the Curtiss-Wright Aircraft Corporation engineering training course were accepted, according to Miss Mary McLeod, the company's representative who was on campus Friday and Saturday interviewing applicants.

Coeds who passed the test are Seniors Ruth F. Cromer and Louise A. Wilski; and Sophomores Mary D. Moyer, Elizabeth J. Quiggle, Norma A. Schweizer, Marian E. Smith, Betty Ann Speer and Gail Twichell.

Miss McLeod may interview other women on campus in January, and those wishing to see her should make arrangements now through the dean of women's office.

Alumni are specially urged by Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, to take advantage of the training which the course offers. Coeds and alumni who desire interviews during Christmas vacation may write Miss McLeod at Curtiss-Wright Aircraft Corporation, Passaic, N. J.

Women taking the courses will be stationed at eight universities throughout the country, and will receive tuition, room and board free, and a salary of $10 per week from the corporation.

The course, which begins February 1, will be divided into two five-month semesters. Training during the first period will involve background material, including mathematics, elementary engineering, physics, chemistry, applied mechanical drafting, slide rule and shop practice.

The second semester will deal with specialized work in either air-frame or propeller divisions. Advanced curricula will stress subjects such as production engineering, design (electrical, structural and mechanical), electrical currents and systems, orientation and product terminology, aerodynamics, and stress analysis.

Honorary Awards Scholarships to Four

Cwens, sophomore women's activities honorary, has awarded $50 scholarships to four sophomore women for outstanding scholarship and extra-curricular activities, Mary Grace Longenecker '45, Cwens president, announced.

Coeds receiving scholarships are Ellen A. Byers, Alice E. Drumm, Roberta B. Nicholls and Mary T. Pickering.

Funds for the scholarships which are awarded annually are derived from proceeds of the Cwens dance.

Becomes Freshman Dean

Edith J. Melville, secretary to the dean of women, will become assistant dean in charge of freshman women, succeeding Miss Ruth H. Zang. Miss Zang has accepted a position in personnel work in the engineering department of Brewster Aeronautics Corporation and will leave campus December 17. Miss Melville is a graduate of Swarthmore College, where she received a bachelor of arts degree in English and psychology, and of Pierce Business College Philadelphia. The new assistant dean will assume her duties in January.

Melville Succeeds Zang As Assistant To Dean

Swarthmore Graduate 'Interested in Frosh'

Succeeding Ruth H. Zang who leaves campus December 17, Edith J. Melville will become assistant to the dean in charge of freshman women, in January. Miss Melville has been secretary to the dean of women since September 1.

Formerly of Swarthmore, the new assistant dean attended Swarthmore College, where she received a bachelor of arts degree in English and psychology. She is also a graduate of Pierce Business School, Philadelphia.

"I have already become very much interested in freshman women at Penn State and am looking forward to knowing them better," Miss Melville said.

"I have been much impressed with the friendly and cooperative spirit of the coeds among their class mates and with the dean's staff," she continued.

Before coming to the College, Miss Melville worked in the sales personnel department of the Atlantic Refining Company in Philadelphia. She is the daughter of Andrew H. Melville, associate professor of economics.

Miss Zang, who has been dean of freshman women since 1941 and a member of the dean's staff since 1939, has accepted a position in personnel work in the engineering department of Brewster Aeronautics Corporation. She stated that she expects to be stationed in Philadelphia for about three months.

Senior coeds living in Benedict House, home economics manager Ruth L. Bonde, assistant professorment house, will entertain Miss of home economics, at a Christmas party at 6 o'clock tonight.

We, The Women That Old Wish Is Here Again . . .

William Henry Harrison once advised, "Forget the false, forgive the foe . . . for who may say that Christmas Day may ever come to host or guest again."

Charles Dickens said, "My best wishes for . . . your long lives and your true prosperities. Worth twenty pounds good if they are delivered as I send them." . . . Here's a final prescription added, "To be taken for life."

Eugene Field set an example by saying that "Jest fore Christmas I'm as good as I kin be."

A traditional old English carol says, "God rest ye merry, gentlemen."

The angel proclaimed, "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

A popular song says, "May all your Christmases be white."

Colonel Stoopnagle would probably say, "Christmas is stuff which when you meet someone on the street on or before it you wish him a merry."

"God bless us, everyone," said Tiny Tim.

So the best has been said. May we merely add our sincerest "Merry Christmas."

Delta Alpha Delta, local women's debate honorary, initiated four pledges Sunday.

Initiates include Ruth M. Clyde '43 and Sophomores Mary L. Casanave, C. Grace Goodlin and Rosalind E. Schnitzer.

Frosh May Attend Sing

Freshman women may attend the Christmas carol sing in front of Old Main at 8 o'clock tonight but may not date for the affair, Marion C. Dougherty '44, Judicial chairman, stated last night. Underclass coeds must attend and return from the sing in groups, according to Miss Dougherty.

Christmas Drive Lacks $173 for WSGA's Goal

WSGA Christmas drive has not yet reached its goal which was set for $400.

All coeds who have not contributed to the drive can still do so until noon today, Patricia Diener '45, speaker of WSGA House of Representatives, announced last night. Contributions may be taken to the dean of women's office, according to Miss Nina M. Bentley, assistant to the dean of women.

Receipts from the drive will be divided among the Mifflin County Children's Aid Fund, Mrs. Hetzel's Emergency Loan Fund, and the American Women's Hospital Corps. Checks for these organizations will be sent out before Christmas.

PSCA Will Sponsor Christmas Music Hour

A special Christmas Music Hour of recorded music will be sponsored by PSCA in the Hugh Beaver Room, 304 Old Main, at 4:15 today. The room will be decorated with two Christmas trees and refreshments will be served, Galen Alexander, chairman, announced. "Tristan and Isolde" by Wagner and Christmas carols recorded by Madame Schumann-Heink will be played.

Dean Asks Information

Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray last night requested that women graduating this semester inform the staff of the dean's office as soon as possible of their new addresses, positions, and change in name if they marry after graduation.

Miss Ray stressed that it is particularly important for coeds to send this information if they have not obtained positions since it may be possible for the dean's staff to place them.

Miss Ray said that this action will relieve the office of much correspondence work and prevent extra strain on government mail service.

The dean reminded coeds that Lieut. E. Alden Richardson, recruiting officer from the Harrisburg recruiting and induction center, will speak in Room 3 White Hall at 4:15 this afternoon.

Independents Plan Informal Dance

"Knock-out Round" is the theme of the informal dance planned by four independent men's and women's organizations for Recreation Hall Friday, January 15. Sonny Roye's Collegians will play from 9 to 12 midnight.

Penn State Club, Philotes, IWA, and IMA are cooperating in sponsoring the All-College Dance, and the proceeds will be divided among the four organizations and used for a second dance. Admission will be $1.10 a couple.

Ray A. Zaroda '44, Penn State Club, is general chairman for the dance. He will be assisted by Bernard A. Koval '44, Penn State Club, publicity chairman; Jane E. Booth '43, Philotes, theme chairman; Marjorie A. Magargel '44, IWA, orchestra chairman; and Robert D. Rath '44, IMA, ticket chairman.

College To Offer Undergraduate Coeds Course In Maps

To comply with an urgent need for women map-makers, the United States Office of Education will offer next semester a course in cartography, Geography 100, which will qualify seniors and undergraduates completing it for work in this branch of national defense.

Prof. Raymond E. Murphy, associate professor of geography, stated that this work includes reading information on published maps or aerial photographs, drafting maps for final publication, and plotting mosaics of aerial photographs.

This plan has proved successful at University of Wisconsin, Ohio State, and Syracuse University.

Those interested in registering for this course may gain further information from Miss Julia G. Brill, associate professor of English composition, 240 Sparks Building, and Prof. Murphy, 109 Mineral Industries Building.

Four Coeds Elected To Collegian Board

Four sophomore coeds were elected to the Collegian junior editorial board yesterday. The new members are Margaret L. Good, Lee H. Learner, M. Jane McChesney, and Serene F. Rosenberg.

These selected were named in addition to the three sophomore coeds chosen earlier in the fall. They were Rita M. Belfonti, Alice R. Fox, and Joan E. Piollet.
