

March Of Dimes Lacks $25 Of Goal

The March of Dimes campaign is within $25 of the $200 goal, with one day remaining to complete the drive, according to Mildred B. Rubin '46, chairman of the campaign.

The $175 total has been set largely by students and town merchants who have contributed at the downtown booth. A corps of sixty coeds has served as collectors since the drive began January 1. Sororities and fraternities have yet to report their individual contributions, Miss Rubin said.

The drive for State College support is in conjunction with the national campaign which is assisted annually by more than 2,000 community chapters. A non-profit membership corporation, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is concerned with financing research and preventative measures for combating poliomyelitis.

The money collected in counties is divided between local hospitals and research projects. Only seven per cent of the total amount raised has been needed for collection costs.

Aristocrats, Campus Owls To Play at Collegian Dance

"Rockin' Chair" done in the style of the popular Benny Goodman sextet.

The whole band joins in on such original arrangements as "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jerico," "Hodge Podge," "Blue Moon," and an original jump tune entitled the "Penn State Blues," written by a former member of the band, saxman Eddie Purdue.

The "Owls" enjoy a reputation as one of the top campus dance orchestras in the east. They have played on many other college campuses such as Cornell, Syracuse, Bucknell and Ohio State.

The "Campus Owls" have been a feature of most Collegian dances in the past and have always proved very popular. For the past several semesters the band has been under the leadership of George Washko, he of the "hot-lips" Washko fame. George and his trumpet are a featured part of the combo.

Admission has been set as 55 cents for Collegian subscribers and $1.10 to all others. Entire proceeds will be spent to send copies of the Daily Collegian to Penn State men in service, wherever they may be stationed.

Navy Girl

Lone woman student to graduate from the College's School of Engineering in December, Virginia F. Reilly '42, immediately moved into a job at the Philadelphia Navy Yard as a junior naval architect. She was the first woman employed in the design section of the industrial department. The Easton, Pa., girl brought to her job with the Navy the additional training provided by a special 150-hour course in ship construction and hull drafting, as presented on the campus under the ESMWT program.

Coeds who limp about campus in a completely muscle-bound condition after their weekly phys ed period will have a chance to get into good condition beginning Monday.

Trained student leaders will be on hand in all the dorms to carry out WRA's new physical fitness program which involves a fifteen-minute exercise period every evening, Mondays, through Thursdays. Anyone who is really interested in ironing out those stubborn kinks can certainly spare the time, especially if it means a breathing space between cram sessions.

The workout period will be held from 9:05 to 9:20 p. m. in frosh dorms, and from 10:10 to 10:25 p. m. for upperclasswomen. The program is purely voluntary, of course, but that should offer an even greater incentive for coeds to prove to themselves that they can have streamlining without tears.

Having the campus buried under nine inches of snow may present a few minor difficulties like wet feet and sore derrieres, but it also brings up the more pleasant prospect of skiing. The outing club is giving skiing instruction to coeds on Holmes Field at 4 o'clock every afternoon, and from 2 to 4 p. m. on Saturdays. The club is also sponsoring a skiing jaunt at the Centre Hills Country Club tomorrow afternoon. All coeds interested will meet in the WRA equipment room at 2 p. m., to hike out to the Country Club.

Practice has begun for intramural swimming meets, which will be held February 9, 11, and 13. Instruction in racing turns will be given at swimming club meeting at 8 p. m. next Thursday evening.

Coeds who wish to participate in the meets may sign up on dormitory and sorority teams, and must have three and a half hours of practice before the meets begin. A physical permit must be presented in order to be eligible for the competition.

Badminton intramurals, which began last week, are still going strong. In Thursday's matches Alpha Omicron Pi defeated Kappa Alpha Theta and Zeta Tau Alpha lost to Kappa Delta. The Irvin team defaulted to Chi Omega. Final matches are scheduled for next week.

New Frosh Granted Dating Permissions

First semester freshmen have been granted the following dating privileges, according to Marion C. Dougherty '44, judicial chairman.

Weekend dating will begin at 5:30 Friday and extend until 5:30 Sunday. Coeds will not be permitted to date at all Sunday nights.

Permissions will be granted for coeds to have one 1 o'clock and one 10 o'clock each weekend.

There will be no dating during the week off campus, dating on campus will extend until 5:30 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Thetas To Entertain

Kappa Alpha Theta will entertain the new class of ensigns at a Coffee Hour at the sorority house at 4:00 p. m. Saturday, according to Ann H. Carruthers, '44, president.

In celebration of National Founders Day, the sorority members will attend Chapel as a group Sunday morning.
