

'Judicial To Punish Customs Offenders,' Dougherty Says

Underclassmen Ignore No-Dating Regulation

Judicial will crack down on violations of freshman women's customs, Marion C. Dougherty, chairman, announced at WSGA Senate meeting last night. Although she revealed no specific changes in the punishment system, Miss Dougherty stressed that offenders will be checked more closely and dealt with more severely than formerly.

The combined WSGA-Judicial action climaxed weeks of discussion concerning increased unwillingness of freshman women to obey restrictions imposed on previous classes. Chief offense, according to the Judicial head, is week night dating.

As in the past, coeds reported disobeying rules will be campused, with the seriousness of the offense determining length and strictness of the punishment.

Two freshman Senate members, Gloria J. McKinley and Jane H. Dye, will speak to underclass women in hall meetings about the importance of abiding by customs regulations.

A nutrition drive, sponsored by WSGA House of Representatives and headed by Elizabeth J. Scherholz, will begin Tuesday, Patricia Diener, speaker, announced. Coeds will be reminded by posters and dormitory announcements of the necessity of proper food habits during wartime. Junior Service Board will cooperate with poster making and other forms of publicity.

Collection of silk and rayon stockings will be another war project under the direction of the House, Miss Diener said. Receptacles will be placed in dormitories and at several town posts.

The annual Panhellenic dance will not be combined with Interfraternity Ball, it was revealed. The Greek function is set for the Nittany Lion Inn March 26.

Mother's Day will not be April 10, as was previously announced. A new date will be set later. Upperclass women's hours for Soph Hop have been set but will not be announced until Judicial decides upon permissions for freshmen.

Miss Dougherty stated that Marjorie H. Schultz will replace Alice E. Drumm as junior member of Judicial, and Kathleen M. Osgood was appointed to permanently represent WSGA on Old Main Open House committee.

Senate asked coeds to cooperate with campus patrol when it enforces the no-smoking rule in Rec Hall.

Home Economics Poll Discusses Student Social Problems

A recent survey of what college men and women want to know about family relationships and marriage conducted by Dr. Laura W. Drummond, professor of home economics, disclosed the fact that young people are getting away from the trend of "Bringing Up Father" and re-modeling him like a re-treaded tire.

The average college student of today is eager to know whom to marry, when to marry, and how to marry, according to Dr. Drummond.

The survey assumes the aspect of a John E. Anthony Hour or "advice to the lovelorn article" when it states that budgets, children, in-laws, and divorce are less important today than before.

Today's students are more vitally concerned with sex, courtship, and family adjustment problems.

Six hundred students participated in the survey, conducted in a large-city college and a rural-community college.

Penn Haven Club Elects

Officers were named to head the Penn Haven Club, campus IMA unit, at a recent meeting, with Lloyd R. Snoko filling the post of president, and LeRoy D. Schaller being elected vice-president.

Other officials chosen for the current semester include: Leonard E. Schaeffer, secretary; David E. Landers, treasurer; Robert L. Cleland, social chairman; and Clarence A. Feitknecht, athletic chairman.

Panhel Council Ball Scheduled For March 26

Panhel Cancels Annual Bridge Tournament

Panhel Ball, originally scheduled for the same weekend as Interfraternity Ball, has been set for March 26, according to Martha E. James, Panhellenic Council president. R. Christine Yohoe is chairman of the dance with Barbara E. Boak and B. Ann Moorehouse, members of the committee. Panhel Ball will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn.

The Panhel Defense Stamp drive was also discussed at the meeting. Miss James urges all sororities whose numbers have been changed by graduation to change their quotas at Student Union as soon as possible. So far, the drive has not been as successful as it might have been, Miss James stated, but with increased effort on the part of all houses, quotas can be met and sororities can aid the national defense movement.

The annual sorority bridge tournament will not be held this year. Because the College is "all out" for defense, and coeds have been asked to bandage rolling classes sponsored by the Red Cross, Panhellenic Council members felt the annual tournament superfluous.

Sororities are asked to cooperate in the physical fitness programs being planned by the physical education department. According to plan, coeds have been requested to attend calisthenic classes from 10 until 10:15 every evening, Sunday through Thursday. This, however, is optional. These classes will be held in the lounges in various units of the dormitories.

Former Coed Enlists In SPARS, Describes Preliminary Exam

One of the first coeds to enlist in the SPARS, Ruth E. Silberkraus, a December graduate, will leave for Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, February 13, just two weeks after she passed the entrance examinations in New York City.

Miss Silberkraus described the examination, which required an entire day to complete. The mental was a composite vocabulary and mathematics test for which the prospective SPARS were given an hour to complete. The physical examination was thorough, involving X-rays and blood tests.

Apprentice seamen in the SPARS are housed in dormitory units at Smith College during the period in which they receive a month's indoctrination training. There is no noticeable difference between the WAVES and SPARS training. Miss Silberkraus chose the latter reserve branch because she would be accepted more promptly.

The official uniform, like that of the WAVES with the exception of the insignia on the hat, will be provided by an allowance of $200. The uniform consists of "everything that shows," not including shoes and gloves. Shoes for general wear must have an inch and one-half high heel, the dress heel may be two inches high.

The SPARS are keeping in step with the times by wearing beige lisle stockings. Miss Silberkraus was instructed to cut her hair so that it "cleared the collar."

The base pay of an apprentice seaman is $50, increasing with rank. Miss Silberkraus, who is interested in communications work, will be assigned to duty at a base where she can release a man for active service. Among the possibilities are Miami, San Diego, Norfolk, Washington, D. C., or any other Coast Guard establishment.

IWA Raffles Defense Stamps at Vic Dance

Raffling one dollar's worth of defense stamps will highlight IWA's record dance in Atherton Hall playroom 9:30 p. m. to midnight Friday night, Marjorie A. Magargel, president of IWA, announced last night.

Miss Magargel also announced the coeds who were elected as IWA representatives from Anchorage and Wiley dormitories. The Anchorage representative is Berenda Weinberg and Marjorie S. Medland is alternate. Elenor Chapman is representative for Wiley dormitory, and Jane Spiewak alternate.

Let's make it a weekend of Bowling at

THE STATE BOWLING CENTER

PHONE 4082
116 S. McAllister Street

CLASSIFIED WANT-ADS

LOST—Four one dollar bills. If found, please return to 37 Atherton Hall. Reward.
1t.chg.-2-4

FOR SALE—Double-breasted tuxedo. Size 37-long. Excellent condition, has been worn five times. Call Free, 2464.
3t.chg.-4,5,6,B

HELP WANTED—Housemaid for Delta Theta Sigma Fraternity. Call 2011, ask for Ed Procter.
3t 2 chg REM

FOR RENT—Rooms, warm and close to campus. Call or phone Kimmel, 243 South Pugh Street. Phone 3332.
5tcomp-2-2

FOR RENT—One double and one single room in private home. Preferred graduate student or stenographer. Inquire 232 S. Burrowes. Phone 2596, State College.
2tch-30

FELLOWS live in comfort and quiet at the "300" Club near Campus, good rooms. Call 4304.
3t comp 4

George Washko's CAMPUS OWLS Will Play For "LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY BALL"

February 12,

Entire net proceeds to buy subscriptions for Penn State men in the Armed Forces.

"The Collegian---Campus to Camp"