

Five Lion Boxers To Leave For Wisconsin; Syracuse Drops Out Of Intercollegiates

By BEN FRENCH

Five of Coach Leo Houck's best boxers leave State College tonight at 7 p. m., bound for the National Inter-collegiate Boxing Tournament to be held on the campus of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis., Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Penn State's chances of placing high in the tournament were raised yesterday when it was made known that the boxing team from Syracuse University, winners of the Eastern Inter-collegiates in Syracuse several weeks ago, would not be entered in the Nationals. Syracuse lost the largest part of their team to the Army immediately after the Inter-collegiates.

The chief obstacle in the Lion's path at the tournament will be the Battling Badgers from the University of Wisconsin, who defeated the Lions in Rec Hall on March 19 by the close score of 4 1/2-3 1/2. The final bout between Frankie Hawrylak and Badger Verdayne John decided the 3 1/2-3 1/2 tie.

The Badgers will be the only team to enter a complete team this week. Present national champs in the Badger lineup include Cliff Lutz in the 155 lb. class and George Makris in the 175 lb. class.

Jackie Grey, winner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing crown at 121 pounds earlier this month is entering the Nationals with a good chance to take the feather-weight crown. Grey lost a close bout to Wisconsin's Jackie Gibson in the Badger meet, but he is definitely a much improved fighter and should be at top speed.

Glenn Hawthorne, possessor of a hard left hand and good boxing skill, is scheduled to enter the ring as the Lions choice for 127 lb. honors.

Jackie Tighe in the 145 lb. division is the Lion's most promising entry. Although Jack lost out in the finals at Syracuse, he has improved immensely in workouts the last months. In the Wisconsin matches, he defeated Badger Don Miller in an easy fight.

Lion Captain Billy Richards will be the Lion choice in the 155 lb. class. With a little luck in drawing his opponents, Richards should get at least as far as the semi-finals or even the finals.

Heavyweight Frankie Hawrylak will complete the Lion five-man squad making the Madison trip. Frankie is the type of fighter that likes to stand up and slug it out. Loser by only a few points to Verdayne John in the Wisconsin matches, Frankie is sure that he can defeat the Badger boy in a return fight.

Podunk Prep Wins in Extra Period to Tie IM Basketball Lead

Winning by one point in an extra two minutes of play, Podunk Prep defeated Fletcher House to remain tied for first place with the Vagabonds in the independent intramural basketball playoffs. After four periods of nip-and-tuck ball that finally lead to a 14-14 tie, Podunk's Ammon Kersteter tallied with the victorious foul shot to climax the game in which he also scored four field goals.

Sigma Pi smothered Kappa Sigma in the evening's most one-sided contest to continue to lead the fraternity doings. Jim Gotswalds of the victors was high scorer in the tilt with 11 points.

Beta Theta Pi No. 1, paced by Ernie Giles and Gene Tutherland, continued on Sigma Pi's heels by overpowering Sigma Chi, while the Beta's second team succumbed to Phi Sigma Kappa's No. 1 boys.
