

Net Team Opens Season Today at Swarthmore

With hopes for better weather conditions than they have had during the Spring season in State College, Penn State's varsity tennis squad left this morning for Swarthmore, where they will tackle the Swarthmore netmen in the first fray of the season for both teams.

On only four days this year have the racquetsters been able to practice outdoors. Even so, the lineup is strong with four lettermen to bear the brunt of the attack.

Cy Hull, number one man on the summer edition, will play in that bracket again, and will also join Ace Parker to swap serves with the Swarthmore first doubles combination. Parker, who was on the ineligible list during the summer months, will once again get back into varsity shorts to tackle the number two Swarthmore singles player.

Two men are in the running for the number three singles slot, according to Coach Ray Dickinson. Herb Kraybill, returning letterman, and Walt Stenger, capable newcomer, have battled on even terms during the spring conditioning matches. Both will see action today, the number three choice probably falling to Kraybill, while Stenger will take on the Eastern Pennsylvanians' number four man.

Freshman Russ Campbell will get the nod for the number five spot from the Lion mentor, while either Jim Lawther or Dick Armbrust will be called upon to play in the sixth position. Lawther has been out for the team only a week, but is rounding into condition quickly. Armbrust played third doubles with Kraybill under Roethke during the summer.

In the other two doubles matches, Stenger and Kraybill will take on the Swarthmore second doubles combine, while Campbell and either Lawther or Armbrust tackle the third doubles team.

Newcomers to the squad who are showing good form in the eyes of Dickinson are Bob Gruver and Dan Moses. However, they will not accompany the squad today.

The Swarthmore team is known to be strong. Coach Fortner, mentor of the Garnet, is a former Davis Cup player, and has had his netmen practicing daily on their indoor fieldhouse courts over the winter months.

The Sports Parade

Tom Harmon Missing

Michigan's All-American footballer, Tom Harmon, was missing in action with an Army Air Corps flight patrol since April 8, the War Department said yesterday in a communication with the Wolverine's parents in Ann Arbor.

The former football star entered the service over a year ago, and recently received his wings and a commission as first lieutenant. At the time of his disappearance, he was stationed in Puerto Rico, awaiting orders with his crew.

Frank Gustine Injured

Frankie Gustine upset the Pittsburgh Pirates' lineup yesterday when X-rays revealed that the Corsair was suffering from a fractured hand and would be unable to start at short in the opener at Chicago next Wednesday. Skipper Frank Frisch may move Bob Elliot to short from third, and make a third-sacker out of Vince DiMaggio to fill the gap.

Temple's baseball team was left standing at the altar several days ago when the West Virginia nine failed to arrive for a scheduled game. Hurried phone calls found that the Mountaineers had abolished baseball for the duration, but failed to notify their opponents. Tomorrow afternoon, the Owls come to Penn State to meet the Bedenk squad in the opening home game.

Ewell to Compete In 100-Yard Event Of Penn Relays

Distance Meets May Draw Large Crowds

Pvt. Barney Ewell, former Penn State track star, will compete in the 49th annual Penn Relay Carnival set for April 23 and 24.

Almost 2,500 athletes from the armed services, high schools, colleges and industrial plants will pit their skill against each other in more than 60 events at Franklin Field.

Penn State will enter four relay squads along with several field entries for the gigantic track and field day program. Coach Conger's thinclads will compete in the sprint and distance medleys, the two-mile and the four-mile relays. Blue and White field men will also enter several of the events.

Ewell will run in the 100-yard dash event and will have several opponents well known for their speed and running ability. Eulace Peacock of the Manhattan Coast Guard training school is also entered in this event. Barney, now a soldier at Camp Lee, was holder of three IC4-A titles for three consecutive years.

The relay events are expected to attract the largest crowds, for such teams as Indiana, Michigan, Notre Dame, Manhattan, Pitt, Syracuse, Fordham, Army, Navy, West Virginia, NYU, Princeton and Columbia are sending squads into the competition as well as Penn State.

Greg Rice, crack two-miler who has been undefeated for three years, will be opposed by Colgate's IC4-A indoor two-mile champion, Glenn Masten, and several other top-ranking collegiate distance runners. This will be Rice's first race on the outdoor cinders for the Spring season.

Russians to Hold Party

Members of Alpha Rho Omega, national Russian club, will hold a bowling party this evening. Members are requested to meet in the second floor lounge of Old Main, 8 o'clock tonight, from where they will leave for the State Bowling Center.

Ridenour Eligible for Title Of 'Best Nittany Wrestler'

(Third of a Series)

If anyone ever takes the time to choose the best wrestler that ever went to Penn State, Charlie Ridenour will stand an able chance to add that title to the growing number of crowns he has amassed during the past few years.

This season, the "Little Doc" teamed up with Sammy Harry to pilot the Spiedel-absent team through their 1943 season. Paul entire season without being beaten in dual competition.

The next year, the little muscle man stepped into the varsity, but ran into trouble with Bob Eberly, of Princeton, who was thrice Eastern champ, and Frank Bailey, captain of the Lehigh aggregation. Nevertheless, upon entering the EIWA title race at Columbia that year, he started his long winning streak by copping the 121-pound crown.

In the 1942 season, he battled his way through an undefeated year, took the 121-pound championship for the second time in a row, and won third place in the Nationals by pinning three men in the eliminations. Meet officials awarded him the trophy for the most falls when the tourney ended.

This winter, Malcolm MacDonald of Navy was the only man to beat the Nittany grappler, but this did not stop him from winning the Eastern championship for the third straight year, and become the first man in Penn State history to win more than two titles in his college career.

Although the National tourney was cancelled this year, Ridenour went to New York City two weeks ago and won the AAU title. He is now awaiting call from the Army Air Corps, but will return to Penn State as assistant wrestling coach when the war is over.

New Physics Building Just 'Two-Thirds There'

Within its walls are five floors of classrooms, two lecture rooms, and a series of laboratories devoted to research and study. The addition will consist mainly of classrooms to allow for future expansion. The present classrooms in the east wing are so constructed that they can be converted into laboratories for experiments, to increase those already functioning on the second floor.

When the housing committee of the physics and chemistry staff formulated the plans, the entire building was laid out in this way. There were provisions for accommodating future increases in the enrollment by making possible the conversion of many rooms now used for other purposes into laboratories for experimental study.
