

CA Freshmen Coeds' Camp Scheduled For Weekend

Frosh Council Forum To Meet Next Week

The Penn State Christian Association will hold freshman women's camp at the CA cabin located on Mount Tussey from tomorrow afternoon until Sunday morning, according to Harriet Van Riper, newly elected president.

Freshmen and upperclass women counselors will leave from the rear of Old Main at 2 p.m., Miss Van Riper stated.

Counselors include Margaret Ramaley, camp chairman; Jeanne Ogden, Elizabeth Pike, Jean Butz, Gloria McKinley, Patricia Diener, Barbara Anderson, Christine Grant, Lois Lunn, and Ruth Pielmier. Music will be directed by Jane McChesney and food arrangements by Katherine Miller.

Freshman women will be divided into groups of ten, with three counselors sponsoring a group. Thus activities and general information will be presented to those attending.

A closing worship service will be held on top of the mountain early Sunday morning. Miss Agnes Highsmith, CA secretary, and Miss Jean Hershberger, retiring president, will be present.

Freshman Women's Forum

The first meeting of freshman women's forum will be held in the Hugh Beaver room at 7:30 Tuesday, according to Jean Butz, retiring forum president.

Miss Butz and Elizabeth Shenk, former forum secretary, will be in charge of service stunts planned to explain various phases of CA work. Freshman women will then

Library Exhibits Children's Books

"An Exhibition of Books Made for Children" has just been placed in the lobby of the College Library. This display is lent by the American Institute of Graphic Arts and will be on exhibit throughout the month of July.

The books represent the best in book illustrating and writing for children in the years 1937 through 1941. The work of Clare Newberry, Wanda Gag, Artzybasheff, Helen Sewell, and Rockwell Kent is represented illustrating stories by Walter Edmonds, Cornelia Meigs, Ludwig Bemelmans, and others.

Material in the exhibit falls into three main groups, picture books, story books for young children, and informational books.

Large posters have been placed in wall cases at the back of the lobby of the library. These are in two series. One group shows illustrations of children's literature done in the older style by Thomas Nast, Winslow Homer, and Alexander Anderson. The second group provides examples of prize winning contemporary work by Lathrop, Thomas Handforth, the d'Aulaires, and N. C. Wyeth.

Dean Warnock Calls Counselors' Meeting

All Student Counselors and members of the Executive Committee will meet with Dean Warnock in the Hugh Beaver room, Old Main, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, according to Dan Gillespie, chairman of the committee.

The counselors will discuss Dean Warnock's plan to have the activities of the Student Counselors continue throughout this semester. Suggestions made by the counselors on the basis of the recent Freshman Week activities will provide the foundation for this continued program.

Members of the committee are Dan Gillespie, chairman; Wallace E. Almquist, Frederick P. Boody, Walter Berg, Darl D. Gillespie, Robert D. Williams, and Hank Harman.

sign up for the branch in which they are interested.

At this time Harriet Van Riper, president, will be presented. Margaret Ramaley, Miriam Zartman, and Patricia Middleton will also be introduced and will participate in the program.

Freshman Men's Council

The initial meeting of freshman men's council will be held in the Hugh Beaver room at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday headed by Palmer Sharpless and Daniel Gillespie.

A discussion of the past work and activities of the freshman men's council will be outlined by Reagan Houston, Richard Tittley, Robert Crane, and James Ziegler.

Interest check system will be distributed. Plans for freshman men's camp to be held July 17th and 18th will be presented by Ned Wibenga and Charles Hoag.

Visual Training Course Offered

Success in bringing the vision of many rejectees up to Army, Navy, and Air Corps standards has led the Reading Clinic at the College to offer a special two-weeks short course this summer in the techniques of visual re-education.

Starting August 18, the course will be part of the College's regular summer sessions. Dr. Emmett A. Betts, director of the Reading Clinic, believes that faulty vision is often due to poor seeing habits, and that corrective visual exercises can be used to develop better brain patterns of seeing.

The course on visual re-education is planned to be of especial interest to vision specialists, school psychologists, orthoptic technicians, nurses, and others.

College Songs Set Cadence For Arrival Of ROTC Men

Marching to the familiar strains of "Fight On State" 79 Advanced ROTC men who have not completed their academic college courses returned to their Alma Mater. The men, who came from the New Cumberland Induction Center Monday night, are being housed in Barracks 33 and 3, formerly the Phi Sigma Kappa and Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity houses.

These men will pay their own fees until they complete the courses they formerly pursued in College. The government, however, will house and feed them and they will be under full military regulation and control. When their courses are completed the men will go to officers' candidate school; at present they are not under the Army Specialized Training Program.

Army headquarters has issued no statement concerning possible participation in College sports activities for these men. Among them are a number of varsity football players who made up the nucleus of last year's team. Home-comers in uniform are Linn F. Adams, Rodman H. Bean, Wayne R. Bechdel, Roscoe E. Blyler, Charles H. Brasuell, William M. Briner Jr., Clifford M. Brown, Earl F. Brown, Jack W. Brown, Harold A. Bryson, Willard H. Carmean, Leonard R. Catanoso, Aldo Cenci.

Dean Warnock Stresses Need For Seriousness During Term

Civilian men students meeting in Schwab Auditorium Tuesday night were given an explanation of the situation at the College this semester by Dean of Men A. R. Warnock, Dean Carl P. Schott of the School of Physical Education, and A. O. Morse, assistant to the president in charge of resident instruction.

Dean Warnock told the group what is expected of them during the present term, emphasizing in particular the need for seriousness and staying on the job with a sober attitude toward their work.

"Manners must be in keeping with the times," Dean Warnock said, and asked the men to remember that their right to the status they now held depends a great deal on the attitude they take towards their job, which is primarily preparation for service in the war effort. He also reminded them of a few rules of conduct in general, and spoke of the delations between the men in uniform and those not.

Speaking generally of the physical recreation side of the picture, Dean Schott outlined the present facilities of the College and enumerated the various activities that open to undergraduates. He also explained the services that the College is providing for the training of the Armed Forces in his department. Dean Schott pointed out in particular the need for physical fitness for those about to enter the service, illustrating his point with a story about the sinking of the Wasp, when one officer declared that many lives were lost because of physical weakness.

Civilian students at the College hold a slight edge over those in uniform, according to Mr. Morse who gave the figures for the pre-

Air Corps Offers "Penn Prop Patter"

A group of 30 air corps students under the direction of Stephen W. Kopcha have organized a four-page paper now in its third week of existence. Formerly called "The Orphan," "Penn Prop Patter," gained this new cognomen through a contest sponsored by the staff.

The paper comes out every Friday and is distributed by Ira Schneider, circulation manager, and other students before 5 p.m.

Through this medium, the group will be able to keep in step with the activities of the other barracks and their united duties.

The staff, which works in its free time includes, Stephen W. Kopcha, editor in chief; Jules Resnick, news editor; Joseph E. Megliola, feature editor; Kohler McInnis, editorial editor; Kenneth G. Perry and Donald Petrella, sports and music editors respectively.

Ridge Riley Appointed To Alumni Position

H. Ridge Riley, Collegian editor in 1932 and assistant director of the College Department of Public Information, has been appointed assistant executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

Riley has been employed by the College since his graduation in 1932. For the past nine years he acted as sports editor and for the last two years he supervised general news in addition to his sports responsibilities.

Prior to his employment in the Department of Public Information, Riley served for a year as graduate manager of student publications, and a year as Student Union manager.

Russian Club to Meet

The Russian Club will hold its first meeting in the second floor lounge of Old Main at 2 o'clock tomorrow. All Russian or Greek Catholic service men are invited.

23 Candidates Vie

This is the first time that elections will be conducted on a semester basis rather than the class year system and Brawn reminds all civilian students who are eligible to vote that their duty this year to vote is doubly important.

Person elected eighth semester president will assume chairmanship of the cabinet, while the treasurer becomes interclass financial chairman.

Elections will be held in the first floor lounge, Old Main, July 15 and 16.

Brooks Heads New La Vie Staff

Results of La Vie elections, held at the end of last semester, have been announced by Rozanne Brooks, new editor-in-chief of the yearbook.

Assisting Miss Brooks are Wanda Alexander, managing editor; Rita Rokosz, Ruth Frietag, Hannah Frankel, and Naomi Woolever, members of the editorial board.

Students who left school to enter the armed forces and were awarded honorary positions are Jimmy Payne, co-editor; John Watkins, co-managing editor; and Wayne La Poe and Stephen Sini-chak, editorial board members.

All eighth semester students who are graduating in August must fill out their blue activity sheets when they pay their fees at the Armory, Miss Brooks stated. La Vie will be published in August and this information must be in on time.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS Prevents the "Bonds"

Before our fighting pilots take to the air for stratosphere flying they must be "suped-up." To do this the pilot just before he takes off pedals a stationary motor driven bicycle to reduce the amount of nitrogen in his blood. Otherwise gas bubbles would collect in his blood stream.

The stationary bicycle is an expensive piece of equipment, but the vast quantities of this and other materials of war make it imperative for all of us to keep our fighting men well supplied by greater and greater purchases of War Bonds.
