

Out-of-Door Activities Fill WRA Field Day

Co-Rec Night Planned As Second Rally

Chalking up coming calendar events of fun and entertainment for regular and special students and service men, WRA will hold its first Field Day on Holmes Field at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 17, followed the next week by Co-Rec Night, according to Adele J. Levin, president. Indefinite plans are under way for a formal dance and intramural sports.

Featuring games, relay races, softball, and novelty races, the complete schedule of Field Day activities will take place out of doors. Winners of the novelty races will receive prizes. Refreshments will be sold to round out the program. In case of rain, the program will be cancelled.

Followed by Co-Rec Night, also outdoors, this second rally will be Saturday, July 24, at 7:30 p.m., also for students, service men, Curtiss-Wright Cadettes, and Hamilton Propeller girls. The activities starting the program, archery, volleyball, softball, badminton, table tennis, and bridge, will be supplemented by square dancing on the Atherton Hall parking lot at 8:30. In charge of the selling of refreshments are Penny Embury and Vivian Martin. Elizabeth McKinley, club activities chairman, has charge of the event.

The first coed group to sponsor a formal dance this summer, WRA will hold its at 9 p.m. July 31. Music for the dance, at which girls will play escorts, will be provided by a campus orchestra, and special features will vary the program. Tickets will sell for $1.10.

Softball practice turned down its last stretch this week, and games will begin next week on Holmes Field from 4:15 to 7:15 p.m. Teams will be selected from candidates.

Curtiss-Wright Cadettes Plan Formal Dance

Curtiss-Wright Cadettes are uniting with Hamilton Propeller women students in sponsoring a formal dance in White Hall from 8 to 12 p.m. tomorrow, according to Jane Vernon, Curtiss-Wright president.

Jack Meyer and his band composed of State College boys will play and refreshments will be served. General Chairman Carolyn Collins will be assisted by Jean Bella, Nancy Blanche, Nancy Carpenter, Frances Chandler, Leola Freeman, Jean Hilt, Jane Schwing, and Patricia Young, all Curtiss-Wright Cadettes.

Cadettes planned the woman-ask-man affair, and invited the Hamilton Propeller students to be guests.

A four-day vacation, their only time off until December 15, will be given the Curtiss-Wright Cadettes from July 15 to 20.

Summer Session Plans War Film Series

The summer session of the School of Education will present a series of films concerning aeronautics in Room 316, Sparks building, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, according to Dean Marion L. Trabue of the School of Education.

The program includes "Theory of Flight," "Airscrew," "Modern Weather," and "Construction of a Light Airplane." The second part of the program will feature a film in conjunction with actual war conditions photographing the use of airplanes in English warfare entitled "Target for Tonight."

Townspersons, students, and service men are invited.

College, Student Groups Purchase War Bonds

War bonds totalling $220,545.50 have been bought by student organizations of the College and by the College itself, officials announced last week.

Student government groups voted to put funds from the four undergraduate classes into $32,400 worth of bonds. From its trust fund the College purchased $174,720.50 worth.

Six other groups who also have bought bonds include Class of 1942, $7,325; Estelle H. Hetzel Loan Fund, $2000; Class of 1937, $2000; Women's Recreation Association, $1400; Penn State Players, $500; and the Penn State Club, $200.

Blatz Heads Cheerleaders

Michael Blatz has been appointed head cheerleader for the Summer semester, according to an announcement made this week. Twelve of the squad have left for the armed forces within the last semester and Blatz will make the thirteenth when he enters the Navy Air Corps in August.

28 Answer Collegian Call for Candidates

Twenty-eight persons answered Collegian's call for editorial candidates Wednesday. Students who were not able to attend that meeting may still come out for the staff if they attend the next meeting in the Collegian office, Carnegie Hall, 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Persons who were at last week's meeting are Bernice Alpert, Nancy Carastro, James Dannenberg, Phillip Dans, Victor Danilov, Ruth Dantsker, Edith Fuller, Richard Glickman, Robert Himle, Irene Kelin, Claire Kohn, Roger Levin, Harold Mehr, Betsy Merkle, Gerson Miller, Harriet Miller, Peter Palmer, Seymour Parker, Arthur Peck, Ilaine Qunt, Ted Rubin, Marjorie Rubinow, Lucille Rosenblum, Irwin Shishko, Ruth Sprague, Patricia Tuck, Shirlee Wenger, and Samuel Youngman.

Manufacturers of ice cream are encountering difficulties in carrying out plans of the Department of Agriculture to have them go into the frozen fruit and vegetable business on a big scale. Equipment shortages and transportation problems indicate that the program will not get under way in real earnest until next year.

The members of this organization are chosen for excelling in leadership, scholarship and activities.

Reading Clinic Course To Banish Gremlins That Slow Study

Students at the College can wave goodbye to these gremlins which make it hard to read and study.

A new course to help college students read, spell, and study better is being offered in the Reading Clinic in the Summer semester.

No longer will the reading gremlins slow down a student's rate of reading, or keep him from understanding what he has read. No longer will spelling gremlins enjoy mixing up "a's" and "e's" and twisting "ie" and "ei," or the study gremlins make it take twice as long to learn a lesson.

The course is differentiated in terms of the students' needs, Dr. Betts, director of the Reading Clinic, explained. Groupings are made within a class to care for individual needs. One teacher supervises a group of students, each of whom is working to correct his own deficiency. This individualized method of instruction has been used in the grades but is novel at the college level.

Upperclasswomen Schedule Sunday For Pop-in Night

Hall Election Dates Set by WSGA Senate

Sunday night between 8 and 9 p.m. has been set aside for the annual upperclasswomen Pop-in Night on freshmen, it was decided in WSGA Senate meeting Wednesday night. Frosh will pop in on upperclasswomen Sunday, July 18.

WSGA freshman senator will be elected during the regular WRA elections this semester, Ruth Storer, WSGA president, stated. Nominations for officers in upper-class dormitories will be made next week while freshman hall nominations and elections will be Monday, July 19, in charge of Helen Martin, Freshman Council chairman.

Eleven o'clocks for summer session students were established permanently at Wednesday's meeting.

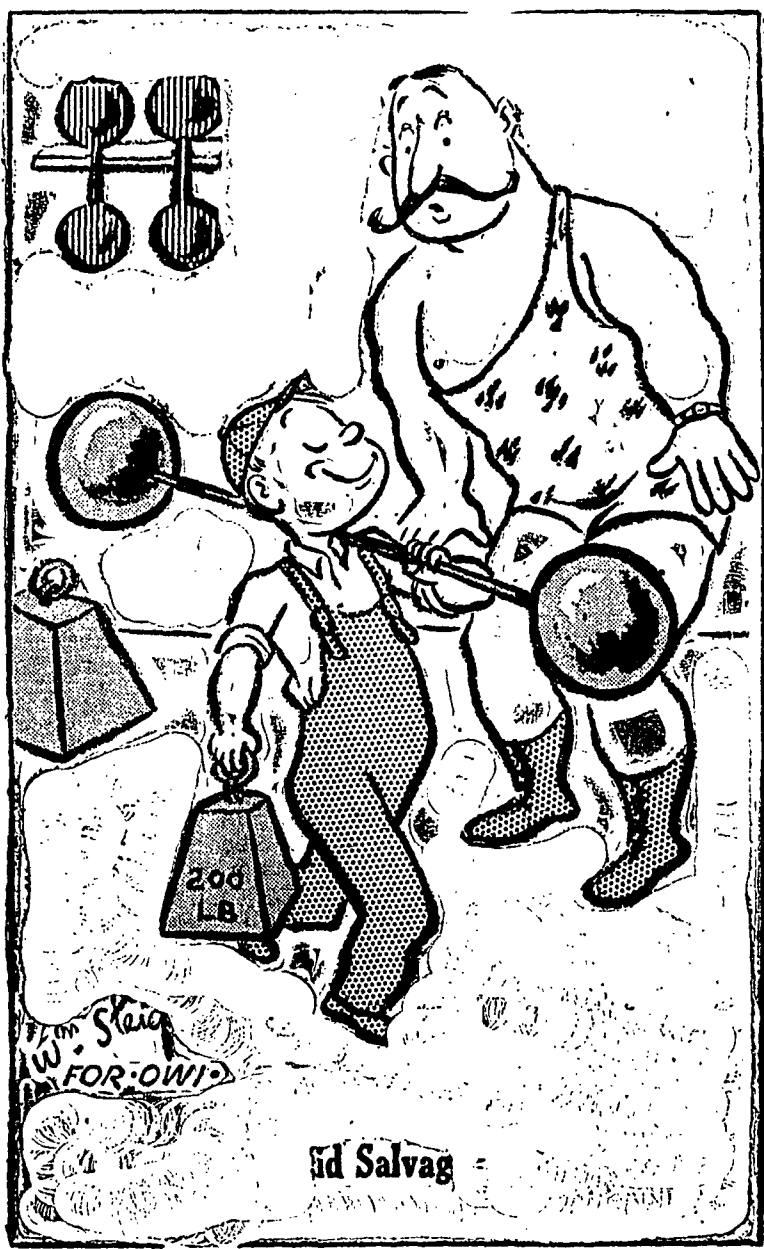

Chairmen for dormitory table arrangements, as announced by Miss Storer, are Jane Cromis, Atherton west, first shift; Joan Somers and Marcella Chervenak, Atherton east, first shift; Vivian Martin and Dorothy Jennings, Atherton west, second shift; Miss Martha Chubb, McAllister Hall hostess, Atherton east, second shift.

Curtiss-Wright and Hamilton propeller presidents and vice-presidents will be guests at next week's WSGA Senate meeting.

Elizabeth Furst was appointed to coordinate WSGA Senate service entertainment programs with those of the town Community Service Center.
