which are considered more practical than those used in previous years, will be devised by this year's group. One of these will be serving time to keep the campus clean.

Any person can turn in the name of a violator to Student Union or any member of Tribunal. It is not necessary for such persons to state their names but if a violator appears before the group and denies the accusation, it is necessary for the person who reported the freshman to appear and back up his report. In such a case the reporter's word is considered true.

Kessler listed a new penalty which will be enforced this year in addition to those employed in other years. It is necessary for freshmen to tip their hats when passing the Lion Shrine. Kessler also stated that a new law will be enforced prohibiting upperclassmen as well as freshmen from climbing, walking on surrounding grass, or defacing the Lion Shrine.

Kessler stated that all men desiring to be excused from customs for various reasons, should report to Tribunal's meeting 7 p.m. Wednesday. The place will be posted at Student Union next week.

Helme Lists Exhibits For MI Art Gallery

Annual Summer Session Exhibition of the Division of Fine Arts will take place Wednesday and Thursday, August 4 and 5, in the Art Gallery of the Mineral Industries School, according to J. Burn Helme, director of this division.

Immediately following this exhibition, there will be a traveling display in the same gallery. This will also be sponsored by the Division of Fine Arts, with the exposition coming direct from the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

This exhibit is entitled "Tunisian Triumph," with the war photographs by Eliot Elisofon. Regular students, as well as town patrons and service men, are invited.
