Houck Sets Back Boxing Tourney

relative to my appearing as referee at the final boxing bouts to be held Saturday evening. August 21st.

I am sorry that I must decline your very kind invitation to attend these bouts however. I have already made arrangements to go on leave the 20th of August.

Thanking you for your invitation and with kindest personal regards, I remain,

Sincerely Jack Demosev

been asked to referee the bouts, stating that earlier arrangements would force him to refuse the bid to come to Penn State.

Dempsey is at present a lie ant commander in the Coast Guard, stationed at Manhattan Beach, N Y. The "Manassa Mauler" explained in a letter to Houck that he had already made plans to go on leave the day before the fights.

Houck immediately began cor-respondence to other celebrities in the sporting world, hoping to obtain a referee of national prominence for the finals. Al Pyle, professional referee who handled many of Billy Soose's bouts, will be the third man in the ring next

Men who have already signed for the tourney were urged to report to Rec Hall each night next inc. week to go through the final week of conditioning in preparation for their public debut on August 21. Houck has made arrangements to have gloves and punching bags available for any of the entrants next week.

Women Invited To WRA Playnight

WRA will conduct an informal Playnight for all woman students in White Hall from 7 until 9:30 tomorrow night, according to Elizabeth J. McKinley, president.

All recreational facilities will be available and coeds may play bridge, badminton, and ping pong, and swimming will be offered. Refreshments will be served.

Mottie Haverstick WRA Bowling Club president; Mary Grace Longnecker, WRA Executive Board member; and Miss Dixon, faculty member, are in charge of the affair.

New club presidents elected during the week-include Madeline Mahurin, replacing Hattie Van Riper in the Dance Club; Virginia Steinhaur, taking over the Outing Club in place of retiring Carolyn Crooks; and Mary Alice Carswell replacing Florence Rothman as the Archery Club head.

Hayakawa Speaks

Meeting in final sessions today, teachers, psychologists, and clinicians attending the seminar on differentiated reading instruction, will hear Prof. S. I. Hayakawa continue his lectures on the Semantic (or word study) approach to reading. Havakawa will speak in 10 Sparks at 10:30 this morn-

The speaker, a member of the faculty of Illinois University, Chicago, is the author of "Language in 'Action.''

"To underline democracy in government with democracy in the classroom is the purpose of the seminar," according to E. A. Betts, head of the College reading clinic

Betts says that "giving Johnny a third grade primer just because he happens to be in the third grade" is the wrong approach to the reading problem because of the wide variation in reading abilities of public school pupils.
