

WSSF Promotes Universal Refugee Students' Aid

Contributions to the World Student Service Fund are now being made at Room 304, Old Main, according to Christine Yohe, in charge of the committee of PSCA members. The drive is to solicit universal aid for direct relief for students and professors who are victims of war all over the world. Many sororities have given individual gifts and several other campus groups have thus far contributed.

Little more than half of the $1,000 goal set up by the College has been reached. Numerous other universities over the country are now conducting drives.

Sponsored by the International Student Service, the World Student Christian Federation, cooperating with the National Student Federation of America, the Institute of International Education, the Jewish Student Organization of New York, and the Chinese Student Christian Federation.

In China, 75 per cent of the students are on relief since the living costs are 30 times greater than in 1937.

Six hundred thousand students dispossessed from 1,855 institutions have been working behind the front.

British, Belgian, French, Polish, and Serbian students are in German prison camps. Many thousands are now studying "universities of captivity" with help from WSSF.

Upon American students and faculty rests the responsibility of saving this student generation for the future, according to Miss Yohe.

Students and faculty are urged to send in any contributions possible, Miss Yohe added.

Sigma Delta Chi Elects Three New Officers

Three former Penn Staters now stationed at the College with the Navy, have been elected to positions in Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism honorary, according to announcement from Larry T. Chervanek, president of the society.

Those men elected are as follows: Thomas B. Wheatley, vice-president; Arthur P. Miller, secretary; and Rembrandt C. Robinson, treasurer. These new officers were elected to replace former officers who are now in the army.

Choose 'Thriller' Cast-

Wesley Wagner and Owen Spann play a couple of the bewildered but innocent old gentlemen who are near-victims of the Brewster sisters.

Mrs. Dorothy Scott, assistant in dramatics, will design the set for the production but the full list of technical crews has not been settled yet, according to Doris Lavine, who is assisting Neusbaum.

Announce 'Variety'

Tony Hail, Navy V-12, and Dorothy Morrow will wind up the program with a jitterbug tap routine.

Tickets are available at the Service Center and Student Union, and must be presented at the Saturday evening performance, which begins at 7:30 p.m. No tickets are necessary at the 3 o'clock show Sunday.

Only 12 In Class

There were only 12 students in the first class to graduate from the College in 1862.

Woman Makes Out! State Alumna Directs Gridders At Bell High

The war effort of the weaker sex added another feather to its well-filled cap with the appointment this week of Miss Pauline Rugh as head coach of football at Bell Township High.

In accepting this position, Miss Rugh steps into the big shoes of Dom Rich, whose Bell Township teams have long been a power in WPIAL football.

Miss Rugh, a native of Saltsburg, Pa., is a graduate of Penn State and learned her basic football knowledge at home from her football playing brothers.

As Penn State's pigskin scrimmagers get down to the pre-season practice grind, Miss Rugh quietly packs her grips and checks the time tables for our Nittany institution. Lion mentor Bob Higgins will act as host to Miss Rugh for the next few days, when this "femme unusual" returns to her Alma Mater to gain some fine points about the sport from Higgins and his staff.

While a student here, Miss Rugh majoried in physical education and was a member of the Physical Education Student Council and the Student-Faculty Relations Committee. She was president of Lakonides, women's physical education honorary sorority, in her senior year.

ASTP Ends Tournament Weekend With Dance At Rec Hall

Rounding out a Tournament Weekend, Army specialized men will end their present semester and prepare for a seven-day leave. The weekend will be climaxed by an informal dance in Rec Hall from 8 to 12 tomorrow night.

Afternoon activities include golf, tennis, and softball tournaments. A boxing match will precede the dance in Rec Hall from 7 to 8 tomorrow night. Featured in the pugilistic event will be Navy and Marine contestants.

The Campus Owls have been engaged to play for the dance which will be special invitation only. Staff members of the Navy, Marine, and Army groups on campus as well as College administrative heads have been invited to attend the dance. There will be program favors for guests.

The Army Specialized Training Program ends officially September 4. These men have been training in special fields for future positions in the Army which they will acquire after their leave ends. Three hundred men have successfully passed the courses. They will be succeeded by a new class of ASTP men. They have been housed in the Locust Lane fraternity section.

PS Club To Continue All-College Dancing Class

All-college dancing classes, sponsored by the Penn State Club will continue to be held in the Armory from 8 to 9:30 Tuesday and Thursday evenings for the remainder of the semester, according to Edmund R. Koval, chairman. All interested in learning to dance or improving their steps are invited to attend.

Marjorie Magargel, instructor, will teach a variety of dance steps. A party is being planned for the last class.

Students are reminded that the club is sponsoring vic dances in the Armory every Friday evening.

Clements To Make Chapel Address

Dr. Rex Stowers Clements of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, Bryn Mawr, will be the Chapel speaker this week. "What We Mean by Faith" will be the topic of his address.

Mr. Clements was graduated from Colgate University in 1926, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In 1929 he received his B.D. degree from Yale University. Dr. Clements obtained his Ph.D. from the University of Edinburgh in 1931.

Since that time Mr. Clements has been assistant minister of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, and pastor of the Church of Covenant, Boston.

Dr. Clements is now director of the Haverford School, director of the Philadelphia Federation of Churches, and a member of Main Line YMCA. He is also a member of Phi Alpha and of the Philadelphia Cleric. The speaker is president of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Churches of the United States.

Snack Bar Closes

Because of troubles with delivery and lack of sales goods, Old Main's first floor snack bar will be closed temporarily, according to an announcement made this week.

PSCA Forum, Council Plan Joint Programs

PSCA freshman organizations will unite for the remainder of the semester, it was decided by both groups according to their presidents, Mary Margaret Dunlap and Victor Danilov. First meeting of the joint group is scheduled for 304 Old Main at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Program for the meeting will include a panel discussion on "Dates At State" in which the frosh will participate. Chinese students will describe "China Today," it was announced.

South American students enrolled here will present a program about their continent before the group September 20. Officers reminded students that all freshmen are invited to the meetings.

Cabinet Plans-

former gridiron days was the puzzler Laibe Kessler, Tribunal chairman, put before the group. Chairman Harry Kern appointed Service Representatives Grey ROTC, John L. Lindsey, Marines, Albert Voden, Navy, and T. J. Watkins, Air Corps, to find the solution.

The possibility of preparing for the service groups stationed on campus a pamphlet showing general layout and other points of interest was suggested by H. Ridge Riley, Alumni Association Secretary. Committee Chairman Richard Marsh, with Ciallela, Alice Fox, Joan Piollet, and M. J. Winter will work with Riley in preparation of the booklet.

Reporting the result of discussions with town movie managers, Smith revealed the following points concerning the selection of shows: (1) Although the town managers, controlled by the Pittsburgh branch of Warner Brothers, may select their own reels, they must make this selection in blocks of five pictures. Hence one good picture may be accompanied by four not so good; (2) Westerns are booked at the State until September 11. Beginning September 6 the house will initiate three-day runs on reels; (3) the Nittany theater can not be reopened until the advent of cooler weather since it has no air conditioning. (4) weekends will continue to be devoted to Westerns for the benefit of town children.

Debating Team To Make Three Radio Broadcasts

Special events for the men's debate squad during September will include three radio debates and a round table forum, according to James Trimarchi, manager of the group.

The first half-hour radio program will be broadcast over WMRF in Lewistown at 2:45 p.m. September 6. It will be an inter-squad debate on the topic, "Should the United Nations revive the League of Nations as the form of post-war organization?"

Two other discussions will be held in New York on September 15 and 16, when the team will oppose Columbia University. The first will be aired over station CURC at 9 p.m. on the subject, "Should the accelerated college program be continued after the war?" with Penn State upholding the affirmative side.

At 4:30 the following afternoon, a debate on "Should the Smith-Connolly Labor Disputes Act be repealed?" will be broadcast over WNYC, with Columbia taking the affirmative. All speeches will be limited to two and a half minutes.

The round table forum, with the YMCA of New York City, will be held at Sloane House at 8:30 p.m. September 16. It will follow the "American Town Meeting of the Air" program, and will be a continuation of the topic discussed.

Steel, Aircraft, Radio Interviews For Seniors

Metallurgical, chemical, industrial and mechanical engineers, and business administration majors will be interviewed Tuesday and Wednesday by R. N. McGee, representative of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company. McGee will show a film dealing with the steel industries in the Art Gallery of the Mineral Industries building, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Thompson Aircraft will send a representative to the campus September 9 and 10 to discuss vocational opportunities with mechanical, chemical, metallurgical, and industrial engineers.

Physicists and electrical engineers will be interviewed September 10 by the National Union Radio Company.
