Dean Praises Coeds In Hamilton Program For High Scholarship

Twenty-three Hamilton Standard Propeller coeds made the Dean's List for the term ending September 4, according to Dean Harry Hammond of the School of Engineering. This record is similar to that of the Curtiss-Wright Cadettes, 31 of whom were included on the list for the period ending July 15.

"This is an exceptionally high percentage of students to appear on the Dean's List," Mr. Hammond states. "Whereas less than ten per cent of our regular students make the list, 27 per cent of the Hamilton trainees and 31.3 per cent of the Curtiss-Wright Cadettes do."

Dance Series Continues

Penn State Club plans to hold another of its weekly dances in the Armory from 8:30 until 12 p.m. Friday, announced Edmund R. Koval, president. Social Chairman Harold Weller urges members of the social dancing classes to take advantage of the club's record collection. All other students and servicemen will be welcomed.

No new whiskey will be manufactured in 1943. If you can't get your spirits down, you at least can keep them up!
