Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray expressed the hope that coeds would turn out for the Governor's convocation address, at Rec Hall Monday, in the following statement:
 "It isn't every college that enjoys the honor of a visit from the Governor of the Commonwealth—an honor coming to Penn State next Monday. If we remember that our College is supported entirely by the State, we realize that the wisdom and faith of Governor Martin are responsible for his approving a generous appropriation when many are urging a false economy in education. The coeds are coming out one hundred per cent strong to the convocation to show their support of the Governor's program."
