

State Official Commends Steidle

Official commendation has been given Dean Edward Steidle of the College's School of Mineral Industries for the mineral industries art gallery he founded.

The unique gallery is spotlighted on the first seven pages of the latest bulletin of the State Department of Internal Affairs. The editorial by Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood Jr., which prefaces the article, commends Dean Steidle for assembling the collection.

"To Dean Steidle's vision and energy the people of this State are indebted for this contribution to our culture, which will become more and more valuable from a historical standpoint as technical developments tend to transform our methods of recovery and manufacture," Mr. Livengood writes. "Already we see in these paintings types of industry now obsolete or extinct, and lost to posterity—but for the pictorial records thus preserved."

The gallery consists of 116 original oil paintings, 3 oil murals, 7 water colors, and 20 prints.

Alderfer Conducts Seminar

Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, professor of political science, will conduct an introductory seminar in administrative objectives each Tuesday at the University of Pennsylvania. The seminar is part of a program dealing with administrative problems and methods utilized by public officials in various fields.

State College Enters National WAC Recruiting Campaign

In connection with the Army's request for 70,000 women for the Women's Army Corps by December 7, State College is participating in the statewide drive for enlistments.

A booth manned by WAC representatives will be set up somewhere in State College so that interested women may get all information they desire. Final recruiting will take place in Altoona.

Burgess A. E. Yougel urged State College women to enter the WAC at a meeting of representatives from community organizations last night. Sgt. Josephine Rothermel and Pvt. Edith Flynn of the Altoona WAC recruiting station explained to the group plans for enlistment of an all-state division of the WAC. Under the state plan, all recruits from Pennsylvania will be stationed together. The same basic salary as exists in the regular Army is followed.

The recruiters urged the committee to bring before State College women the importance of the WAC's services. Women aged from 20 to 50 years are eligible, while no educational requirements other than ability to pass a mental and physical examination are required. Three letters of recommendation from reliable people are also necessary.

Surgical dressings class will begin Wednesday, November 10, at 7:30 p.m. in 112 Home Economics building, Mrs. H. S. Brunner announced yesterday.

CA China Committee To Fete Chinese Prof

The Penn State in China Committee will honor Dr. Wing-tsit Chan, professor of Chinese culture at Dartmouth College, at a luncheon at the Nittany Lion Inn from 12:30 to 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. Chan, who has had more than the average professor's share of adventures, was in China in 1937 when the Japanese attacked Peiping and was also in Honolulu when Pearl Harbor was bombed.

Before taking his present position at Dartmouth, Dr. Chan was professor of Chinese philosophy and institutions at the University of Hawaii. He was secretary and then dean of the faculty at Lingnan University after receiving his Ph.D. degree from Harvard in 1929.

Members of the faculty and staff have been invited to attend the luncheon. Students will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Chan when he speaks at Chapel Sunday.

Tryouts for Chapel Choir

There are several vacancies in the tenor and bass sections of the Chapel Choir. Undergraduates, graduate students, and service men may apply for membership in the organization which meets for regular rehearsal on Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

IWA Plans Reception For Freshman Women

Independent Women's Association will give a reception for freshman women in Atherton Hall southwest lounge from 3:30 until 5 tomorrow afternoon, Flora Bor, social chairman, announced. Assisting her will be Dorothy Wallace, Sarah Massorousky, Barbara Smith, and Jane Wolbarst. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Bor also declared that elections will be held in all freshman dormitories at 9 p.m. Monday for representatives to IWA council. There will also be elections in all upperclass dormitories where vacancies have been left by graduation of former IWA council members.

Players Sponsor Shindig For Actors, Technicians

Players' shindig for this semester, a get-acquainted party for all students who are interested in the dramatic group, will be held in the dramatics office in Schwab Auditorium at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

At that time students may sign up for technical crews and tryouts will be held for the Players' show to follow, "Quality Street," which will be produced December 10 and 11.

No technical or acting experience is necessary and a special invitation has been extended to all freshmen.

Pre-Medical Society meeting will be held in Room 110 Home Economics at 8 p.m. Tuesday, according to Thomas Guinovan, president.

TPA'S Entertain Officer

Theta Phi Alpha entertained Mrs. Katherine K. Moran, national president, at a tea in her honor Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Moran visited the chapter over the weekend.
