Air Corps Exam Today; Bi-Monthly In Future

Army Air Corps examination will be given in 401 Old Main at 9 o'clock this morning by Capt. Herbert R. Smith, U.S.A.A.F., according to Robert E. Galbraith, Faculty Advisor on War Services.

Since few applicants are now applying for the Air Corps, it is probable that in the future, this examination will be given every two weeks.

Galbraith advised those students who received letters of A-12 acceptance, and who wish to join the Enlisted Reserve Corps prior to their 18th birthdays, to take their letters of acceptance and birth certificates to the induction station at 10th and Howard streets, Altoona, for a physical examination and the swearing in. A.S.T. reserve programs begin January 10 and February 10.

Students who will be 18 before the above dates should request voluntary induction from their local draft boards, and present their letters as directed.

Help Of Students, Townspeople Sought In Effort To Prevent Spread Of Colds

The help of students and townspeople was sought today in a concerted effort to prevent the spread of colds and other diseases in the town and on the campus.

The Committee on Welfare and Recreation at the College, in a move designed to forestall any increase in current illnesses, asked Dr. J. P. Ritenour of the College Health Service to recommend precautionary measures.

Dr. Ritenour emphasized that it is to the advantage of everyone to observe these simple rules.

1. Get plenty of rest. Lack of sleep will break down your resistance to cold.
2. Avoid snow and slush. Keep your feet dry and warm by wearing overshoes.
3. Eat good, wholesome food—and eat it at regular intervals.

Don't try to live on sandwiches.

4. Exercise reasonably. Don't overdo it because fatigue oftentimes leads to trouble.

5. Don't put your faith in "cure-alls." Aspirin, cold tablets, and cough remedies are not always the best thing for you.

6. Wash your hands frequently. Personal cleanliness will keep germs at a distance.

7. Wear warm clothing, but avoid sudden changes of temperature. Insist that the classroom is healthfully ventilated.

8. Don't sneeze and cough in the other fellow's face. Use clean tissues and handkerchiefs to cover your cough.

9. Avoid crowds, when possible, because the larger the number the greater the risk.

10. Finally, if illness strikes, go to the dispensary or consult your physician. A delay may mean real sickness, whereas promptness may ward off extended illnesses.

Welfare Council Plans Student Recreation

Plans for improving recreational interests of civilian students and possibilities of improving indoor life in the military barracks were discussed Tuesday by the Council on Recreation and Welfare.

Plans are being made to offer more opportunity to students for dancing, skating, and intramural basketball. Prof. R. E. Galbraith will head a committee planning to collect games, radios, books, and victrolas from townspeople for use in the barracks.

The Council approved of the all-college dance Saturday, February 5. Plans were presented by Harold Bucher, president of Cabinet.

Kappa Kappa Gamma recently re-pledged Elizabeth Yeagley, Lois Cleavre and Eleanor Benet.

Navy, on board the U. S. S. North Carolina.

Dr. Clausen is the author of the following: "Preach It Again," 1922; "The Miracle of Me," 1923; "Pen Portraits of the Twelve," 1924; "The Door That Has No Key," 1924; "The Technique of a Minister," 1925; "Pen Portraits of the Prophets," 1926; "Pen Pictures in the Upper Room," 1927; "Pen Pictures on the Calvary," 1928; "Tested Programs for Special Days," 1928; "The A.
