Selective Service Rules Set National Student Quota

Specialized Men Taken From Military Programs

"A national quota of 10,000 has been established for students who can be occupationally deferred at any one time by reason of pursuing scientific and specialized courses," states the latest bulletin from the national headquarters of the Selective Service System on the subject of student deferment as made public by College authorities.

The following regulations go into effect February 15, 1944:

(1) Change in Policy—The current needs in connection with the war effort require a change in the policy governing the occupational deferment of students. The Army and Navy Specialized Training Programs are providing for the specialized training of a large number of men. This number will furnish a supply of persons in scientific and specialized fields and certain professions adequate for the needs of the armed forces. Therefore, students occupationally deferred should be limited to a number sufficient to meet civilian needs in war production and in support of the war effort.

(2) It is necessary that students in certain professional fields be considered for continued deferment. In certain scientific and specialized fields students who will graduate on or before July 1, 1944, should be considered for deferment until graduation. National quotas have been determined in

PSCA Drive Nets $557 In Two Days

James T. Smith, general secretary of PSCA, has announced that a total of $557 has been received during the first two days by solicitors of the annual student finance canvass drive. The amount donated for this period is approximately the same percentage of the total as in previous years.

Leaders of the drive urge all who have not yet contributed to do so immediately. Solicitors are continuing coverage of their allotted areas, but persons who have not yet been contacted and wish to give to the fund as soon as possible may do so by leaving their contributions at 304 Old Main.

The faculty portion of the canvass reports a total of $1,088. The goal was set at $1,000, but solicitors have not finished their prospective lists. A final list will be available next week.

Birthday Ball Follows Game Tomorrow Night

In conjunction with the current March of Dimes the Key party is sponsoring a President's Birthday Ball at Rec Hall tomorrow night after the basketball game with Juniata. Admission price is 88 cents per couple, and all proceeds will go to the March of Dimes, according to Horace Smith, chairman of the dance committee.

The Campus Owls, who are playing for the Ball, will be on hand when the game begins at 8 p. m., and will play during the halves. Admission to the game will be by A. A. books, as usual, and is open to everyone, regardless of whether or not they will attend the dance.

Budzak Announces First And Second Place Winners In Winter Ball Contest;

Cabinet's War Bond Lottery Winner Will Receive $100 Prize At Winter Ball

Cabinet's War Bond Lottery, which is to be climaxed by the drawing of the winning number at Winter Ball February 5, will get under way this week as Cabinet members sponsor the sale of 25-cent chances on a hundred dollar war bond prize.

Steve Herbert, chairman of both the dance committee and Cabinet's war stamp committee, will be in charge of these sales. The winner of the lottery need not be present at the dance, as chances will be sold there and in advance.

All funds remaining after the purchase of the prize bond will be invested in additional bonds, it was decided in Cabinet's meeting Monday night.

Mortar Board, Cwens, Sigma Tau, and ISC are also sponsoring stamp sales, not in connection with the new bond drive. ISC has set up a stamp booth in the lobby of Old Main, and Cwens and Sigma Tau plan to sell stamps at basketball games and other campus events, according to Ann L. Decker, president of Cwens.

Civilian Donations Swell Dime Drive; Half Goal Collected

Civilians are leading the contribution to the infantile paralysis drive according to Mildred Rubin, head of campus support of that cause. With a goal of $500 in view, over $200 has been collected to date from civilians, ASTP, Navy, Marines, and the Air Corps on this fourth day of the campaign.

ASTP contributions rank second, the Navy and Marines are tied, and the students and Air Corps have donated the smallest amounts, Miss Rubin explained.

Money collected will be utilized in purchasing both preventive and curative medicine for victims and would be victims of the disease.

Nation branch of the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, in order to support research, has made eighteen grants and an appropriation to universities and hospitals. Universities in Minnesota, Iowa, Massachusetts, Chicago, California, Wisconsin, Maryland, and Toronto are concentrating on various phases, contraction, infection and recovery.

The week campus campaign began Tuesday has been carried out by the volunteer efforts of several coeds who collect contributions between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. from their post in a booth in front of the Corner Room. Those serving in this capacity include Gloria Jacobson, Betty Meyer, Yvette Bermak, Harriet Laydon, Jean Trishler, Mary Beaver, Kathleen Reddinger, Ruth Stuck, Evelyn Singer, Florence Kreeger, Carol Finklestein, Joan Wolf, Rosemary Halpin, Esther Greenes, Estelle Roth, Rosalyn Knapp, Helen Beth Orange and Helen Bautman.

PSCA Presents Free Motion Picture Program

"A Yank in the RAF" will be shown in 121 Sparks Sunday afternoon for enlisted personnel. The first showing will be at 1:45 p. m., while the second will begin promptly at 3:45 p. m. The movie stars Tyrone Power.

This feature, which is part of the PSCA program for servicemen Sunday afternoons, has been made available free of charge to all who attend.

With the words, "the committee was sorry it did not have more prizes to offer, for we were really overwhelmed by the quality of the posters," Winter Ball Poster Committee Chairman Paul Budzak summed up campus response to the publicity scheme.

After examination of the eleven posters submitted, the poster committee selected Eleanor Tevlin, a Hamilton Propeller student, as winner of the first prize of ten dollars. Helen Sylvander, also a Prop student, garnered second place laurels, a five dollar gift, for her work.

With Winter Ball band leader Bobby Sherwood definitely scheduled to play his horn at Penn State and not at reveille in an Army camp when February 5 rolls around, final plans are being made for the formal dance.

Players To Present Matinee, 2 Shows Next Weekend

To comply with the demand for tickets for "George Washington Slept Here," Players will hold a matinee in Schwab Auditorium at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, January 5, Prof. Lawrence Tucker, assistant professor of dramatics and director of the show.

In order to accommodate those attending the Winter Ball, the performance will begin at 7:15 p. m. and end at 9:15 p. m., Tucker added.

Co-authors are George S. Kauffman and Moss Hart. The latter has recently written the hit Air Corps show, "Winged Victory" starring former Player, Don Taylor currently playing on Broadway.

The gay, farsical theme of "George Washington Slept Here" should permeate the holiday spirit of the weekend. It is a play which will carry the audience wholeheartedly through the experiences of the characters, according to Director Tucker.

When city people migrate to the country to buy and restore an old house, you can expect anything to happen. And it does! Heading the cast as the typical befuddled man and wife are Janet Dayton and Raymond Boyle. One may easily wonder what could possibly alleviate the deplorable situation in which the family finds itself as the play opens, however, a curious twist of events leads you through this unusual story.

The country house not only lacked windows, a sound roof, and wall paper but the folks found difficulty making room for the livestock and an obsolete plough which traditionally belonged in the house.

Add the sound of an incessantly banging water drill to this picture and the proverbially rich uncle's appearance as well as the threat of an overdue mortgage and you'll have a background for the show.

You'll really appreciate the trying circumstances in "George Washington Slept Here" which culminate in a unique, dynamic ending!

Trustees Approve New Four-Year Aero Curriculum

Consolidated Aircraft To Give Scholarships

Establishment of a four-year curriculum in aeronautical engineering was approved by the Board of Trustees of the College at its meeting in Harrisburg last Saturday.

The curriculum, suggested by Dean H. P. Hammond several months ago, will be part of the School of Engineering. The recommendation was made by the committee on educational matters.

The board approved the establishment of two scholarships and one fellowship in aeronautical engineering by the Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corporation. Juniors in aeronautical engineering will be eligible for the scholarships and graduates in the curriculum or other divisions will be eligible for the fellowship.

The board approved also a recommendation made by Dean Edward Steidle that the departmental responsibilities of the School of Mineral Industries be reorganized and that work of the school be reclassified.

Present at the meeting, which was held in the Penn-Harris, were 29 of the 32 College trustees, including Governor Edward Martin, who spoke briefly.

In an amendment to the by-laws, the board approved the continuation of the accelerated program and put its approval on this schedule:

Herbert Refutes Sherwood Rumors

Having received word that Bobby Sherwood is definitely 4-F, Steve Herbert, Winter Ball dance committee chairman, prefaced his report to Cabinet at Monday night's meeting with a refutation of recent rumors that Sherwood would not be on hand on February 5.

Other details of Herbert's report concerned balloting for the Ball's Snow Queen, which will be open to those who buy tickets to the dance; and the hours set for the dance, which are 8:30 p. m. to midnight, and not 9 p. m., as has been erroneously reported.

Cabinet also discussed campus participation in the current Fourth War Loan Drive, deciding to hold a lottery to raise money for the purchase of bonds. Supervision of the campaign was detailed to the Winter Ball committee.

Mention of the plan to set up a canteen in the Armory elicited the information from Dean A. R. Warnock that the matter is being considered, although nothing very definite has been established as yet.
