It's a well established fact that you can expect to find wolves on campus. More specifically you can expect to find them in Sparks, the long familiar haunt of this animal. But one day last week something new in the way of our four legged friend entered the side door of the autographed building. A small terrier was seen running up and down the ground floor and attached to its collar was a little note. Closer inspection revealed the notes contents as follows: "Please don't let me run around alone or I'll just die."

The Fairer of the Sex - -

Eight o'clock in the morning is pretty early no matter how you look at it, but a V-12'er was on the ball at that hour last Friday. The setting was Lit 6 class and the subject at the time was poetry. The professor had just read a poem devoted to women. He said, "The author says women are 'swift and good.' Do you agree?" A short pause and then the lone V-12 contribution. "Swift."

Did You Know? - - - -

There is a town lodging house managed and occupied by a Mrs. Cronemiller, and the house is titled simply "Crony House." Saddle shoes are becoming so popular they will soon become a favorite lapel decoration of campuses. Young Ellsbeth of 'Janie,' ingenue Susan Watson, has discovered the art to winning friends and players. She brings carnivals to rehearsals and generously offers them to fellow actors. . . . Norma Bartolli, Ann Re, Jean Klinikowski, and Pearl Trippani signed a blood pact to make their respective Easter holidays miserable beyond endurance. They've sworn each other to a strict, starvation diet. . . . Milt Dollinger Collegian and College alum writes from Italy that he is shooting with real bullets. He's still Erniepyling it too and says we can look for his byline any day now. Nice going, Milt. . . . Lynette Lundquist really exists. She's a second semester freshman enrolled in LD, and aspires toward journalistic fame. . . . Is listed in the directory for all doubting Thomases. . . .

Going, Going! - - - - -

As we go to press we can't help but wonder if anyone has notified the College authorities and calendar makers about the almost all-College Easter vacation. Now that everybody's going someone ought to confirm the rumor. "What, no vacation!"

Old Mania

By RITA M. BELFONTI

Members of the staff have been proudly patting themselves on the back for their foresight in anticipating the mass exodus that will hit this fair town come Friday. Some of the profs we've spoken to are really anxious to cut their own classes for the holidays; others are very bitter with their "When we were in school, students did not have the audacity to cut classes for holidays or on any other provocation."

We dunno. We just like to be with our families at Eastertide, if the reader will pardon us for being flowery. After all, while we can still go home—

How Dull is Life?

Kenny Sivitz, Phi Sig alum, was up last weekend to attend the SDT dance with Lee Berlin. . . . Barbara Engstrom is wearing the Delta Chi pin of Phil Schumacher. . . . Brena Freed is engaged to Sam Friedman, former ASTP cadet at State who is now in Florida. . . . Phi Sig Howie Schwartz now stationed at Asbury Park, will be visiting AEPHI Nancy Sobelman this weekend. . . . Phyllis DeMaurias and Marine Jimmy Van Storey, Kappa Alpha are pinned now. . . .

AEPHI Dottie Moskowitz recently visited Marvin Freedman. . . . ex-TPA prexy Peg Maginnis Gavenovis was in State College for the weekend as was ex-Panhel prexy Bea White, Phi Mu. . . . Arlene Crystal, SDT, just copped the pin of former Beta Sig Frandie Frankfort. . . . Theta Phi Alpha Anne Re is wearing the wings of Walter Klinikowski, her roommate's brother, no less. . . .

Phi Mu Helen Barr has been sporting the KDR badge of Elmer Frey. . . . former Delta Sig prexy, Second Lt. Don Culp will be visiting State College (and Beverly McNaul) one of these days. . . .

Strange Visitor

Working at the Collegian office lets one in for lots of strange sights. On Monday night, we were confronted with Frosh J. Vespi, the unlucky one who is bearing the brunt of tribunal's knocks this week. Dressed in a stylish three-quarter length yellow jacket finished off with a brown pleated swirt, Vespi was the picture of what the well-dressed coed will wear. Tribunal also furnished him with lipstick—Flame-Glo Raspberry. . . .

The mail tells us that Phi Mu alum Cris Yohe is wearing a sparkler given her by former Penn State student Howard Carleson, who is now at OCS. . . . Phi Sig and former Collegian reporter Sy Rosenberg is now pinned to Lee Auerbach. . . . Gamma Phi Beta Nancy Sherrif reversed everything; when she pinned (but just for a while) Jack Townsend.

Formal Fling

Rain didn't dim the spirits of the SDT's as their annual formal got underway Saturday night. Seen here and there were Til Bronstein and ASTP cadet Bob Gerber. . . . Teddy Rappaport and Marine Steve Greizkowski. . . . Vitta Berman and Jerry Kruzer. . . . Syd Buchualter and Navy V-12'er Fred Feld. . . . Terry Seitchik and Navy V-12'er Eddie Cassner.

Second of United Nations Movie Forums, Hillel Foundation, 7:30 p.m.; subjects, "Know Your Ally—Britain," "London Can Take It," and "Night Shift."
