

Sophomore, Junior Societies Tap Outstanding Women

Junior Service Board Chooses Ten Women

Ten first semester juniors were tapped for Junior Service Board at a breakfast given in Atherton Hall Sunday morning.

In their short addresses to the group, Charlotte E. Ray, Dean of Women, Pearl O. Weston, assistant to the dean, and Patricia Diener, president of WSGA, outlined the purpose and work of Junior Service Board. It serves the College by helping transfer women students to get adjusted and oriented to the College, they stated.

Coeds who met the requirements of a 1.2 all-college average, student leadership, and extra-curricular activities are Ruth Anders, Nancy Carastro, Elizabeth Funkhauser, Rosemary Halpin, Ann Henry, Doris Huck, Lois McCool, Laurene Newbold, Rebecca Walker, and Elizabeth Wolfram.

Continuing their activities, last night 14 Junior Service Board members were entertained at dinner in Old Main Sandwich Shop by the Hamilton Standard Propeller women while 14 Hamilton students ate in Atherton dining room as guests of the Junior Service Board.

Junior Service Board is now planning to give a tea for all Hamilton students in the northeast lounge at Atherton from 2:30 to 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Another tapping breakfast, this time for second semester sophomores who intend to remain during the summer session, is scheduled to take place sometime in June.

Kubek, Hasson, Vogel To Manage Collegian For Summer Semester

Emil A. Kubek was elected editor-in-chief of the Collegian for next semester, it was announced at a staff banquet last Saturday. Herbert Hasson was named business manager and Kathryn Vogel advertising manager.

Other members of the staff who were advanced in rank are Bernard Cutler, managing editor; Helen Hatton, news editor; Nancy Carastro, feature editor; and Victor Danilov, sports editor.

Coeds Compete For Queen Of Navy-Marine Weekend

Six of the campus's most glamorous coeds will vie for the crown of Navy-Marine Queen at the Third Navy-Marine Formal in Rec Hall next Saturday night.

The chosen Queen will have the honor of reviewing the troops at the full-dress parade on New Beaver Field on Sunday, and will stand at the side of Lt. Commander Trusdell Wisner, who recently arrived at Penn State to command the V-12 Unit.

Awaiting the final selection by the Commander are Sally Duffy, Mary Lou Waygood, Dorothy Morrow, Harriet Haas, Rita Horton and Marilyn Globisch.

The six finalists for the honor were narrowed down from an original twelve, with one co-ed representing each of the twelve barracks. Under the scrutinizing eye of the Unit officers, the group was cut to the six candidates from which the Commander will choose the winner at dance time. Navy-Marine orchestra, which

Cwens Select 28 Coeds For Activities, Grades

Twenty-eight coeds were chosen for membership in Cwens, national women's activities honor-Mary Catherine Garrett, Joan breakfast in the Old Main Sandwich Shop Sunday morning.

They are Lois App, Mitzi Archer, Jeanne Barinott, Elizabeth Ann Berkheimer, Nan Charles, Mary Margaret Dunlap, Mary Field, Jean Ford, Aileen Garber, Mary Catherine Garrett, Joan Harrington, Nancy Harrington, Jane Healy, Joan Huber.

Diana Huffman, Margaret Keefe, Mary Louise Lamade, Mary Ann Reese, Marie Schombocker, Charlotte Scibetta, Barbara Smedley, Barbara Smith, Doris Stack, Betty Steele, Barbara Struck, Janet Taylor, Patricia Turk, and Fay Young.

Active Cwen members chose these women from second, third, and fourth semester classes on the basis of their participation in extra-curricular activities, scholastic average, and leadership ability.

Approximately 100 coeds who had been awakened at the dorms at 8 a.m. by the Cwens were present at the breakfast when the familiar gray blazers trimmed with red were presented to the honored coeds.

A pledging ceremony Sunday afternoon in the WSGA room, White Hall, the new Cwens expressed their desires to become members of the organization.

For the purpose of becoming acquainted with each other and with the present Cwens, who will now automatically become inactive, a party is planned in the WSGA room, White Hall, Friday at 6 p.m.

Formal initiation will be at an English banquet at the State College Hotel, June, 11.

IMA Elects Officers

Independent Men's Association has elected Michael Lynch, president; Omar Lerman, vice president; Richard Lee, secretary; and Peter Palmer, treasurer.

Robert Barefoot has been named social chairman, Steve Green, athletic chairman, and R. J. France, publicity chairman.

An installation banquet will be held June 6, the time and place to be announced later.

ROTC Rated Excellent By Inspecting Colonel

Penn State's 400 ROTC students were rated excellent as a result of their performance last Friday when they were inspected by Lt. Col. John C. Peth, University of Maryland, it was announced by Lt. Col. Guy G. Mills.

This classification is the highest that can be awarded to a ROTC unit.

Members of the College's ROTC unit will again be eligible to wear the blue star of merit on the right sleeve. This emblem of superiority was removed from uniforms January 31 by order of Lt. Col. Guy G. Mills.

Thespian Catacombs To Shelter Arty Jive Party

In the arty, cobwebby, and semi-Bohemian atmosphere of the Thespian Cellar of Schwab Auditorium, from 6:30 to 8:30 tonight the Thespians and Masquerettes will play host at their first Jam Session, to as large a horde of Penn Staters as will chose to become acquainted with the show people of the campus.

Their purpose in holding the affair is to uncover any talents their guests may possess, as well as to establish friendly relations with all students who will subsequently be interested in some phase of Thespian production.

The round of entertainment which is to spark the Jam Session will continue throughout the affair, with specialty dance numbers, vocals, scenes from past shows, and music from the Jam Band. Guests are expected to "drop down" any time within the hours designated, for food, dancing, chatter, and entertainment.

Committees in charge of the session are headed by Shirley Thompson, decorations; Harriet Leyden, entertainment; Lee Thompson, foods, and Mariam Zartman, general chairman and president of Masquerettes.

Entire College Body To Observe Memorial Day

Memorial Day will be observed by College officials, faculty, military personnel, and students in a program arranged to begin 9 a.m. Tuesday.

At that time Mrs. Charles E. Govier, daughter of President Atherton, accompanied by All-College president James Bell, WSGA president Patricia Diener and Edward Koval, ISC president, will place a wreath at the World War I plaque in Old Main. The party will then proceed to President Atherton's grave adjacent to Schwab Auditorium where Mrs. Govier will lay a wreath. A third wreath will be placed on the World War plaque in Recreation Hall.

At the placing of each wreath, taps will be sounded by a member of the ASTP unit.

By order of President Hetzel, classes will be dismissed at 11:40 a.m. in order that all may attend the flag raising ceremony in front of Old Main, which is scheduled to begin approximately at noon.

The ASTP units will form in back of Carnegie Hall, while the V-12 personnel will take its place behind the Armory. These service men will march to Old Main. The Army will occupy the east diagonal walk, and the V-12 the two west diagonal walks.

The lower front steps of Old Main will be reserved for President Hetzel, College officials, commandants of the service units on campus, All-College Cabinet and faculty.

The V-12 Band will be situated east of the flagpole, and will face

Convocation for Coeds

All coeds are urged to attend a convocation in Schwab Auditorium 4:15 Tuesday afternoon when Sarah Blanding, dean of the Home Economics School, at Cornell University will speak.

Miss Blanding will speak on the position of women in the post-war world.

Coeds To Vote Today In WSGA, WRA Primary

Culminating the WSGA mass meeting in Schwab auditorium Thursday evening May 18, nominations for candidates for WSGA and WRA offices were released. These nominees, with the addition of those named Tuesday evening, will be chosen as candidates in the primary elections held in Old Main lounge from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today.

General elections will be held this Monday, according to Kathleen Osgood, chairman of the Elections Committee, with the exception of WSGA president, which will be elected during primary voting today.

All students must present some means of identification at the polls before being permitted to cast their ballots, the chairman stated.

The WSGA lineup is as follows: president, Gertrude G. Rosen and Ann Louise Decker; vice-president, Mary M. Dunlap and Marjorie Blackwood; treasurer, Joan Huber and Barbara Struck; senior senator, Rose Devecka, Betty Shenk and Julia Gilbert; junior senator, Annabelle Jansson, Marty Herr, Floy Robinson, and Jane Dye; sophomore senator, Janet Taylor, Barbara Smedley and Ann Reese; town senator, Mitzi Archer and Betsy Merkle; independent senator, Sarah Masurovsky and Florence Porter.

The ballot for senior senator will be open to all seniors and second semester juniors, and for junior senator to first semester juniors and second semester sophs. Only second semester frosh and first semester sophs may vote for the sophomore senator. The vote for town senator, and independent senator will be open to town girls and independent girls respectively.

Bidding for the WRA presidency are Mary Anne Jennings, and Betty E. Pike, vice-president,

17 Men Leave For Services

Seventeen students have withdrawn from the college within the past two weeks to enter the armed forces, according to an announcement from the Registrar's Office.

Following are the withdrawing students:

Seymour L. Barash, LD; Herbert Beekhart, ME; Roderick W. Cook Jr., EE; Robert J. Crawford, EE; Ernest R. Emmers, ME; Louis F. Glasier, Met; Leroy S. Harris, Aero; Ned R. Heimbach, ChEng; Herbert S. Hollenberg, CCH; Robert H. Kranich, CCH; Earl L. Lentz, ChEng; Edward R. Seel, MM; Norbert G. Smolukas, IE; Mervin M. Wilf, CCH; Theodore J. Wolfe, PhysEd; James N. Wood, PhysEd; John Lynn Zubler, ME.

The School of Engineering leads with the largest withdrawal of nine. Chemistry and physics majors number four.

Mac Hall Cover Increases 'Engineer' Circulation

Mac Hall has brought returns to the Penn State Engineer!

Sporting on its cover a colored photograph of Mac Hall, the Engineer has in four days distributed 1000 copies, Eugene Von Arx, editor of the Engineer, announced today.

The June issue of the Engineer will be published for the most part by the newly appointed staff. This issue is expected to serve as an indication of what the Engineer promises for next semester.

Marilyn Globisch, Betsy McGee and Eris M. Huntsinger; treasurer, Mary E. Gundel, Harriet B. Miller and Rebecca Walker; sophomore representative, Joanne Black, Marcia A. Conroe, Doris E. Handwerk and Fay H. Matulis.

Candidate Activities

All the candidates have participated in numerous campus organizations.

WSGA president—Gertrude G. Rosen; freshman senator, WSGA

Campus Owls to Play At Second Slide Rule Ball

Campus Owls will provide the music for the second annual Slide Rule Ball in Rec Hall from 9 to 12 p.m. tomorrow. Theme of the informal dance will be a trylon symbolized by a slide rule and a perisphere.

Sponsored by the Penn State Engineer, the affair will feature programs in replicas of the Engineer itself. All features of the regular edition including special stories, "Sly Drools," and a salute to the class of '45 will be contained in this miniature magazine. Guests of honor will also be listed as on a regular program.

The Engineer staff formulated plans for the first Slide Rule Ball, introducing the theme of the trylon and perisphere, last September. Judged by the turnout, this first Ball was a success and it is the hope of the committee that the Slide Rule Ball will become a Penn State tradition. Since there are a limited number of tickets available, students are urged to obtain them immediately according to the committee.

Walter G. Baxter and Walter R. Berg are co-chairmen in charge assisted by Eugene F. Von Arx, invitations; Thomas J. Thomas, advertising; Robert E. Petersen, decorations; Robert T. Kimmel, business; Conrad P. Walck, checking; and Harry L. Bell Jr., refreshments.

Cap and Gown Orders Must Be in Tomorrow

Graduating seniors are urged to order commencement invitations, announcements, and caps and gowns at Student Union today or tomorrow if they haven't already done so.

Announcements and invitations are seven cents each. Cap and gown orders require a five dollar deposit fee. Gowns will be given out at the Athletic Store the week of graduation and must be returned immediately following the graduation exercises. A fine of one dollar will be levied for any late returns.

Academic costumes will be expected of all graduates except those students who are now in the armed forces.

Candidates for advanced degrees should order caps and gowns through Prof. G. J. Stout, 24 Horticulture.