

Election Code

Article V: Organization of Additional Cliques

Any group may form itself into a political clique providing it follows the requirements for organization in Article III of this code and other regulations set forth.

A group desiring to organize into a political clique must arrive at a name and specify that name to the chairman of Elections Committee at least two days prior to the time that membership list is to be turned in. The group must submit the membership list by 4 p. m. August 17.

A clique must have an official clique chairman and secretary.

Article VI: Methods of Campaigning

An amount not exceeding $10 may be spent by each clique for publicity purposes (purchase of signs, handbills, cards, etc.). Cliques shall dispense with public address systems for campaigning purposes.

The fund designated for publicity purposes shall be collected by the clique and will not be allocated from any college fund.

An additional $2 will be given to each clique by the Elections Committee to compensate for the former use of printed Elections Committee Posters. This $2 must be used to cover the cost of printed posters and the cost of purchasing additional photographs or prints. One poster will be submitted to the election's committee for use at the polls.

The committee will meet with candidates and clique chairmen at 8 p. m. Wednesday, August 23 in the Second Floor lounge of Old Main to answer any questions, clarify the elections code, or hear any complaints of code violations. The committee will meet again with candidates and clique chairmen after the closing of the polls and before the counting of votes, August 24 in second floor lounge of Old Main when further complaints will be heard. Only clique chairmen and elections committee members may witness the vote counting.

Two itemized expense accounts must be turned in to Student Union by noon Thursday, August 24 for the approval of the Elections Committee. Donations must be included in this budget. Budget I must state the method of collection and the amount originally received, together with all clique expenditures. To be considered valid this budget must be signed by the clique chairman and secretary.

A separate budget must be submitted designating the use which has been made of the additional $2 in an itemized form. To be considered valid budget II must be signed by the clique chairman and secretary. This amount must not be used in any way for personal compensation.

The Elections Committee reserves the right to penalize any clique for over expenditure or use of the designated amount for purposes other than those stated in this code.

Article VII: Method of Election

The candidate receiving a plurality of votes cast for a particular semester office shall be elected.

Penalties will be levied by the Elections Committee at a closed session after the hearings. This session will follow the open meeting with candidates and clique chairmen after the closing of the polls.

Article VIII: Eligibility to Vote

An official voting registration will take place at the college registration (June 30 and July 1). Each student shall fill out a form which will be filed by the Elections Committee and used to check off each voter. This registration list shall be official together with the registrar's record. Any student registering late or who for other reasons has not filled out an official registration card must withhold his vote until his name and semester rank has been checked in the registrar's office by a member of the Elections Committee. The student if found eligible to vote

Russian Club Exhibit Features Age-Old Cross

A 40-year-old cross, contributed by Father Auroroff of the Russian department, will be one of the outstanding features of an exhibit presented by the Russian club in the College library.

Toys, linens, embroidered babushkas, carved eggs, dolls, head-dresses, and a samave are among the articles to be displayed. This exhibit is preliminary to one to be held in September during the Russian Relief Drive.

will then fill out his registration card at the polls, signed by a member of the elections committee.

Only undergraduate students will be eligible to vote, i.e. those students who pay their own fees.

All students must present some means of identification at the polls before being permitted to cast his ballot.

Article IX: Party Affiliations

Party affiliations of every candidate will be placed upon the ballots. It is necessary for every candidate to have a party affiliation.

Typed lists of all voters will be given to the clique chairman or secretary, providing neither of these officers is a candidate for a semester office. If one or both officers are candidates a member of the clique will be given the list of voters upon presentation of a note from the clique chairman to a member of the elections committee stating he is a clique member. This list will be prepared every hour during the two day voting period.

Article X: Violations

Penalties of not more than 4 or less than 2 votes shall be inflicted upon the entire clique found guilty of any of the following violations. Violation by any one candidate will result in the penalty being inflicted upon every other candidate of that clique.

1. Electioneering in any part of Old Main by clique members while voting is in progress.

2. Candidates in any part of Old Main other than the time necessary for them to cast their own ballots.

3. Buying of votes, either with the promise of money or other form of bribery.

4. Campaign posters in any part of Old Main other than those approved by the Elections Committee for use at the polls.

5. Destruction or defacing of property on any public or private buildings.

Voters violating voting ethics such as voting twice, allowing votes to be bought, voting under false pretenses, etc., shall be dealt with by Student Tribunal.

Article XI: Emergency Changes

The Elections Committees reserves the right to alter this code in case of emergency.

War News—

certainly bring a heart attack on the Nazi stalwarts. Concerning the war in Asia the pessimists say it will continue for two or three years. The moderates see eighteen months more of combat. The optimists one year.

A Sudden Armistice

The outcome of an abrupt termination of hostilities would have great economic, political and social significance. Literally millions of jobs would vanish. Large scale unemployment would produce a shock equivalent to Pearl Harbor. Incomes would be curtailed disastrously; and a new way of life would have to be assumed on both the home-front and among the men in uniform. Domestic political issues would be rushed to the forefront, new peace-making leadership would be called forth without adequate intellectual or moral preparation.

A quick peace in Europe would mean probably 600,000 of our service men hurriedly sent into Germany, and upwards of 2,000,000 moved to the Pacific to expedite the campaign there. The rate of demobilization would no doubt be somewhere between 200,000 and 300,000 per month. This will mean new and difficult dislocations, and our problems of movement, supply and policy-making would be as challenging as ever.

We did relatively little in the first World War, and our part in determining the peace terms proved to be relatively minor. This time we have done much more, and our authority and prestige at the peace table will be proportionately greater. Our leadership in the war is a symbol of our potential influence in the building of the new world order. Already we are indicating to both our allies and enemies that we favor a league to enforce peace, a world bank with a fluid fund to lubricate world trade and a firm international agreement regarding aviation, communication resources and world-wide commercial expansion.

Finally back to the war itself. Only death has mastered the Chinese to Hengyang. We have sunk 500 enemy submarines. Since D Day alone we have destroyed 2,000 enemy planes. The Axis casualties are amazingly high on all fronts. We have proved the superiority of our equipment, manpower quality and industrial machinery. Looking always for the obvious from us, we have delivered against the enemy a long sequence of surprises that have shocked and overcome the best that they could offer in the way of opposition.

IWA and IMA are planning a combination dance and scavenger hunt for September 9. The dance will be in the Armory, and those wishing to participate in the hunt will leave from there. Tickets will be 35 cents and cokes will be sold at the dance.

Skull and Bones

tended to men prominent in various campus activities.

Up until recent years, pledging was formalized with a "Tap Day" ceremony on Holmes Field. It was here that Parmi Nous, also an upperclass activities society, cooperated with Skull and Bones in selecting members. Important College administrators were present at the tapping.

Students who realized the possibility of receiving bids to either of the two organizations assembled on Holmes Field on the appointed day. Representatives of both Skull and Bones and Parmi Nous then approached the prospective members and tapped them on their shoulders, signifying the organization's desire to have the individual as a member.

Both hat societies alternated in tapping. A tap on the shoulder by a Parmi Nous member disqualified the student for admittance into Skull and Bones, and vice-versa.

Art Exhibit—

and indistinct a figure marches into the fog.

For the reporter "John Brown" by the noted artist, John Steuart Curry created the most vivid impression. It is the embodiment of fanaticism.

Symbolically the characteristically spiraling cloud of a tornado rises in the background. The strength of the abolitionist's emotions radiate from his eyes.

For any person to attempt to tell the public what reactions they should get from art is as ridiculous as the commentaries on music programs which attempt to interpret the selections. Art is a personal matter. Only by visiting the exhibit in the library will the reader be able to decide whether he agrees with these impressions.

College Admits 431

1147 persons have applied for admission in the College in the fall. 431 of these have been admitted so far of which 231 are in the upper fifth of their class and 107 in the upper two fifths.

This new enrollment includes 340 women and 91 men. Of the 227 enrolled in the liberal arts school 205 are girls.

Hillel Executive Board Plans Weekend Party

Hillel announces a Sabin party for August 20 which will take the form of a luncheon. Executive board members will be permitted to stay overnight.

At a recent meeting of the Inter-Faith Committee, two Hillel representatives were chosen to attend the Inter-Faith conference on campus. They are Bernice Nalven and Allen Kahn. Among the groups represented are CA, Westminster Foundation and Wesley Foundation.

Plans to be discussed at a meeting held this week include regular debates and a weekly analysis of the news by professors, similar to the program conducted at Atherton Hall last semester.

IWA Holds Quiz Program

The feature of this week's IWA meeting will be a quiz program on dating customs and other problems of etiquette, held after the regular business meeting in 401 Old Main at 7:00 p. m. Monday. The participants will be a board of "experts" chosen from the members. All independent women are invited to attend.
