lamps, and at least two couples must be present.

4. All social functions such as dances and parties held in the fraternity house must be chaperoned. The chaperones must be approved one week in advance of the function by the Dean of Women.

5. All women guests must leave the fraternity house by 8 p.m. every night excepting Friday and Saturday nights when they must leave by 12:30 a.m., and Sunday night when they must leave by 10 p.m.

6. No alcoholic beverages of any kind shall be served on fraternity premises at any time when women are present.

7. The president and social chairman of the fraternity, or two chosen representatives where more than one group lives in the fraternity house, shall be held responsible for the actions and conduct of the members of that fraternity or house for their entire term of office. Should either or both of these officers be absent, it is their duty to appoint someone to act in their place during their absence. The names of the two men so placed in responsibility for any social function shall be filed in the office of the Dean of Women, by Friday 8 a.m. preceding the social function.

8. Any known violation shall be reported to the Interfraternity Council Judicial Committee consisting of the faculty advisor, the president, and three members of the IFC and that group shall hold a meeting for the violating fraternity. The decision of that committee shall be final.

9. Proven violations of these provisions will exclude the fraternity found guilty, by trial, from the privileges of this code, or any of the privileges put forth and stipulated in any other code under IFC ruling. Reinstatement can be made only by petition and acceptance by the IFC Judicial Committee after an indefinite period of time. Judicial Committee shall refer the matter to the Senate Committee on Student Welfare with whom the ultimate decision of reinstatement shall rest.

10. Any group of men living together in quarters not under the jurisdiction of IFC shall be regulated by the Student Welfare Committee.

11. Any fraternities that entertain women guests must keep a guest list. This list which shall include the name of the boy, the girl, and the date, is to be handed in to the Dean of Men's Office by noon the following Monday. It is to be sealed. This list should include all girl guests, whether coeds or not.

12. Coeds must indicate on their sign-out sheet in the dormitories that they were guests at a fraternity house. If they fail to do so, they shall be held directly responsible. Action will be taken at the discretion of WSGA and the office of the Dean of Women.

13. This code must be placed on the fraternity bulletin board or some other obvious place for reference at all times.

14. We hereby resolve that the members of IFC present at the meeting on July 27, 1944, shall in all sincerity adhere to the above resolution and will to the best of their ability obey all rules and regulations of this code.

the various schools are now scattered, but classes are still continuing. For a time Hong Kong University offered its facilities to the College of Arts, the College of Science, and the College of Agriculture. As fighting continued, however, the agricultural school was transferred to Ping-shih in the northern Kwangtung province. When Hong Kong was taken December 8, 1941, American personnel were interned. Due to the efforts of President Lee a location was found for the school in Kukong. It is interesting to note that the university enrollment did not decrease during this period. Students followed their college each time it was forced to transfer.

The difficulty lay in the small personnel. Only two American teachers are at the university, the others being sent back to the United States by the Japs after their internment. Furthermore it is difficult to pay the salaries of the remaining staff. Conditions have become so bad that rice is doled out as a substitute for money. Yet Lingnan still carries on.

By 1941 Daddy Groff was back in America putting into practice his ambition of instituting a Lingnan Plant Exchange Station in Florida. He chose Sarasota as his site because the climate in that region is similar to that of Canton. Developments so far, especially with regard to the growing of the lychee nut, have been gratifying. The purpose of the Plant Exchange is to provide China with important horticultural specimens, just as she has provided us with them.

Mr. Groff will give a series of addresses here starting August 28, when he will hold a meeting with the Christian Association Council and Forum. August 29, the horticulturist will speak and show pictures in 405 Old Main. All are cordially invited.

Wednesday morning, August 30, Mr. Groff addresses the State Officers' FFA Leadership Training School, and on September 3 the Westminster Student Group at the Presbyterian Church. September 4 he will be occupied with the Faculty Luncheon Club, and on Sept. 6 at 7:30 p.m. 121 Sparks he will preside at an All-College meeting sponsored by the Agriculture Student Council. His talk will concern his work in missionary and educational fields in China and will be illustrated by movies. Servicemen, towns folk, faculty members, and students are all invited.

Mr. Groff's visit comes to a close Sept. 8 when he will attend a meeting of the Penn State in China Committee sponsored by the Christian Association.

Forensic Council, Southwest Atherton lounge, 6:30 p. m.

Choir practice, 117 Carnegie Hall, 7 p. m.

Tribunal Taboos Rolled Pants; 5 Frosh Punished

Lloyd Barkeley, Tribunal head, announced at the judicial body's weekly meeting that, starting today, the freshmen may roll down their trouser legs.

Leon Aaron took top honors with his second offense. He pleaded guilty on the charge of leaving Sparks by a forbidden exit and then removing his dink from a pocket, donning it later. He will wear his dink on top of a two-foot dunce cap. On the back of his sandwich sign will be the warning that he ducks at the sound of an air raid. Aaron will also balance a raw egg with a tablespoon.

The sacred ground of the Senior Walk was sullied by Ray Ernest Eschrich, a physics student. For this crime he will wear a screwdriver down his back and a sign on the front.

Allan Goldstein didn't button to the willow. His head and wrists will be decorated by a wreath of willow branches.

Gerry Gilman, a Liberal Arts School student, is to enliven the campus scene by sporting two pieces of toast suspended from his ears. His clothes will also be worn backwards.

Chuck Cyphers, another Liberal Artist, didn't wish to wear his customs while dating. In retribution, Tribunal decreed that he should wear a hot dog dangling in front of his face. This adornment will be supplemented by a sign.

The cases of James Francis and Stan Skinner were dismissed because of the insignificance of their offenses.

ippines. The Japanese are reported to be withdrawing their air power from outlying positions to air fields out of range of our planes. Some of our bombers have reached the southern Philippines and it would appear that our reoccupation of the islands should take place in the not too distant future.

The war against Japanese shipping has continued and several Japanese vessels, both merchant and naval, have been sunk during the week.

Little news has come from the China and Burma fronts this week.

Roosevelt Returns to Capital

The big news on the home front the past week has been the return of President Roosevelt to Washington from his trip to Hawaii and the Aleutian Islands, and the opening of conversations on how to maintain peace by representatives of the United States, Great Britain, and Russia, meeting in Washington.

Perhaps the most significant statement made by the President upon his return to Washington was that Germany and Japan will be occupied by the United Nations, regardless of whether they surrender now or later.

The conferences on how to keep the peace so far have been secret, but out of them it is hoped some understanding may be reached with regard to a workable method of preserving peace which will be acceptable to all nations, large and small.

ilov hit a single, Wally O'Toole walked, and Buddy Wideltz reached first on a Texas leaguer. Tom Reynolds then hit a roller to the third baseman who threw home for a force out. Chuck Ely then brought in O'Toole on an infield out. The inning ended 3-1 in favor of the West.

Four consecutive hits by Bernardi, Carson, Davis and Lang gave the East three runs in the third inning. The score was then 8-4.
