

Red Tape For GI's Must Be Slashed

Speedy Reabsorption Needed, Says Galbraith

Robert E. Galbraith, newly-appointed faculty counselor of veterans at the College, envisions his job as one in which red tape must be slashed to permit the rapid reabsorption of servicemen.

Pointing out that veterans have learned "to take care of themselves in some very complex situations," he is convinced the majority will want to resume their war-interrupted careers with the least possible delay.

"Battle-matured men," he explained, "are accustomed to facing the facts in a hurry. Once appraised of a situation, they will act promptly and intelligently. Our job will be to provide the essential data, and give them needed counsel and guidance."

The faculty counselor says his personal correspondence with former students now in the service reflects a desire to return to college and obtain an education quickly.

The 14-man committee which Galbraith heads at the College already has tackled the job of creating an organization to which servicemen may turn for assistance when they return to the campus. The chairman predicts the return of 4000 former students soon after the war ends.

Blood Donor Services Refuse WSGA Request

WSGA's request to the Pittsburgh and Harrisburg Blood Donor Services to bring a blood bank unit to campus has been refused because of reduced staffs at these centers.

Although they were unable to comply with the request, the donor services said that they admired the fine spirit of cooperation among Penn State students. Dr. Francis Tschan, chairman of the American Red Cross unit in State College, aided the students.

In a letter notifying WSGA of the impossibility of carrying out its program, Dean of Women Charlotte Ray pointed out that the organization deserves the commendation of the student body. She suggested that students contribute to their local units.

Open House To Feature Dancing; Refreshments

Open house will be held at Woman's Building from 7:30 to 10 o'clock tonight. All freshmen are welcome to come and get acquainted.

Entertainment will include a monologue, two song solos, and a piano selection. Dancing will be to popular records. Punch and sandwiches will be served.

Bob Higgins, Penn State football coach, went overseas with the 89th division in the first World War.

Forensic Council To Sponsor Quiz—'Battle Of Sexes'

Forensic Council will sponsor a "Battle of the Sexes Quiz Program" in 121 Sparks, October 1.

Louis H. Bell, director of Public Information will fire questions at the eight contestants; three servicemen and a civilian versus three coeds and a Hamilton-Proppeller student.

Students are asked to submit questions of interest, humorous or academic. Boxes have been placed at the Corner Room and Student Union for depositing them.

The committees for this program are: publicity and advertising—Betty Ann McGinnis, chairman, Gertrude G. Rosen, and Edward P. Zemprelli; personnel—Joan Huber and Allen Kahn; questions—Otis Castleberry, Bernice Greenis, Martin D. Cohn, and Edward P. Zemprelli.

Tribunal Convicts 4 Law-Breakers

It was a slow night at Tribunal Wednesday with only four freshmen customs violators, but the student judges kept up their law-enforcing batting average by finding all four guilty.

First to fall before Tribunal's relentless questioning was Alan Greenwald who was convicted of appearing on the street dinkless. He will be seen on campus sporting a sandwich sign and an adorable baby bonnet tied with ribbons under his chin.

Found to be a grass walker and no dink wearer extra-ordinary, Millard Braunstein drew the heaviest penalty of the week. Millard will walk backwards to class with a mirror in his hand to show him where he is going. He will wear a large straw hat with his dink on top, a red lantern fastened on his back, and carry a bucket of grass.

For not bowing to the "Old Willow," Mort Perry will carry a sign. Every time he passes his nemesis tree he will kneel before it and recite a moving poem by Harvey Longfellow Scheiner.

To round out the freshman violator crew Ed Voll, convicted of not wearing his dink, will advertise "Gridiron Ball" with a sandwich sign.

Dean Whitmore to Attend Chemical Society Meeting

Dean F. C. Whitmore and 11 staff members of the School of Chemistry and Physics at the College attended meetings of the American Chemical Society in New York City this week where they presented papers and participated in symposia.

General Electric Seeks Graduates

Armstrong Cork Co. Sends Representative

October and February graduates interested in the fields of accounting or statistics will be interviewed by a representative of the General Electric Company, September 26.

Positions are available in the Schenectady, N. Y., and Bridgeport, Conn., plants. Training in accounting is not essential since a variety of jobs in other departments are also available.

Armstrong Cork Company Representative J. E. Smith will interview on the Campus September 29 and 30. He will be especially interested in October graduates interested in working as chemists, industrial or mechanical engineers, and physicists.

This company also has openings in other fields. Students should make arrangements for interviews in the College Placement Service office, 204 Old Main, as soon as possible.

Advertising Association Names Contest Winners

Patricia McClure of Warren today was named winner of the student advertising contest conducted annually by the Interstate Advertising Managers' Association in cooperation with the College department of journalism.

The awards were announced by David P. Knipe, advertising manager of the Bethlehem Globe Times, and were accepted on behalf of the students by Donald W. Davis, who is in charge of advertising courses at the College. The first place winner was given a cash prize of $25, the second $15, and third and fourth places $5 each.

Other awards follow: second place, Kathryn R. Vogel; third place, Helen C. McCleery; fourth place, Rose Devecka; and honorable mention, Margaret L. Good.

IMA, Cabinet to Show F & M '42 Season Films

Motion pictures of the highlights of the 1942 football season will be shown in 121 Sparks at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday with Coach Bob Higgins narrating.

Film on the Franklin and Marshall scrimmage last Saturday will also be shown. These pictures are being sponsored by the IMA and All-College Cabinet.

American prisoners of war are eager to keep their prewar interests alive. From German prison camps via the War Department have come nearly 50 requests for courses from the College correspondence instruction division.

Two Couples Split $5 Prize In Scavenger Hunt Contest

College Football Books Go on Sale Sept. 25

College Personnel Athletic books for the 1944 football season will go on sale at the ticket office, 107 Old Main, beginning September 25, the Athletic Office announced today.

This year the athletic book will be good for all of the home games—four contests. The book is no longer issued on a semester basis.

Price of the book is $6 plus $1.20 federal tax. The same rule regarding married members of the college personnel is effective for the 1944 football book.

The test flower garden at the College is one of 15 All-American trial grounds in the United States.

Two couples tied for first place in the IWA-IMA "Scava Dance" scavenger hunt Saturday night, resulting in a four-way split of the $5 prize.

Winners were Lyn Rummel and Joseph Johnson, and Ruth Kingston and Bob Smith.

Among the items on the list were a lock of red hair, a set of false fingernails, a Phillie cigar ring, Royal Crown bottle top, blonde bobby pins, a pair of plaid shoelaces, and an autographed picture of Frank Sinatra.

According to Miss Rummel, the easiest item to find was the lock of red hair, because her partner's hair was red. The couple arrived back from the hunt almost 15 minutes before Miss Kingston and Smith, but confusion over one item, a pair of theater stubs dated September 8, caused the judges to call the hunt a tie.

"THE BEST-KNOWN VEHICLES IN AMERICA"

What's the best known vehicle on your college campus? You will probably agree it's the Railway Express truck. And one of the best-liked men is the dependable Expressman who drives that truck.

There's a good reason why these trucks are on the campus so frequently. It's to serve your shipping needs. Express Service is a strong, direct link with home.

Railway Express and its coordinated Air Express Division are carrying a substantial shipping load these busy days. You can help the Expressman and his vehicle do their job quicker and better by observing three simple steps: Wrap your laundry or other packages securely... address each clearly... ship them early. We know "A shipment started right is half-way there."
