Navy Powerhouse Wallops Penn State Eleven, 55-14

The U. S. Naval Academy completely overwhelmed a lighter and less experienced Nittany Lion eleven, 55-14, before 18,000 midshipmen and football fans last Saturday at Thompson Stadium, Annapolis, Md.

Deep in manpower, Navy sent four full teams against Penn State that scored eight touchdowns and seven extra points. Comdr. Oscar Hagberg's gridders jumped to an early lead that was never threatened—recording 14 points in the opening quarter and 21 in the second period.

The Midshipmen dominated the play throughout the contest. They recorded 23 first downs, gained 340 yards by rushing, and registered 252 yards by passing. The best Penn State could do was three first downs, 33 yards by rushing, and 20 yards by passing.

The Lions' only scores of the game came in the second and fourth quarters. Capt. Allen Richards crossed the goal on a line huck with three seconds remaining before the half. A pass interference ruling had set up the play on the one-yard line. Tailback Johnny Chuckran's kickoff runback of 55

Lions Faces Red Raiders During Vacation Period

The Nittany Lions will travel to Hamilton, N. Y., next Saturday to meet Coach Andy Kerr's Colgate Red Raiders while Penn State students will be vacationing at home. Colgate opened its season by losing to Rochester, 20-13, two weeks ago. The Red Raiders were idle last week, but tomorrow they will try to repeat their 1943 victory over Cornell.

Last season Penn State and Colgate played to a 0-0 tie at New Beaver Field.

Boxing Coach's Son Returns To England

Flight Officer Leo Houck Jr., son of the veteran Penn State boxing coach, has just returned to England after landing glider troops in the low countries.

Describing his flight into Holland as "plenty rough," young Houck said he landed his plane safely but lost eight pounds during his seven days on the front lines.

The Lancaster youth, who won the Air Medal for courageous action in the French invasion, stated that his group was evacuated under continuous enemy fire.

Leo, one of the three Houck boys on fighting fronts, admitted he was "plenty scared" and "glad to be alive."

Nittany Booters Tackle Colgate

Lion booters will try to score their second straight victory of the season when Penn State tangles with Colgate behind the east stands at New Beaver Field at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Nittany squad defeated Bucknell, 2-1, in the first game last Saturday. Capt. Jim Atherton and Freshman Dave Binns scored for Penn State, while Center Forward Charley Bartow made a goal for the Bisons.

"The team was a little spotty, but the boys didn't do too badly," commented Coach Bill Jeffrey on the opening game.

The veteran mentor said that there will be a number of changes in the lineup tomorrow. In order to get a better scoring combination, Coach Jeffrey intends to start Paul Morris at center forward and shift Jim Atherton to right inside forward and Herb Mendt to left inside.

There also is a possibility that Dave Binns may open at right fullback in place of Charley Appleman. Fritz Holmquist, left outside forward, was bruised in the Bucknell game and will see little action as a result. Ted DeVeas will not play this week because of a cut above his right eye that required four stitches.

Coach Jeffrey expects his back line to check the Colgate offense. He was highly impressed by the play of the Lion fullbacks last Saturday.

Bks. 13 Takes V-12 Title; Trynosky Is Scoring Star

Barracks 13 won the College V-12 Touch Football championship by defeating Barracks 35 in two straight games, 8-0 and 1-0, at the golf course this week.

Pete Trynosky captured the individual scoring title with 42 points in league competition. Barracks 13 also took the softball crown this summer.

yards preceded the pass. Al Auer made the other Lion touchdown when he picked up a Navy fumble on Penn State's 20-yard line and raced 80 yards untouched for the score. Blocking Back Joe Drazenovich booted both of State's extra points.

Navy's scoring was done by Joe Sullivan, Jim Pettit, John Hansen, Hal Hamberg, Dick Ambrogli, Bob Jenkins, Albion Walton, and Russell Owen, with Vic Finos, the place-kicking specialist, missing only one out of eight placement tries.

Seven marines and four freshmen started the game for Penn State. Thirty-five players saw action in the game for the Lions.

Penn State Vs. Bucknell In Oldest Grid Rivalry

The oldest rivalry in Penn State football history will be renewed tomorrow afternoon at New Beaver Field when the Nittany Lions meet Bucknell for the 34th time since 1887.

Penn State holds an edge in the 57-year-old series. The Lions have won 23 of the 33 games played. The Bisons scored their last victory in 1938.

This year Coach Woody Ludwig brings to State College a team which has participated in four games this season—winning three and losing one.

Left Half Gene Hubka and Fullback Clyde Bennett have been largely responsible for the Bisons' success this season. The two V-12 trainees have carried the burden of the Bucknell's offense.

Hubka averaged six yards each time he carried the ball in the first two games, while Bennett gained 87 yards against F & M last Saturday. The former is injured and may not play tomorrow. Bennett was stationed at Penn State last season.

GRANT DOES PASSING

Other starting backs are Quarterback Ralph Grant and Right Half Al Yannelli. Grant, who is co-captain with Hubka, does most of Bucknell's passing.

The Bison line averages 182 pounds per man. Starting ends are Bob Albrecht and Ed Quinn, who is only 5 ft. 8 in. tall. Veteran Wayne Steele and 214-pound George Kochins fill the tackle slots. Bob Farley, Alonzo Stoddard and Joe Ventuto are the guards, and Jim Seel the center.

Coach Bob Higgins said that injuries will prevent Marino Marchi and Bob Rutkowski from playing tomorrow. The two linesmen may be ready for next week's contest with Colgate, according to Higgins.

Wingbacks Ed Meyer and Dick McCown are suffering from charley horses and have had only limited practice this week. However, the Lion coach believes they will be ready for the Bucknell game.

CHUCKRAN TO START

Johnny Chuckran, who has made several long runs in the first two games, will open at tailback for Penn State. Al Richards, Bob Urion, and Earl Bruhn will complete the Lion backfield.

The only change in the line is at right end. Dan Orlich will replace Don Miltenberger, who started against Navy last week. At the other end will be Bob Hicks.

Ed Bush and Howard Caskey will remain at left and right tackles respectively. Guards are Bill Larson and Bruce Allen. Center will be taken care of by Chuck Klausing.

The game will begin at 2:30

New Rules To Govern 7 Of 9 Lion Contests

Penn State will play seven of its nine football games this fall under the five rule changes approved by the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association.

Maryland has asked that the new fumble rule be ignored in its game, and Pitt already has announced that it will accept none of the changes this season.

Against other opponents, including Bucknell, West Virginia, Syracuse, Colgate, and Temple, the five changes will be in effect.

State Loses 16 Gridders

Coach Bob Higgins will lose 16 football players at the end of this semester when the marine unit is disbanded at the College.

Lt. Comdr. Trusdell Wisner, commanding officer of the V-12 unit, stated recently that all marine trainees will be sent to other schools or stations.

The announcement means that Coach Higgins will have to depend entirely upon his freshman crop and a handful of navy trainees for the last five games of the season.

Biggest loss in the backfield will be Fullback Allen Richards, who is playing his second year for Penn State. Blocking Back Earl Bruhn also will leave in two weeks. Three wingbacks—Ed Meyer, Dick McCown, and Ray Kurowski—complete their work at Penn State, as does Ted Wilhelm, substitute fullback.

Half the starting line will be lost. Chuck Klausing, who is serving his second season on the squad, will vacate the center slot. Big Ed Bush and Guards Bill Larson and Bruce Allen leave. Others are Dan Orlich, Al Auer, Johnny Schlesienger, and George Chambers, ends; Paul Swiggum, tackle; and Frank Martenis, guard.
