

Lion Booters End Season At Temple

Attempt Fourth Win; Jeffrey Alters Lineup

The Penn State soccer team will end its 1944 season when the Nittany Lions face Temple at Philadelphia tomorrow afternoon in their seventh and final game of the year.

Coach Bill Jeffrey's squad will attempt to end its schedule with four victories and three defeats. So far this season the Lions have beaten Bucknell, Colgate, and Muhlenberg, while losing to Navy, Army, and Cornell.

However, the Owls again have a strong team this year. Temple has won three out of the four contests it has played. The only loss was a 3-0 defeat at the hands of the Bainbridge Naval Training Station.

Penn State has emerged victorious in nine of the 12 games played in the series between the two schools. Temple took its only game in 1942, while two encounters ended in ties. Last season the Lions turned back the Owls, 3-0.

There may be a few changes in the Lion lineup when Penn State takes the field tomorrow afternoon. Coach Jeffrey said he might start several newcomers in the contest.

State Downs Temple, 7-6

Nittany Lions eked out a 7-6 victory over Temple in a closely contested grid game before a crowd of 12,000 at Philadelphia Saturday.

Coach Bob Higgins' freshman squad scored its only and winning touchdown in the third quarter when El Petchel returned Wilson's punt to midfield. Don Miltenberger, 17-year-old end, reached the five yard line after snatching Petchel's pass and three plays later the Easton tailback scored. Harry Muckle dropped back to kick the victory point.

The Owls scored once in the first period only to have it nullified by a penalty. After an 81-yard march from their own 17, the Lion two-yard stripe, Wilson went over for a touchdown, but a 15-yard holding penalty was called. The Owls lost their opportunity when State recovered Burns' fumble.

Again in the first half the Philadelphia eleven drove 43 yards to the Nittany 19 and settled with an attempted field goal. Wilson booted it far short of the cross bar.

After outplaying the Lions in the first half, Temple pushed over the goal line early in the third quarter when Wilson intercepted Petchel's forward pass on the State 33 and trotted to the six-yard-marker. Rozelle went around right end to score but Wilson's try for the extra point was blocked.

The Nittany victory evened up the series with three wins, six credited each team.
