the field, and a landing, Miss Klaus said that it gave her a bigger thrill than anything else she has ever done. She claims that all she could do for the rest of the day was grin. At present she has her schedule arranged so that she is able to spend some time each day at the airport.

Besides being program chairman for the Alpha Chi Omega sorority, Miss Klaus is active in the Penn State Riding Club and the WRA Fencing Club. She is a graduate of Lansdowne High School.

Clique Sponsors Party

Nittany clique members will stage a party in the banquet room of the State College Hotel from 8 p.m. until midnight tomorrow. There will be dancing, refreshments and entertainment, according to Dorothy Beck, chairman of arrangements.

Other members of the committee planning the affair are Ruth Clymer, co-chairman, Martha Ann Wheatley, Robert Yurkanin, and Howard Kleiden.

"Take Care of that Projector!" warns Philip Mannino, film technician in the audio-visual aids library of the College, in an article under the general heading "Schools in Action," in the current issue of "The School Executive."

Coeds Plan Bond Drive

One million dollars is the goal set by Gamma Phi Beta in its second war bond campaign. Of that amount, Penn State's chapter is responsible for $25,000.

In order to reach its quota, the chapter is setting up a booth in the Corner Room, every afternoon from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m. starting Monday through December 9. Members of the sorority will staff the booth to sell war bonds and stamps.

The funds from the drive will be used to sponsor the purchase of five convalescent hospitals, and to rehabilitate the wounded. This "Bonds Buy Mercy" campaign is the second one conducted by the national sorority in connection with the "service to country and humanity" ideal of Gamma Phi Beta.

Proceeds of the first drive, amounting to $1,041,167.25, were used in the purchase of six hospital service planes, equipment for a 1500-bed general hospital, 1000 hospital beds, 1000 blood transfusion apparatus, and drugs.

Because the second Gamma Phi Beta campaign takes place during the Sixth War Loan Drive, it is hoped by the national organization that the goal will be reached, and exceeded.

Health Service Urges Student Consultations

Students who miss classes because of sickness and do not use the facilities of the College Health Service or consult a doctor will be denied excused absences, according to administration officials. Instructors have the final authority in marking absences excused or unexcused, where there is not written explanation handed in from a physician.

The Health Service does not know whether or not a student has really been sick when he applies for an excuse after being absent from a day's classes. Students are therefore urged to consult the Dispensary or Infirmary when they feel indisposed to attend classes.

Newman Club Initiation

Newman Club will hold an initiation and dance in the high school auditorium, Fairmount and Frazier avenue, 8 o'clock tomorrow night. All Catholic students and servicemen are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served. Joseph Cerroni was elected president of the Newman Club last week.

ASTP Cadets To Graduate

Ninety-three cadets will receive certificates of completion at ASTP graduation exercises in Schwab Auditorium at eight o'clock tonight.

These certificates will be conferred by Donald S. Cryder, professor of chemical engineering, and Charles S. Gearhart, assistant professor of dairy husbandry, to the basic and advanced sections respectively.

Among those who will receive certificates and report to other bases are seventh semester enrollees in electrical engineering and fifth semester enrollees in the pre-medical curriculum.

Six men will receive certificates for completion of the basic phase of their training. They will not be transferred, but will continue here in the advanced phase of the program.

Approximately 100 new cadets are expected to report here for the new semester, said Lt. Col. Guy G. Mills, commandant at the College. He also estimated that it will probably be necessary to open at least two more fraternities to house the new trainees.

Colonel Mills, Prof. John Frizzell, chaplain, and Rev. Edwerth E. Korte, student pastor of the State College Lutheran Church, will also take part in the graduation exercises.

Phi Beta Kappa Stages Anniversary Meeting

"Liberal and scientific-technological studies and when and how the twain shall meet" will be the topic of a forum discussion presented at the annual anniversary meeting of Pennsylvania Lambda Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at the Hotel State College, at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A. O. Morse will act as chairman of a panel composed of Dean Marian R. Trabue, Prof. Robert F. Dengler, Prof. Ray D. Anthony, and Dr. Pauline Beery Mack.

Ag Student Council is sponsoring an informal mixer for agricultural and home economics students in the Armory from 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow night. Richard Treible is chairman of the general committee. A Fall theme will be used in the decorations.

Players—

Wilder with praises and awarded him the Pulitzer Prize.

When Mr. Webb pantomimes the mowing of his lawn, sound effects will help to make the scene realistic. Although most of the action in the play is pantomimic, sound will be synchronized with it for the sake of clarity.

The plot of "Our Town" centers around the lives of two average New England families in Grover's Corners, N. H. It traces the love affair of George Gibbs, played by Portman Paget, and Emily Webb, portrayed by Claire Cohen. Development of the plot lies in the hands of the stage manager and narrator, acted by Prof. Arthur C. Cloetingh.

Professor Tucker feels that the charm of the play is its intimacy. Several times the audience really becomes a part of the play as the actors turn and address it directly, points out the director.

He believes that much of "Our Town's" success in the legitimate and the non-professional theater depends on Author Wilder's understanding and appreciation of the small town.
