

Cabinet Installs Lights To Protect Lion Shrine

A lighting system will be installed around the Lion Shrine by the College, it was announced at All-College Cabinet meeting Tuesday night. Definite plans have not yet been released.

The purpose of illuminating the piece of sculpture is to insure the prevention of possible destruction of the shrine in the dark, as was done this semester, when the head of the lion was painted black and the body also marred.

Stan Speaker, chairman of Cabinet, made the following appointments to Student Tribunal: Van Lundy, chairman; members are Pat Brennon, Stanley Chadwin, Karl Erdman, Fritz Huntington, Guy Newton, and Francis Warner. Mike Lynch was named Cabinet's representative to the Community Forum Series Committee.

Welcome War Veterans On Home Territory, Says Psychology Prof

Friends and relatives of returning war veterans should stage their reunions on familiar home territory, according to Dr. Kinsley R. Smith, associate professor of psychology.

"Both from a psychological and practical point of view," he said, "it is unwise to attempt to greet veterans at debarkation points, separation centers, or in a strange railway station or city."

"Explaining that battle front experience plus months of separation will likely cause the serviceman to feel strange and unsure of himself when he returns, Dr. Smith pointed out that both the veteran and his loved ones will be more at ease if the reunion takes place among familiar surroundings.

"Because of crowded travel conditions, inadequate housing facilities in military centers, and necessary restrictions on the serviceman prior to his discharge, an attempt to go meet the veteran will likely result in hardship and disappointment," Dr. Smith explained.

Stressing that recognition and appreciation will help servicemen adjust to civilian life, Dr. Smith urged communities, as well as individual families, to stage "welcome home" celebrations.

95 at Dressings Class

Attention, X-G-I's

A representative of the Pittsburgh office of the Veterans' Administration will be on the campus next week to interview veterans whose subsistence or pensions have been delayed.

All veterans who are in this bracket should report for consultation, Howard D. Blank of the Veterans' Administration in Pittsburgh announced today. Announcement of the meeting room in Old Main and date will appear on the bulletin board at Student Union as soon as arrangements are completed.

Trustees Name Faculty Changes

Several changes in the faculty were announced by the College Board of Trustees today. Among these are two leaves of absence, one resignation, and five new appointments.

Dr. Herbert Koepp-Baker, director of the Speech and Hearing clinic at the College, has been granted a leave of absence in order to serve in the U. S. Navy rehabilitation program.

Stationed at the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia, Dr. Koepp-Baker will be director of Non-Medical Services of the Speech and Hearing-Rehabilitation Unit. He will be commissioned Lieutenant.

Leave of absence was also granted to Dr. Clarence C. Anderson, professor of agricultural education, to serve with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Dr. Frank H. Koos voluntarily resigned his post as professor of educational administration and assistant director of correspondence instruction in the School of Education.

New appointees include Maxwell Genshmer who will come to the College in May as professor of meteorology and head of mineral technology.

Now teaching at the College are R. Wallace Brewster, associate professor of political science; Walter Coutu, associate professor of sociology; Frederick S. Marbut, associate professor of journalism; and Ralph C. Wood, associate professor of German.

150 New ASTP Cadets Occupy 4 Fraternities

To accommodate the approximately 150 new members of the ASTP who have been assigned to College this semester, four new fraternity houses have been opened. They are Alpha Sigma Phi, Phi Kappa, Phi Kappa Tau, and Sigma Phi Sigma.

Thus far 479 men have been enrolled for the term which begins December 11. There were 335 men here during the last term. This semester's enrollment shows an increase of 144 cadets.

Of the total stationed here, 255 men are enrolled in the basic phase and 221 in the advanced.

Lt. Col. Guy G. Mills, commandant at the College, feels that the fact that the program has been enlarged here indicates the high quality of instruction at the College, reflects the desirability of the location, and suggests that the War Department is apparently well pleased with the military organization.

Former Representative To Japan Will Speak On Japanese Politics

Eugene H. Dooman, a member of the U. S. Foreign Service for more than 30 years, will speak on "Japan: A Century of Politics" in the second of the Liberal Arts Lecture Series in 121 Sparks Building, 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Twenty-four years of Mr. Dooman's career have been spent as a representative of the U. S. government in Japan, which was his birthplace. He entered the foreign service in 1912 after his graduation from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and one year at Columbia University. He served in Japan almost continuously until the outbreak of the war, when he was interned there.

Returning to the United States in August, 1942, Mr. Dooman was assigned to the Embassy at Moscow as minister. After a short time there he returned to the United States, where he is now on duty with the State Department.

Mr. Dooman attended the Washington Labor Conference in 1919; a session of the Council of the League of Nations at Paris in 1931; the naval conferences at London in 1934 and 1935; and the first session of the Council, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, in Atlantic City in 1943.

Dr. William H. Gray heads the committee which has arranged the lecture series, and the remaining members are Dr. John C. Major, Dr. Stuart A. Mahuran, and Clayton H. Schug.

"Wint'ry Blast" ... he's a Nasty Chap

These days, "Wint'ry Blast" is at his worst, so take care! His chilly salute brings discomfort to sensitive lips... and makes them so unsightly.

Be ready for him. Keep a handy tube of Roger & Gallet original Lip Pomade in your pocket. And whenever you step out-of-doors smooth its invisible, healing film over lip membranes.

For both men and women, Roger & Gallet Lip Pomade has long been the accepted relief for chapped, cracked lips. Pick up a tube today at any drug store:
