WSGA Installs Officers; Revises Permit System

Mary Margaret Dunlap will be president of Senate for the coming semester.

Other officers will be Marjorie Blackwood, vice president; Ann Louise Decker, secretary; and Barbara Struck, treasurer.

Special Dating Permits

Under the new system for obtaining special permits, all coeds requesting these permits should fill out an application in the office of the Dean of Women at least one day before the permission is desired.

These applications will then be approved or rejected by Elizabeth Robinson, judicial head, and may be called for by the coed on the day following that upon which the request was made.

All permissions must then be presented by the coed to her hostess before the permit can go into effect.

No weekday permissions will be granted for later than 11 o'clock.

Customs Exemptions

All freshmen coeds who feel that they have sufficient reason for being exempt from freshmen customs are asked to meet in 111 White Hall, 8 p.m. Tuesday when their cases will be considered.

WRA Sponsors Sports Rally For Freshmen, Transfers

WRA will sponsor a Sports Rally for freshman women and transfers at White Hall from 7:30 to 9 o'clock tomorrow.

A program of entertainment will be presented in the gymnasium. Alice Hooper, chairman of club activities, will introduce the WRA president, Betty Pike, and the executive board.

Square dancing for everyone will be followed by skits and exhibitions showing the activities of the various clubs. Each club president will tell about her club in further detail.

Coeds will be taken on a tour through White Hall by Betty Pike and Doris Handwerk.

Alice Hooper and Jane Schlosser head the refreshment committee. Doris Handwerk is in charge of distribution of WRA handbooks.

71,000 Study at Home

Correspondence courses in agriculture and home economics were first offered by the College in 1899, and over the last 45 years attracted a total enrollment of 71,000.

Women's Debate Team to Enter Tournament; Barrinott Replaces Maginnis as Manager

Using the cross examination style of collegiate debate, women's debate team will participate with representatives from seven other teams in a tournament held at Shippensburg State Teachers' College tomorrow.

The affirmative speakers will be Betty Coplan, constructive speaker, and Jean Barrinott, cross examination speaker. Debating the negative will be Shirley Milner, constructive speaker, and Joan Huber, cross examination speaker.

This semester the debate team will face representatives from Susquehanna University, Dickinson College, Gettysburg College, Johns Hopkins University, Mount Mercy College, American University, and men's debate team of the College.

Jeanne Barrinott was recently appointed manager for Women's Debate, replacing Betty Maginnis. Clayton H. Shug, associate professor of public speaking, coaches the team.

In a tournament held at Mount Mercy College last month, representatives of the team tied for first place, winning seven of the eight debates. Betty Coplan and Betty Maginnis defeated Bowling Green women's debate, a mixed team from Western Reserve, Washington & Jefferson men and Allegheny women in affirmative debates.

Speaking for the negative, Joan Huber and Gertrude Rosen defeated University of Pittsburgh men, Kent State men, Seton Hill women and were defeated by Bowling Green men.

Fighting moisture and fungus— communication's jungle enemies

Ever-present dangers to military communications are the twin enemies of the jungle—moisture and fungus. By impairing the efficient working of telephones and radios, they can halt vital messages as effectively as cutting the wires.

The long experience of Bell Laboratories engineers in designing telephone equipment for use under all climatic conditions has helped the Signal Corps in counter-attacking these enemies of the jungle.

Lessons learned in this wartime emergency will aid in building better communications equipment for war and peace.
